

Hey,

I was thinking and came up with lots of new and fresh ideas to help you out that I'm keen to try.

The number of members joining the discord is starting to slow down so this is the perfect time to strike.

I'm going away next week to Thailand (the 1st of march to the 20th), so I would love to start the free trial we spoke about in the week or so I have left until then.

Here's my calendly link so you can choose what time works best for you and book the call:

Hey,

The number of members joining the discord server is starting to slow down so this is the perfect time to strike and bring more traffic in.

I'm going away next week to Thailand (the 1st of march to the 20th), so in the week I have left before going I would love to start the free trial we spoke about.

I came up with a few more ideas that will contribute to you reaching 100 paid members in your server that I'm keen to show you.

Here's my calendly link so you can choose what time works best for you for the call:
