Appearance;

sunpetal is an averagely sized, wheat-colored she-cat. her eyes are of a pale green, while her nose is a striking pink. she has short, yet thick and soft fur. her pelt has darker tabby stripes along it as her paws, underbelly and muzzle have white patches. sun has a deep, sad-sounding voice that does not contain an accent. her tail is long and slender, while her fur is glossy and clean.

Personality;

sun is kind, however, she is easily found to be emotional. she unknowingly trusts others too easily, but due to many failed relationships, she has grown a protective cover around herself. the she-cat will not fall for others' charm, instead only rolling her eyes and trotting away. she is not very outgoing, but she isn't seen as being shy, either. sunpetal does not seem to have a very large sense of humour, preferring seriousness over jokes and pranks.
