This is the best backpack ever made in the world and I can explain.

This backpack will make your life ten times easier. Instead of taking a big lumping suitcase with you, it's awkward to carry it or just annoying to roll around.

This backpack is super lightweight and can carry everything you need and it wouldn't hurt your body from carrying it all day.

If you bring a suitcase with you, and you left something you needed inside your suitcase and your suitcase is at the hotel then you have to find a way back.

With this backpack you could put anything you need or want to take with you on the walk instead of having it all jammed up into your pocket. as an add benefits it comes with a place where you could charge your phone while walking.

To open any of the compartments of the backpack it has a digital code you have to put in each time. In case anyone tries to go just go through your bag and try to steal anything and it also has an air tag in case anyone steals it the bag says.
