

5 Must Jewellery Trends to watch out this festive season

The Fine Piece of jewellery isn't defined by the carving process but by the efforts it holds throughout the process. A jewel is not just a materialistic possession as it holds immense significance, be it a cultural representation or a sentimental one. Over the past few centuries, the evolution of any piece of jewellery is an embark that we have distinguished, especially India being amongst the top 10 countries in the world in gold reserves. Gold for us has always been more than mere metal, but as we speak of the evolution, various elements are taking over the market simultaneously.

Since the jewellery industry abides its evolution over the year, we can see a high spark in the five major recent trends which are a must watch out this festive season:-

1. Fabulous Floral Flaunts:- Well, if there is something that we can not let go of this festive season Floral flaunts, which have set the bar high for experiments- so now, even the basic Haldi ceremony is not so basic and even the festive outfits this season longs for florals flow feast.

2. Statement Pieces:- Something that can never lay off the trends no matter how long it takes, is the statement pieces. Be it a chunk of Big Bold earrings or a big Beautiful pendant neckpiece, its all words and we can surely hear it. So, the Expectation increases with the Stunning Statement Pieces.

3. JADHAU AND JHUMKAS:- The never-too-old Jadoo of jhumkas added with Jadhau is what all you need this festive season. Jhumkas have always stolen our hearts and even though the chic look of heavy jhumkas still goes without an extra need, the trend fodder for this festive season is the jadhau choker and jhumkas altogether enhancing not just the outfits but your moods too.

4. Vibrant Pearls: - When it comes to pearls the classics are always the heart has held onto, though vintage might be the gold but trend too says vibrant colorful Pearls stands equally bold.

5. CHARISMATIC KAMARBANDH.- Well, only a few can say that Kamar bandh is only subjected to weddings, for the most part, yes, they do!! But Is it ever too late to experiment? Yes!! Your favourite Banarasi Saari can go without a maangtika but a Kamar bandh might be big hard to say no to. So the charismatic Kamar bandh is big welcome on trends this festive season.

Well, most trends are the evolved and upgraded version of the past and their mobility has always been dynamic, therefore keeping up with bold trends or laying it off with safe ones won't dictate your personality as a piece of jewellery worn with love will make you look chic either way. Although, we do expect to see you in the trendiest avatar slaying it with your boldest look and hooks this festive season. So, we wish this festive season when life gives you a "dance floor with dhumkaas you'll pair it with heavy or minimal jhumkaas"
