

u ded

Unfortunately, your best efforts were not enough. Welcome to the plain dead doc.

Dead Doc Members:

iLikeToSnipe - THIS TEXT COLOR

KillingYou - And welcome to Jackass!

ChopBam - Herro.

Nodlied - I'm dead, no big surprise.

FRAYDO - At least it wasn't an RNG tie vote :v

Mojoman - Suicide by Vig

OrangeP47 - Orange

Jeod - It's fuggin Cat5 isn't it

Town are currently deciding how they want to assassinate you :v

Ha, I was thinking maybe I choked on a chicken bone or something. XD

Lol, if you have a specific request I can forward it. Also, let me know if you want any spoilers.

I'd be fine with spoilers. Also, I like the chicken bone idea, especially thinking about the Mafia's existence being uncovered by a random death.

Well, it was more they've betrayed the mafia and decided to kill you first since you were the leader. The town are longstanding members.

Ahh, I see. Well, in that case, I'd like to see what they come up with.

So, RNG picked Cat5 and Orange as the town infiltrators. Only 4 power roles in the game, 2 for each faction.

Mafia has cop and limited use doctor. Town has limited use dayvig/unstoppable NK and a limited jack of all trades (1x vote steal, limited tracking).

So, pretty light on the roles.

Interesting.

DAY 1

Apologies for my sporadic posts, by the way. Still in the moving process and will likely be unable to log in until next week. The setup sounds like it's going to keep the game alive for a while, though.

Hopefully not too long. Just realized it could theoretically stretch into some business travel I have in May... Should still be able to moderate it though.

For the record, I assigned the names from a random name generator as soon as people signed up (before any roles or alignments were handed out). Thought it'd be fun to see how/if anybody used them to scum "hunt".

Ohohohohohohoho. And Shade's fixated on that... dis gon b gud

Night 1

Day 2

Welcome ChopBam!

Herro. I haven't even visited the forums yet but my phone notified me that I was invited to this doc. So yay!

Let me know if you want any spoilers.

Spoilers, as in, their motive for killing me? It's interesting that the motive is what Cat5 is pushing for in his first longpost.

I believe they chose you because it would cause the least commotion and gives town very little info.

I considered the fact that I haven't put forth any arguments, so my death wouldn't reveal anything of use. And asking Cat5 D1 if he's town doesn't really count.

I did find your last post on N1 kind of ironic.

I would definitely agree there... and damn, I come home from a long weekend workday expecting a giant load of posts, but only seeing a page or so. Same with yesterday. It's a game I can actually follow, which is unusual.

Unless mafia get their heads together and somehow luck out with their power roles, I fear Cat5 may sneak a win under the radar. He's being slippery enough and not going too far out of bounds in any direction to be caught. Good play from him. Not getting too far away or too close to his scumbuddy, thinking on his feet with the other "leads," and still pushing a vote in the end using independent (i.e. not bandwagoned) thinking.

If things continue like this, I think he'll scrape a win, even if Orange dies. The loyal mafia aren't really analyzing much, and they don't have a whole lot to go on in the first place due to the vanilla roles, the D1 no lynch, and my virtually info-less death. Not to mention that Jeod and Shade are just naturally really distracting players.

Yeah, scum are doing pretty well. Maybe they'll continue the town winning streak :v

I will say the Nodlied bandwagon happened too easily.

Night 2

Post from Cat5:

“Nodlied didn't even try to save himself. Come on boys and girl (- scum team), we're going to have to put some effort into this, or we're going to get cleaned out!”

This is not a typical “we made the wrong choice” nighttime post from him. It lacks content. Easier for me to see since I already know he's scum, but still. I think he's trying to buddy up just a bit too hard here with the mafia.

Of course my bandwagon happened too easily. :v I've got a bunch of other stuff on my mind atm.

Things are about to get interesting. Cop is investigating Orange.

Most excellent!

Also sounds like town aren't targeting the cop tonight.

I saw some hard suspicion on Orange earlier from Shade, so I figured Orange would be discovered sooner or later (despite the fact Shade is a loose argument cannon). It's Cat5 though that the mafia team should be worrying about, and I can see he's been very slightly distancing himself from Orange in case Orange is caught. Of course, anything can happen in the way of power roles. This can really go either way, and I'm interested to see how it unfolds. It's unfortunate that Thelrishman appears to be completely MIA.

He's not 100% MIA. Also, he's the doctor/bodyguard. Sunflower is cop.

Saw him visit the thread, sure, but no posts at all recently that I can see.

Mafia think that Fraydo is the cop.

Are they all PMing this to you? Or are you referring to scum/town and they're chatting about it in the scumdoc?

Just spoilers from their chat.

iLikeToLeak back at work I see. :v

You're dead :P

In game? Yes. Inside? Yes. Yet somehow I'm still among the living.

Well, we can solve that problem... :V

Day 3

Don't solve that problem, I'll do it myself. :v Solving it as to not be dead inside anymore, not solving the “I'm somehow still alive” part.

How're your college classes going?

Oh, I'm almost done. Barely have any classes at all. And I would have graduated in two months if it wasn't for somebody at uni fucking up big time. :v I tend to spend most of my time actually teaching English (plus a bunch of files for uni as they love 100+ page files).

Lol, my younger sister complained about an 8 page final paper... Wasn't even for her freshman year, she was a senior.

Most of my students (most of which are around 12-13 years old) complain about writing anything longer than 50 words. :v That is, until I showed them my files. That's when they shut up about it.

Yeah, most Americans don't know anything about writing papers. My parents had me take an out of school, private class where I had to write a 50 page research paper...

Also, looks like Sunflower is roleclaiming.

Good, mafia needs a town kill. Also, we're not really taught how to write a paper either. Unis just assume that you'll figure it out by yourself.

Generally the same way here. The college I went to (which was one of the best in the US) did have a technical writing class that was mandatory for all students. I've toured other colleges and took post secondary classes at one. None of them had anything like that. Pretty important skill imo.

Yes it is. Then again, we're being taught how to conduct a big research project. Which is not applicable to second grade teachers, only for first grade. :v Whenever you ask them why they spend so much time on that they only proclaim to prepare you for your 1st grade. Thing is, nearly nobody is willing to do their 1st grade after this shitty time at a uni that's absolutely horrible at organisation. Meanwhile, they could have spend that time teaching actual useful stuff.

I think a big problem, at least in the US, is that professors aren't paid enough. Why work as a professor when you could potentially make 50% - 100% more as a professional.

The issue here (beyond the lack of teachers/professors due to the lack of pay and too much of a workload!) is that unis tend to consider the professional literature, aka the theory, to be holi and will penalize you for using a modified piece of theory to suit the actual reality. :v That's how I got wrecked just a few days ago (plus a bit of bullshit that's either a bunch of lies or lack of actual interest in what is happening).

What's the ratio of public to private colleges in the EU? At least in the US, private colleges tend to be better. They at least are forced to stay competitive and make a profit.

Honestly? I wouldn't know. However, I do know that all colleges that I know are technically public, as you are considered to be a government employee as a teacher and all schools (beyond the extremely rare(?) private ones) are subsidized.

Mojoman makes a good point. Town got lucky and Orange got unlucky that Sunflower's first target already flipped.

Hue. :v Technically town is unlucky and town got lucky that I've been busy with actual RL stuff. Although you can also switch that around and say that town was unlucky with me and lucky with this result.

Lol, I keep on forgetting that mafia is town and town is mafia...

Falling for your own ploy, I see?

Originally, before this turned into a "vanilla" game, I had planned on doing a CYOR and then sending out PMs right before the first day. Just to see if anybody would talk about being town before thoroughly reading their PM.

Lol, that would have been something. And rage would most certainly have ensued. Voe would have fallen for it.

Never finished balancing it, but would have had some resurrections and role changes.

A lot easier to just run a vanilla game. And better in hindsight with simultaneous IRL and sickness stuff that's come up.

Yeah, vanilla games are a bit easier to run as well. :v Still remember my ~1 hour of resolving each and every night.

Looking at it, there was a chance that town could have brought this to a 50/50 RNG victory. If Cat5 used his vote steal and then Orange used his day kill (and both didn't target Jeod), then it'd be down to a 50/50 vote for the lynch.

Assuming that Irish didn't block their kill last night then it'd be down to 50/50 again after that.

So what you're saying is that "town" fucked up?

Kind of. Sunflower got kind of lucky with investigating Orange. Scum did the "logically correct" actions last night. But being logically correct doesn't make you a winner in mafia. :v

Don't say things like that! :v It makes me look bad in relation to Voe.

Inb4 town derps and decides to lynch somebody else after Orange convinces them not to lynch him.

We'll see. ;v

Orange does have a daykill. I'd be surprised if he didn't use it before getting lynched.

Lol. Sunflower will surely die if that's the case. May she know that her sacrifice wasn't in vain!

Well, he's trying to think through his options in the doc. Considering taking out Jeod so that there isn't any kind of "moderating influence" on Shade.

As scum, I'd consider just shooting Sunflower right away to shutdown any helpful conversation throughout the rest of the day or wait until right before being lynched on the offchance that you don't get lynched.

I'll laugh if Orange manages to get the shade back onto Shade. (pun intended). Yet I wonder how Cat5 will react. He'll be toast if he tries to save Orange or tries to throw in a "bigger suspect". So he'll need to find a way to lynch Orange in a scum/town/WHATEVERIDON'TCAREANYMORE fashion.

Yeah, with their powers mafia is in MYLO.

To bad they can't shoot Voe.

Get him to join next time and they can :P

Voe tends to disappear for about a week every now and then. There's no indication as to when it'll happen. And I can't convince him to play Mafia when he doesn't feel like it or he's about to embark on another week of *poof I'm gone*.

Too bad Orange already claimed vanilla. Could claim mafia dayvig and either successfully bluff or get Irish to claim doctor in an attempt to show that mafia wouldn't have that many power roles.

That or threaten to shoot somebody if they lynch him since he's "totally mafia".

Lol. I hope Orange dies nontheless. :v

As always, when scum are in trouble they just have to sit back and let town mafia dig them out of it.

Necromorph Isaac 2.0?

Piss off. :v

I'll at least admit I didn't deserve that victory and it was not a victory of skill... :V

It was a victory of "nobody trusts you but thinks everybody else trusts you so they'll play nice until it's too late" + Voe not reading his role PM + Chaos_Knight fucking up. :v

Something like this: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IfQMJtilOGg>

xD Yes! Anyway bedtime. Cyalater!

Really? That's all Cat5 could come up with?

This will be interesting.

I'm interested as to why Orange is keeping his act up. Does he still think he can shift the vote if he doesn't kill the cop? And to target Mojoman, a person that the mafia were suspecting, and not Sunflower, who will be confirmed cop, will greatly narrow down the leads after Orange is gone. Maybe he thinks Mojo is the doctor.

Of course, assuming Cat5 is the one with the unstoppable NK, he could just kill Sunflower tonight despite any efforts from the doctor.

Yeah, with Mojo dead mafia with votes this phase outnumber the town by one vote due to Jeod's night post. It'll be interesting how this continues to play out.

Hahaha oh wow. The incredible madman actually did it!

Yeah, imo, I either would have gone for broke and tried to get a lynch vote onto Shade or just shot Sunflower to take out the cop.

Oh wow, Jeod is just everywhere. Maybe I haven't noticed it before since I'm not usually killed the first day/night to observe most of the game from outside, but Jeod's really not very good at analysis. :v His last post is the very first time he's actually entertained the possibility of Cat5 being scum, but of course he's paired it up with Sunflower as one of his "ridiculous what-ifs." "Hahaha imagine if." So I guess he's not even seriously considering Cat5 as scum even now. If anybody would fall for Orange's ploy, it'd be Jeod. Not that it matters much, since Jeod went over his nightpost limit and can't vote, lmao. All of his analysis up till this point has been flat-out wrong. Anyway, I digress. Will keep that in mind later for Jeod meta. He's fun when he's scum, but can hurt the good guys a lot when he's a good guy. Gets far too hung up on Shade.

inb4 Sunflower lynch.

+1 for thinking independently though. It's just all over the place and thus can't be taken seriously. I can now see what I used to look like when I did that. I'd push for a case and then be like "wait, what if?" about pretty much everything. It undermined my [few] legit arguments. To counterbalance this though, there was the Cuban Missile Crisis game Orange hosted where I framed the cop and TheIrishman & I won because of it. Being that this is a much more simple game, however, cop framing shouldn't be considered here.

At the very least, he's keeping things interesting. Cat5, meanwhile, is just staying out of it and I'm not sure how. Once Orange flips, Shade should be in the clear since he was quick to jump on the Orange wagon. Sunflower will also be clear (but probably dead by tomorrow). Cat5 could try pushing for Jeod, making it seem as if Jeod's hilariously bad analysis is scumplay trying to throw suspicion everywhere.

Irish has a one-time use doctor ability and is a bodyguard. He could throw a wrench in the night kills.

Even the unstoppable one? Then it's not unstoppable. xD Unless Orange got it? If Cat5 had it, and I were Cat5, I'd unstoppable-kill Sunflower with the expectation that she would be "protected" tonight. But if it went to Orange, then yeah. Would the bodyguard still take the hit though if it's an unstoppable kill? Or would the intended target take it?

Orange had a one-time use unstoppable kill. Could be used during day or night.

Ahhh OK, I assumed that was a separate night action from Orange's daykill.

If Cat5 plays it cool, he can still win.

Cat5 also has a silent vote steal. But he can't use it and make a night kill.

So if he uses the silent vote steal, he forfeits his kill ability for that night? Should be interesting then.

Yeah, could be a good trade-off to confuse town. His target will never know they had a vote stolen. They might be able to figure out somebody had one stolen depending on how the votes land, but they probably won't know who did it.

Holy cannoli. Shafted with long shifts and term papers being due this week, and just when I finish up the papers I find an invite to this doc.

I. HAVE. RETURNED!

Hello there Mr. I.

Looks like shit's been going down.

Yes.

Yep, for sure. HI KILLING YOU! I saw Infinity War in IMAX with the wifey last night :D There was a line that involved the words "killing you" somewhere in there, and I was determined to GIF-ify it later. xD

Lucky bastards. I still want to see that film. But all of my friends cheaped out on me. :v I'll get my revenge on them later.

I got to go see it on Monday. Loved it. Looking forward to that GIF-ification :D

Shade's entertaining Jeod's idea. Guess he's gotta if he's gotta.

Irish shouldn't have claimed. They're definitely at LYLO now.

Even if they nolynch (which would be a bad move)? Wouldn't that put them at LYLO tomorrow rather than today?

Well, doctors can't protect themselves. So, scum could just kill the doctor and Cat5 would steal somebody else's vote. Now it's 3v2 votes for scum.

Oh yeah, I forgot about the vote steal. Derp.

So is there a way town "Mafia" can still win this?

Honestly, it looks like they have to lynch Orange in order to have a chance at winning.

Yeah. If they nolynch today, it's possible scum could still slipup and do something weird. They have the tools to win with both Orange and Cat5 alive. Their odds look slim though.

At this point, Orange needs to convince somebody to unvote from him and vote nolynch.

Hmm. Cat5 at this point could try stealing a vote to RNG it to no lynch, but that's too risky, and he'd sacrifice his NK for a 50% chance of keeping Orange alive.

He only has one vote right now. Can't steal one until the night phase starts.

How would that happen if the day-end post already took place which revealed the results of the voting? Or would the vote steal carry over somehow to the next phase?

So, Cat5 could vote steal on N4, he gets an extra vote for D4. That vote is not shown in any vote count or result.

Ah okay, so it doesn't work like I thought it did. When I heard "vote steal," I assumed it was switching somebody's vote under the radar.

RIP scum team. Assuming Orange flips, Irish protects Sunflower, and Sunflower does investigate Cat5.

Ahhhhh now Jeod gets it.

Good!

What the flux is up with Cat5?

He probably pretends to be "muted" and perhaps tries to "blame" that on Jeod.

I believe that's his plan.

You believe that to be his plan or do you know it for sure? I'm asking since you do have access to the scum doc.

He mentioned he might do it.

Too bad I'm dead as I actually have time now. I'd make mince meat out of Cat5.

How so?

There are far too many indications that Sunflower is legit. Meanwhile the Orange kill was extremely random at best, simply taking the first volunteer instead of asking why he should shoot somebody. In the end Cat5 comes barging in to divert attention. Orange is up for grabs and if Cat5 really wanted to make something out of this, he'd have mentioned that he's muted the very moment he first came online.

Instead, he’s been trying to “add” to the conversation instead of explicitly mentioning that he’s been muted before continuing the game. Meanwhile, nobody, but nobody has been silenced before. So why wait until now? Why not use it to cause confusion on the very last day? Or divert a doctor to a silenced/confirmed townie(mafia)?

That shade vote. *facepalm*

Lol

Damnit. I think we found our new Chaotic Neutral. Shade always manages to do things like these.

Also, if Cat5 keeps up that filthy weeb posting, I’ll start Karl posting or, worse, McArthur posting. Asking for permission to challenge Cat5 over his weebposting.

Just post whatever you want to post in here first.

Fine. :v
“Goddamnit Cat5, stop that weebposting. You’re making me want to stop viewing the game!” Although I’d imagine that this could have an effect on the game.

Yeah, a bit too much of a chance. Although, it looks like this’ll be over in 3 minutes.

Night 3

Excellent!

Damnit Voe, why don’t you answer my call. ٩_٩

Because Voe is on the scum team.

That’s hard if he’s my co-mod. :v

Bold move from Cat5. He’s going to kill Jeod.

Well here I am. Not much can do after being copped, but I probably should have shot someone other than Mojo.

What is it with you and being scum the majority of the time? :v

I know right. I really want some town games to build my town cred.

I can’t even see Cat5’s images, lol. They’re all just broken links for me.

Lucky you.

But you were town this game :V

You know what I meant. I even had a slip or two due to that that nobody picked up on :v

Also I want to know how Jeod figured out what Cat 5 was even “talking” about heh. I was in on the plan and was clueless.

Sometimes I wonder if Shade is roleplaying a Miller.

Whoops! Didn't mean to ``````````

I'm on Discord and that key is my Push-To-Talk button.

So I take it Category is trapped. Seems like a Mafia victory from here.

It'll come down to who Sunflower investigates. Town kill will go through tonight. If she doesn't investigate Jeod then it comes down to a vote between 2 players. If mafia gets it wrong then it's game over.

Still close, but it's definitely mafia sided.

What if she investigates Cat5?

Game over for town. But she's not sure who to pick. She has Cat5, Shade, Jeod, and Irish.

I think Cat5 is her top pick, but she's also suspicious of the others.

Best case for town is she picks Jeod since he's the NK target.

Cat5 is so lucky, she's investigating Jeod.

Day 4

¬_¬ Really?

Lol

And yes Jeod, it is Cat5 left.

Jeod, you stealing my color? :O

Usually that's my color.

Who's ready for a day dominated by Shade for most posts?

I'm ready for Shade to massively fuck this up. Although, that little bit you have about nobody having more than one while when Irish is a doctor/bodyguard combo is on you if it's the basis for a lynch.

I added a mod announcement at the end of the D4 post about that. Totally on me.

I originally planned it like that but ran into a balancing issue. Forgot about that one post I made.

Hmm...wonder if that'll make Shade go after Cat5 instead. However, I'm predicting Cat5 will use it as a base for suggesting Sunflower bussed. No wait, Cat5 already claimed to counter Irish's role. So it should be between the two of them.

Yeah, Sunflower is pretty much confirmed mafia... at this point.

I'm kind of surprised that both mafia power roles made it to the very end.

I'm kicking myself for not seeing Cat5's silencing thing earlier. He definitely would have brought that into the open as soon as he saw his PM if he were mafia.

Also, inb4 Shade doesn't notice the mod announcement at first.

Wonder why Cat5 chose to kill me. I really wasn't strongly considering him as scum at the time. Perhaps he thought I'd grow into the idea more the next day.

I think he was predicting Sunflower's target. Better to kill the confirmed mafia.

Which he did, btw.

I've also only seen Cat5's scumplay once I think, so can't blame me for not suspecting him sooner tbh.

Who was your other suspect?

Before Orange? Shade. I wasn't 100% sure on Mojoman. Although if Irish hadn't died by D3 due to the scum's PR hunting, I'd probably have called him out. I'm giving Cat5 too much slack because he's fun to debate with.

You mean FRAYDO?

No, Irish. He'd been lurking the thread too much and not saying anything.

Yo can we view the scum doc? It's going to be a long day phase to endgame.

I still have access to the scum doc :v

I'm also freezing my tail off cause I'm testing a new AC unit, brrrr.

Not yet, I still have it open so Cat5 can chat with me quickly.

Ghost Orange can no longer influence the scum doc.

Jeod, off topic question, but how hard is Ultra Sun? Do trainers have more than one or two pokemon?

It's been a while so I can't recall, but I believe the NPCs get 2-4 Pokemon. I rarely encountered anyone with just 1 except for the starting areas.

Like 90% of people in just standard Moon have 1, it's kinda lame.

Wait until Pokemon Go gets battling and every Joey-With-The-Comfy-Shorts on the block fights you with 6 Tyrantars.

I had a productive day with that today. Getting out of the house to practice my walking. Got a 2100 CP Hamiyari or whatever Makuhita evolves into. Also put pokemon into three gyms which is a big deal given the rural nature of where I am. There's actually a gym just a mile from my house now, was defended by a lone slaking that obviously wasn't care for. Popped my executor in it and expect it to last months before someone even challenges it.

That's exeggutor you uncultured shit. :v

He's like my 4th strongest pokemon after getting the Hariyama today which jumped into the lead for me :v

My third strongest pokemon is named Tyler but that's just a coincidence :P

Cat5 can't vote steal and kill in the same night, correct?

That's correct. If they nolynch, he could steal somebody's vote and force it to a 50/50 shot.

Apparently Shade was completely convinced by the charts, the D1 no lynch, and the alleged silence that Cat5 is loyal mafia.

Well, I believe that Shade's nick is proof that he hasn't been the brightest this game. Come on guys, how are you not questioning that silencing!?

I guess it's true, making chart's proves you're not scum (CK school of thought).

I guess only Cat5 has played much with me in the past, or played my past games. I really hate silencers as a role.

It's almost as if you played an entire game silenced.

I think I mind it less as scum, but as "town" it just hampers discussion and can be not fun at all.

Oh man, Jeod hosted a game a while back, called “nomination mafia.” Verti and I were scum. I was a silencer. We decided to spice things up by silencing Voe and then both pretending silence ourselves. It was amazing.

I had a silencer last game but didn’t use it. It’s not very vanilla though so it’d set off a lot of alarm bells for me if I was non-scum this game.

I’ll host a game where everybody is a silencer :v

I haven’t had a whole lot of experience with silencers, but to me it seems like a good way to hinder town efforts and give scum a better chance of reclaiming the conversation. Though it could backfire, like if you silenced someone who was building a really good case against you, because the question “why was that person silenced” would likely come up.

I think it’s definitely a useful role. I just think that unlike roles that can kill people, it can cause frustration and just not be fun.

KY I consider that a WIFOM argument, cause it could also be that scum are just trying to frame a townie if the silencee built a case on said townie.

Silencing in forum mafia could just be a mod announcement and no player posts to keep things neat and tidy. But that’s no fun.

There was that time Cat 5 had to post using only the “because Voe’s a dumbass” meme.

He didn’t have to post using that meme, but he chose to. :V

@KY, I went to the cinema today to see IW. I have to say, it was very good.

@Choppy That’s also something to keep in mind. Framing is a big part of mafia, after all, and if someone was framed for the silence, the next step might be looking into who started the train with that argument. And, of course, that’s ignoring other factors like cop reports and voting/argument patterns. It’s just another piece of the puzzle.

@Nodlied indeed it was, though if we talk about it in depth we risk spoilers or turning this into the Orange/KY doc from Debt Note. :v

That’s why I haven’t mentioned anything about the movie other than the fact that it was good. :v

I have a newfound love for The Spinners thanks to that.

I’m probably not going to see it until it’s ready for DVD rental, so I’m going to try and stay unspoiled until then :v

Is it just me or are the forums taking longer and longer to load?

No, it’s definitely crap right now. I even checked my connection because I thought I was having an issue, but it’s the forums.

Wait, did Cat5 claim doctor or some protective role?

I don’t think so, I think Shade is just making stuff up again.

Yeah, kind of made me confused. Does he think Cat5 is the doctor now?

Let's observe the Shade in its natural habitat ;)

Forums are definitely borked.

ABANDON SHIP!

Mafia Universe is working fine :v

I remember the good old days... having a signup cap for games on the forums.

Heh, that only lasted for one year though.

##nominate Shade for Honorary Scum :v

Not sure what the CVC is, but if he manages to tie Irish with NoLynch, and RNG chooses Irish, well.. GG.

Is there a good online dice roller? The one I used to use so I could post the results doesn't seem to be around anymore.

Generally I flip a coin (or with the 25% chances in Secret Invasion, roll a D4). iLTS, just google "Random Number Generator". :v You'll get one directly from Google.

This is what I use: <https://dicelog.com/dice>

Yeah, I can code my own roller, but I was looking for something to post results. Dicelog looks good.

Yeah, if you create an account you can have it save rolls as "proof" of doing things. It's what I use for online D&D, though I generally just take my player's word for it.

Website is kill?

If it's down for too long I'll go ahead and extend the current day.

Yeah, it's dead.

Loaded now.

Unrip site. Now to resume observing the Shade Nine Three Nine in its natural habitat.

Also IW was so good, I want to discuss it with everyone who has seen it. Don't want to spoil things, but man. Definitely watch it if you haven't already.

I'll be seeing it tomorrow night most likely. Can't wait!

Oh, you'll like it. :v

I'll also be getting a HoloLens tomorrow or the day after :D

Spoiler: Batman dies. As does Mufasa.

I hate that only one other coworker has seen it, and we can't discuss it without others getting spoiled on it. I'll tell you, I completely disconnected myself from Facebook to avoid spoilers. I remember getting spoiled on Star Wars: The Force Awakens as I was scrolling through my feed. Never again.

I just stopped using Facebook in general. Pretty much only open it to message people anymore.

I have it for the memes only. And only the dankest of memes. I heard a trend that supposedly the older generation and the adults are now getting into Facebook while the younger users have strayed toward Twitter. I say this because I was called an "old man" for still using Facebook. I guess I'm not hip these days. :p

Yeah I only use facebook to message a few friends cause it's easier than texting, and for one secret group I'm in for shittalking.

Nothing like some good shittalking with friends and strangers online. It's partially why I like playing Mafia :v

Speaking of, I think the website went under again. I'm going to assume Category 5 has the win on this, especially since this day has its technical difficulties. And the fact that Shade is still alive. Why present a case and try to mislead the Mafia (good guys) when Shade unwittingly does that for you.

Disappointed in the lack of weeb posting. I commend Category for that the other day, that was some hardcore shitposting/weebposting. It brought a tear to my eye, it was marvelous.

I still don't see how Jeod actually figured out what he was saying.

I speak weeb.

Is the website down again? Haven't been able to get on all morning.

Looks like it. Might be a good time to extend hammer.

So, I had timed the end of the day to give me enough time before I potentially lose internet while traveling. Depending on when the website comes back up, the extension might require somebody else to resolve it.

Does anybody want to volunteer to ~~have unlimited power~~ be a co-mod?

Nevermind that for now, forums are back up after a few hours. Just let me know if anybody notices them going down and causing any disruption.

I can do the endgame if hammer gets extended by 5 hours. Might not need it unless there are comments about it.

RIP mafia. Looks like it'll go to a 50/50 vote tomorrow when Cat5 steals a vote.

Cat5 can't kill when he steals a vote though, so it'd be him vs. two others. Shade would be innocent, which means it'd go to him or Irish. They'll vote eachother, which will leave Sunflower or Shade as the deciding factor. Cat5 would have to steal Sunflower or Shade's vote, and can't steal both. Either way, there's not a 50/50 unless one of those two does a nolynch to let the one with the stolen vote make the hammer. It'd have to line up perfectly.

Would be hilarious if they all voted Irish anyways.

This current course of events is retarded.

“I’d rather vote Cat5 than go for No Lynch, but it doesn’t look like that’ll happen.”

JUST PLACE THE VOTE, IRISH

And Shade too, holy sh.

“Of course since Category 5 isn’t willing to commit to a vote yet, I’m really tempted to vote him up now instead.
##NoLynch

Then why not vote Cat5 since you’re so tempted to vote him up?

This pains me to watch currently.

Lol. Two hours to hammer, there will be a switch.

I wish I knew Shade’s thought process.....

Wish I could post this.

Actually committing to a vote is something I’ve been trying to work on. Glad to see I’m not the only one with trouble doing it though :v

ThelrishMan used LOGIC! It’s super effective!

Inspired by a non sequitur from Shade no less.

This game is going to be interesting on the next day.

Did they seriously no-lynch?

Yes. Yes they did.

I’m a bit disappointed in them. In any case, would anyone be interested in proofreading a short story? It’s around 3000 words.

Nodlied, send it my way. *Redacted***

Thanks for the offer Chop, but my deadline has already passed two hours ago. :v It's fine though, I got a friend of mine to look at it.

I'm going to laugh if Cat5 stole Irish's vote to get him to vote himself. Then he wouldn't have to worry about a tie if Shade decides to keep being Shade.

Day 5

Well, Cat5 did indeed steal Irish's vote and Sunflower investigated Shade. So it'll be down to Irish and Cat5 for the debate. At the very least, Cat5 has a 50/50 chance of winning. If just one person keeps their vote on Irish it's game over.

I feel like Shade's going to do exactly that.

We need more scumhunting setups like this. Too many town perks lately.

Kind of glad that it's down to the wire like this. Games like that are usually fun.

Who's next to host after this one? I forget.

I don't recall anybody claiming that spot.

OrangeP47 had a Cuban Missile Crisis sequel, I think. But his surgery and Mafia Universe champ game might delay that. Verti60 might have a new APB game ready to go by now, I can ask him.

Heh, I still have a game planned for summer. :v Expect a poll on that one somewhere this week.

Also, @choppy, if you're still interested in reading the story, here's the link:

https://drive.google.com/file/d/1J63HDGybf\_Vpkfj59Lc3E6CojxOqtg6a/view?usp=sharing

Anybody can read it if they want to. Even though we've been past the deadline, I'd be up for comments in case I need to resit it. (Don't think I will, but eh.)

If there's nothing set for the next few weeks I can host a basic roles game setup called Janitorial. :v I'll make it open so everyone knows what roles are in play.

In any case, good night lads. (Damnit, need to wake up in about 5 hours!)

Wait what? I thought you said she investigated Shade. Oh well, I guess it's down to RNG after all.

She did. Probably realizes who scum is and knows that Shade might focus on Irish otherwise.

That's an MVP lie right there if it actually convinces Shade.

So basically Sunflower just pulled a damn impressive Effective Gambit. The best part is, she doesn't know just how right she is.

Well, well, well. Sunflower may have just won the game for us Mafiosos.

How did Sunflower know it isn't Irish?

Hell if I know, but she's probably following her instincts now, and she's bloody correct.

To be fair, Cat 5 pulled some BS with his silence claim. That doesn't sound vanilla really.

I'm really surprised scum didn't nail Cat5 on that bogus claim.

I really should have picked a better target with my daykill to make this have any chance at all :v

Shush it, you. :V

Wow, Shade sure is going kangaroo court with sunflower.

This is kind of painful to watch.

Sunflower, when you eventually read this doc, I hope you pay close attention to this: Your gameplay this round was phenomenal. Everything from your strategy to your casing was fantastic. And at the end, I'm not sure if you were pulling a gambit or just guessing, but either way it was brilliant. You've rapidly gone from a somewhat decent player to one of the best in no time at all. Keep up the good work.

Also, of course SuddenLink would shit the bed multiple times while I tried to type that. >:L Argh.

Definitely want to host a basics game soon. This is great to see.

"just so he wouldn't have to make any posts about the debate over Orange aside from some random memes and cute anime girls."

I live for random memes and cute anime girls. I have a newfound respect for Category5 - like, he's simply an amazing mafia player but his entertainment this round has been marvelous! He has reached shitposting levels I couldn't have imagined from him.

Ahaha, the crazed man! Cat5 is going with Akame meme posting again.

Shade, Shade939, Shade Nine Three Nine.... This. Fucking. Guy.

I've got to say, Sunflower has done an amazing job so far this game, she's got everything spot on. Shade however, damnit, your antics aren't helping! D:

As for Cat5, holy shit man, how does he keep getting away with this literal nonsense? Even though Irish and Sunflower have figured him out, Shade just keeps grabbing the bloody spotlight. This game could have been over, but noooo.

Funny thing is, under normal circumstances, Shade would be little more than a nuisance because Irish and Sunflower could outvote him. But in this case, Sunflower has to convince Shade to vote Cat5 in order to offset Cat5 and Irish, which is unlikely.

I think we found our new Chaos player.

Oh man, we need to get him in a game with Voe. Can you imagine the arguments they would have?

Yes. It will be grand!

Speaking of Chaos, whatever happened to Chaos_Knight?

I honestly don't know.

That fucking shade vote on Irish

<https://media.giphy.com/media/Ra1bmpxpsppNC/giphy.gif>

Seriously.

Does this count as OMGUS?

Definitely told Sunflower about Athena Cykes.

Do I get some kind of award for introducing both mafia's MVP and LVP to the forum :v

Holy fuck, Shade is by far the worst liability I have ever witnessed. No offense. [FRAYDO]

Ty Orange.

I didn't want to take credit for that statement per se ;)

I really, really hope Sunflower isn't too discouraged by that little argument.

Welp. [F

Gotta say though, this has been quite an entertaining day. Excellent arguments put forward by Sunflower and Cat5. That's the kind of debate that makes these games come to life. Then comes Shade. Shade's antics are turning this into a tragic comedy. We watch from the Dead Doc, absolutely frustrated (or maybe it's just me), just wishing he would oh I don't know...JUST PLACE THE VOTE ON CAT5

Irish will have to do his part to turn this back to our favour. Otherwise, Cat5 has this in the bag. And he can thank Shade, honorary Town.

Again, no offense but come on man. Listen to your allies and don't throw a wrench in every plan.

Even I'm rooting for mafia right now, such is the epic clash :p

I hope Cat5 has been jotting down personal commentary in the scum doc. I want to see his insight regarding Shade's involvement, his clash with Sunflower, and how to nail Irish. [F]

Hopefully Shade doesn't pull a KY after this game and disappear on us.

Cat5 says he's almost convinced that Shade is 3rd party. Even though I've confirmed no 3rd party in the game.

There goes Cat5's guaranteed win.

It's down to a coin toss. I'll be honest, I didn't think this would happen, but it's cool to see Shade finally come around.

I'm just wondering when to throw up a sign-up thread. :D These debates have my adrenaline going.

I should probably hold off on signing up for anything, due to the championship. That said, sometime *tonight* the schedule will be up and I'll know when exactly I'm playing. You should probably hold back too in case you need to be backup.

For the wrong reasons, lol

Well, one way or another this game will be over in about 40 minutes.

Well, our closing guy at my work is going on leave due to surgery on 5/20, so I got stuck with closing shifts. Either way I'd want a co-mod in case I can't have drafted GM posts ready to put up from mobile during lunch breaks.

Anybody want to pick evens or odds for a Cat5 lynch?

I should do it, I'm the other scum after all. :v I say odds.

Alright, going to roll a D20 if it's still a tie on end of day. If it lands as odd, then Cat5 gets lynched. Evens it's whoever he votes for (i.e. Irishman).

Good luck everybody. I have to go to dinner so I'll miss the actual moment.

Wait it doesn't look like a tie. Did you count right?

Irishman, Sunflower, and Shade have voted for Cat5. Cat5 stole Irish's vote last night. So it's two votes against two votes.

Oh it's a steal not a block. Ok.

Alright, docs will be locked momentarily. Get any last words in that you want to.

Just rolled an 18. Cat5 wins the tie and gets Irishman lynched. Town victory.

Oooooooooh snap.

Despite a fantastic effort by Sunflower. Nice game.

Locking the doc. Thanks for playing!