Abstract: The 5th International Conference on Cooperatives (ICOOP2025) is a premier academic and practitioner event organized by the Institute of Cooperatives and Bio-Enterprise Development, College of Economics and Management, University of the Philippines Los Baños. ICOOP2025 coincides with the International Year of Cooperatives, declared by the United Nations to highlight the significant contributions of cooperatives to sustainable development. With the overarching theme, "Cooperative Advantage: Empowering Communities, Transforming Futures," ICOOP2025 aims to showcase how cooperatives drive inclusive economic growth, social equity, and environmental sustainability worldwide. This year's theme emphasizes cooperatives as a viable model and mechanism for enhancing resilience, inclusivity, and sustainability in a rapidly changing global landscape and highlights the unique role of cooperatives as powerful economic and social institutions that prioritize people over profit, ensuring that community needs are met while fostering equitable growth. Specifically, the conference seeks to serve as a venue for fostering knowledge exchange and sharing of experiences, best practices, and innovative ideas on: (1) creating economic, social, and environmental value of cooperatives for their members and communities; (2) adopting sustainable cooperative-led strategies for inclusive development and social transformation; and (3) recognizing and supporting the role of cooperatives in achieving the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. Through ICOOP2025, new directions for future research, education, extension, and policymaking will be defined with a focus on empowering communities and transforming futures through cooperatives.
