Workshop Description

Many of our teachers are self proclaimed technophobes! So how do we get them to feel comfortable with technology in their classrooms? This session shares some of the strategies I've added to my toolbox over the last year of technology coaching in my building. It will share the coaching model I implemented this year, ways to approach staff who are reluctant or standoffish and tips for staff who are eager to learn.

Presenter Biography

Ashley LaCroix is currently the Technology Integrator/Coach at Wiscasset Elementary School. Prior to that, she spent her time in the classroom, mostly in 3rd and 4th grade. Her love (and slight addiction) to technology invaded her passion for teaching and has led to a glorious position where she gets to educate staff and students alike! When she is not involved in teaching, she can be found participating in various geeky hobbies.
