

Do not harass anyone mentioned nor go after Embertail(he/him).

This document is meant to outline the lies and any manipulation Embertail(twitch, bluesky, twitter) has done to get ahead of people, and use them. She has displayed a pattern of manipulative tactics to try and grow as a content creator, but is an abusive individual overall. As such, we want to warn others of their recent actions as to not be affected in similar ways. We also want to see Embertail change for the better, by holding her accountable and urging her to reconsider their actions and apologize to those she's hurt - especially her wife.

~~Update: As of June 9th, almost 6 weeks post document drop, Embertail has yet to acknowledge this document publicly but is aware of it. This post confirms that they've seen everything. As of June 25th, Embertail has released their own document. You should read their side as well.~~

Update: Embertail has taken down their document. You can see the original here.

Update 5/17/26: Edited Embertail's pronouns to reflect her current gender.

TL;DR Embertail has been: cheating on her wife with multiple people, showing predatory behavior, pushing and disregarding boundaries, manipulating, breadcrumbing, being overly flirty, using others for personal gain, leveraging a power imbalance, and has generally been ableist towards disabled members. Just to get above everyone and profit.

Here is a folder of all of the screenshots, in order of appearance, for easier viewing.

Here is the PDF version of the Members & Editors contract.

~~It has come to our attention that Embertail has joined another team. They will remain anonymous, but this behavior can not go on. Embertail has not learned or changed from past actions and is continuing to join teams and putting others in danger.~~

~~Update: Embertail has since been removed from the team(s).~~

Update 5/17/26: Embertail has created a new team, called PawketPets. It's been over a year, so we hope she's changed for the better but are optimistically cautious.

Individual Testimonies

The below sections are testimonies gathered from individual people, outside of the general VDreamers mistreatment. We recognize and understand that some of this is hearsay, so feel free to disregard or take this with a grain of salt. Some have omitted details or their identity for their safety and well being.

Ex partner, former mod + former VDreamers founder and artist:

“ Ember and I met by chance, and not long after that she expressed her emotions about how she was betrayed by his former Vtuber Group/Stream Team the VCutiez. Not having the full story, I did my best to be supportive and encouraging to my new friend -- even offering to help as much as I could with her wanting to start a new group called the VDreamers.

Our conversations were pretty normal until I mentioned that I was in an open relationship and was okay with poly relationships. When she learned that, she started showing interest. She invited me to try out dating her and her wife with her desire to be that we would all be exclusive and it would lead to us all living together at her place. I made my boundary clear that I would not leave my other partners until I knew that we would all vibe like that and that it would take time for us to get to the level where I would consider moving.

I genuinely liked her personality. For me, she was easy to yap with and I wanted to get to know her more. At the time her passion for content creation and desire to grow was inspiring and I genuinely wanted to do what I could to help her succeed. I was open to getting to know her wife, too, but admittedly a little nervous because this was my first experience with a poly dynamic -- and it felt like it was already moving too fast.

Where Ember and I had a flirty and sexual interest, it wasn't the same with her wife and I. The wife and I messaged, and it was cordial but I could tell she wasn't into it. We tried gaming together and such but I felt that my open nature rubbed her the wrong way -- a feeling I was given because Ember would tell me every time they had a fight about me -- which happened A LOT.

Multiple times a day she would vent to me about the disparaging things his wife was saying towards the things I did and she would emphasize how much she wanted to be with me and make it work with all of us. I would call things off several times and it would set her off into a depressed spiral, where she would (assumedly) guilt her wife into taking the blame and coming back to tell me that she was truly okay with everything -- her even messaging me to try to reassure me. I went along with it and wanted to believe that we all were interested in the same thing: feeling each other out and discovering if there was a spark between us all. I genuinely enjoyed the flirting, erotic roleplay, and the presence of Ember at the time. She made me feel seen and special and if I could develop something similar with her wife then I thought it would be amazing. It was just clear that that wasn't going to happen.

One thing that made me uncomfortable was how she was persistent in getting me to visit as soon as possible, even trying to convince me to just move in with them while we all barely knew each other. She also talked frequently about how she wanted to have more children and expressed how her wife and her had been trying for a long time but was unable to get pregnant yet and how bad it made her feel. The way she talked to me about getting me pregnant just didn't sit right with me -- despite having a breeding fetish I knew that bringing another child into the world with someone so willynilly was a GIANT risk -- especially for the mental well being of the kid!

Eventually I had enough, I didn't feel comfortable knowing how her wife felt and started to get the idea that she was trying to force something on her that she wasn't excited for.

There was too much going on in this dynamic that was obviously creating a hostile experience.

It especially fucked me up with how often she would complain about her. Just constantly telling me how unhappy she was in his marriage and how she wanted to leave her to build a life with me / marry me but she was financially tied to her and couldn't leave on her own. I just couldn't empathize. I look at relationships completely differently. If she was venting that would be one thing. But how she tried to insinuate that we build a relationship together behind her back and prepare her to leave her wife -- just no.

Eventually we drifted away. She begged me to stay with him but I had made my decision.

For context: not long after this, I left the VDreamers.

After a few months had passed, I checked in with her and tried to see if we could foster a friendship. I made a comment about something she posted on Twitter tying in to her VDreamers Vtuber Group/Stream Team, and she immediately told me that the group had been disbanded that day. She shared her story with me about what happened and I tried to hold my tongue -- knowing that if I said anything that was too blunt that she would possibly lash out in defense -- something I did not have the emotional energy for at the time.

The conversation died from there until she messaged me not too long ago.

This is where I fucked up and I want to be fully transparent and take accountability: after going through a mind breaking betrayal I leaned into heavily flirting with her early on in our new conversations.

EmberTail - Vtuber - Twitch Partner

Coulda still had me technically but... >:c

Apr 14, 2025, 12:18 PM

xDDD
LMAO
You a mess

Apr 14, 2025, 12:20 PM

I am :c my lifes been...idk

Alot on my mind lately im ngl

My depressions been really bad

Idk if im really happy and idk what to do :(

Apr 14, 2025, 12:22 PM

I feel that entirely.
I'm trying so hard to recover from this heart break and not let it turn me into some jaded hermit
I just Can't trust my own judgement rn
I just want to be happy

Apr 14, 2025, 12:23 PM

I do too. Idk. All me and her do is bicker. Like..nonstop. i want to make healthy life changes and she just...doesnt really help me with them and loke

I feel so alone and crave more and idk what to do :(

Apr 14, 2025, 12:25 PM

That is how I have felt for a long time.
It doesn't get easier.
Communication and growth is so fucking hard.

EmberTail - Vtuber - Twitch Partner

That is how I have felt for a long time.
It doesn't get easier.
Communication and growth is so fucking hard.

Apr 14, 2025, 12:27 PM

It is. She finally got on antidepressants and they aren't doing a lot and she keeps finding reasons to ditch counseling places

And I'm trying to eat better and exercise more and she endlessly pushes to eat out

And our sex drives don't line up very well and she doesn't like almost any games idk

I just dunno what to do

Apr 14, 2025, 12:33 PM

sometimes people change
it is a lot of work to keep a relationship strong

Apr 14, 2025, 12:34 PM

Yeah but still what would you do :(clings tightly

Apr 14, 2025, 12:40 PM

I just wish you hadn't given up on me/us ;-;

Apr 14, 2025, 12:50 PM

:C

Apr 14, 2025, 1:12 PM

The situation seemed really complicated. I didn't want

EmberTail - Vtuber - Twitch Partner

Apr 14, 2025, 12:40 PM

I just wish you hadnt given up on me/us ;-;

Apr 14, 2025, 12:50 PM

:c

Apr 14, 2025, 1:12 PM

The situation seemed really complicated. I didn't want to risk ruining your relationship or risk getting too attached and abandoned.

Apr 14, 2025, 1:25 PM

We wouldnt have abandoned you

And especially not me

Apr 14, 2025, 1:28 PM

I was scared then.
And now, having it just happen to me, I am terrified.

Apr 14, 2025, 1:28 PM

Well im still here arent i

You made me fall in love w you :c and i dont fall out of love easys sigh

Easy

Apr 14, 2025, 1:29 PM

You are sweet. We have a lot of space between us, though. We stop talking to one another often.

EmberTail - Vtuber - Twitch Partner

You are sweet. We have a lot of space between us, though. We stop talking to one another often.

Apr 14, 2025, 1:30 PM

Well you keep poofing on me dingus

Im literally always here

paws at your face no more of dat

Ur stuck with me now :3

Apr 14, 2025, 1:34 PM

If you wanna be idk

|| GIF

Apr 14, 2025, 1:40 PM

:3 I would like that

Apr 14, 2025, 2:10 PM

Yay<3

grabbypaws snug? owo

EmberTail - Vtuber - Twitch Partner

That makes my heart really happy to hear. <3

Apr 14, 2025, 2:54 PM

It is a shame that things are so complicated overall~

Apr 14, 2025, 2:56 PM

Whys that? ><

Apr 14, 2025, 2:56 PM

I'm emotionally unavailable and unwilling to try open/poly at this point

And I am not confident in our ability to communicate or grow due to how your wife reacted last time

Apr 14, 2025, 3:04 PM

Wdym? :c

She doesnt wanna do poly ever

She got so mad about it...

Apr 14, 2025, 3:12 PM

That is what I THOUGHT but I couldn't remember if something had changed in that department

Apr 14, 2025, 3:13 PM

Yes i asked her very recently like days ago about trying it again but she flipped shit and promised id never bring it up again

But idk what to do cuz im not like...truly that happy...

EmberTail - Vtuber - Twitch Partner

That is what I THOUGHT but I couldn't remember if something had changed in that department

Apr 14, 2025, 3:13 PM

Yes i asked her very recently like days ago about trying it again but she flipped shit and promised id never bring it up again

But idk what to do cuz im not like...truly that happy...

But im trapped [REDACTED]..sigh

Apr 14, 2025, 3:17 PM

Run away with meeeeeeee :3
Lmao if only

Apr 14, 2025, 3:26 PM

Honestly

Gos

God

I would so hard

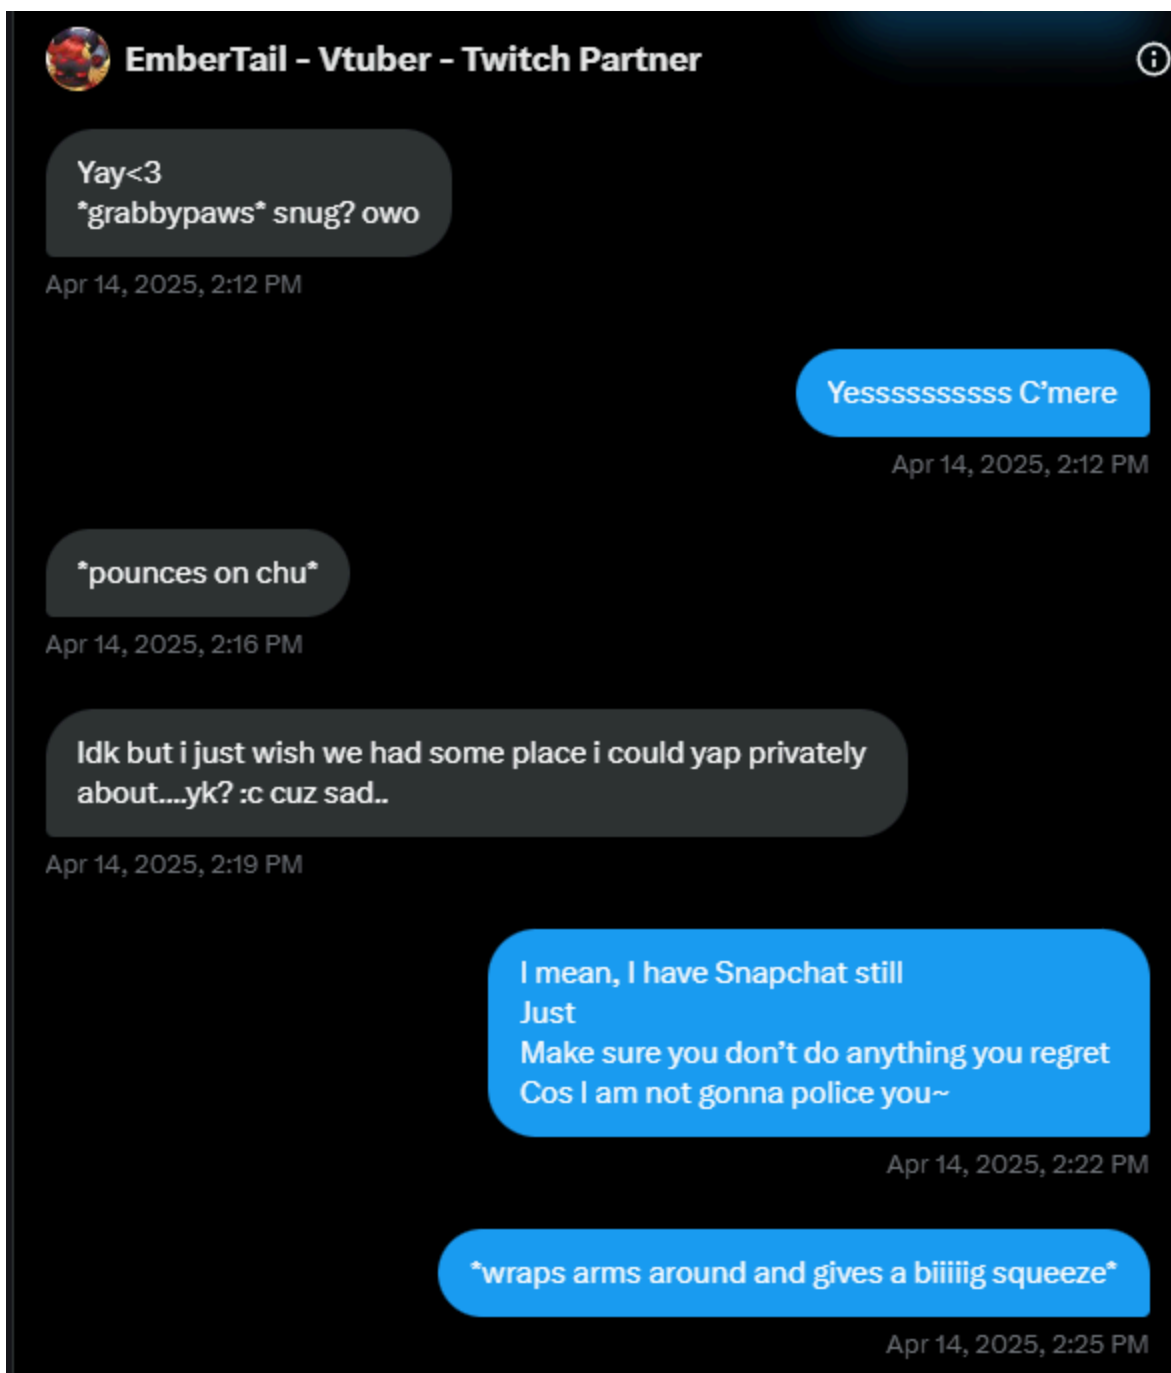

Im so tired of everything

Apr 14, 2025, 3:27 PM

(Note - she continued flirting/sexting after admitting her relationship was closed, and her wife would disapprove. This is the second time she's cheated to our knowledge.)

She made statements early on showing interest and I was so desperate to feel wanted that I matched that energy. She expressed how she was still in love with me and I fucked up by not making it clear at that moment that I was not emotionally available/not interested in a relationship.

We moved onto snapchat because she was paranoid about her wife finding our messages, and we flirted hard. She expressed how miserable she was, how since she quit her job to pursue a career as a full time content creator wasn't working out the way she wanted and how her wife -- who from my perspective was the sole breadwinner now -- was always miserable and they were always fighting.

Things were mostly suggestive -- some ERP starting but never finishing because I started to realize that this wasn't okay -- no matter what I was going through, this was me being an accomplice to his cheating.

Ember once again expressed an interest in us getting together -- that she would want to leave her wife for me.

I could not do that. Once I woke up and started to accept responsibility for how what I was doing was wrong and expressed that I had made a mistake and that we needed to stop. She agreed and we stopped messaging.

This entire experience lasted 2 days. 2 days that should have NEVER happened -- a learning experience for me yes but more importantly a complete act of betrayal to her wife who deserved better.

We stopped talking for a few weeks -- she told me she was going to uninstall snapchat for good.

Until recently. I got a snap from her where she was being extremely forward and flirty.

This time, I made it clear that I wasn't interested. It was like she didn't even read what I was saying though, trying to push me into a flirtatious and sexual situation again.

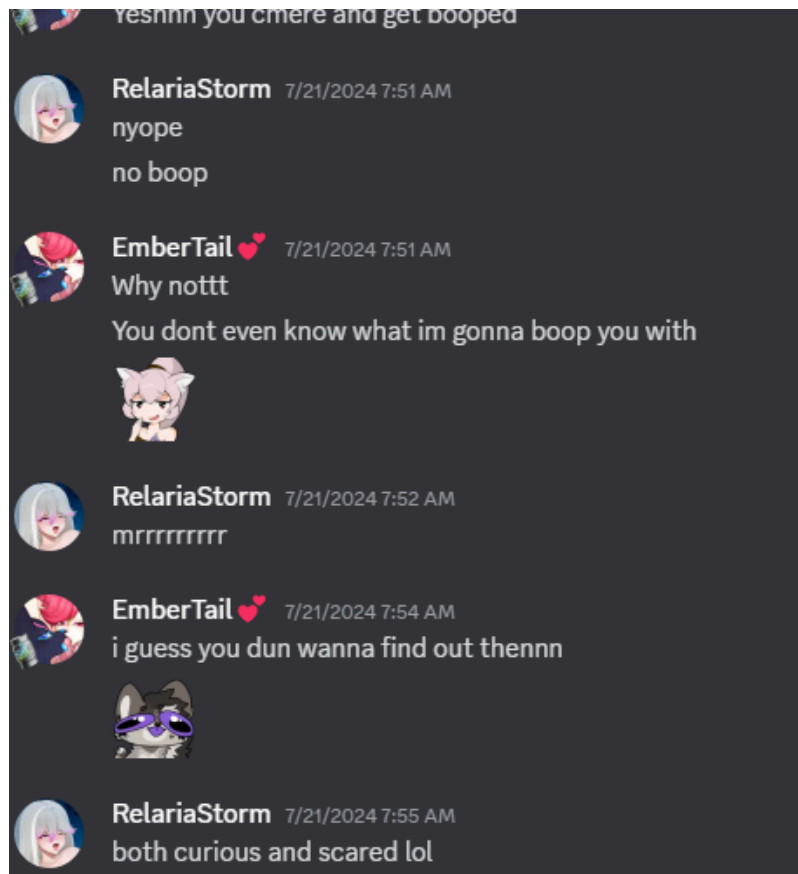

This was my breaking point. I knew there was no hope for a friendship with her. I don't know why it took me so long to realize it but I told her directly that we could obviously not be just friends and I blocked her everywhere.

I won't go too into detail with my experience with the group, but I will give you what I can recall: it became very obvious to me after we recruited our first wave of members that Ember did not know what she was getting into. She wanted to take things way too fast and recruit as many people as possible and ignored my advice to limit the amount of members so that we could put adequate time, resources, and support into them. It was a constant battle trying to talk her out of inviting more people. She stated that she wanted there to be more people so there would be more collab opportunities and though I do not know if that was her true intentions, my intuition told me I was fighting a losing battle. After a while, I felt like no matter what I did I was going to get backlash. I felt uncomfortable with how she wanted to pull in not just streamers but artists/editors/musicians who she expected to work for the group for free -- AKA "exposure". Not long after that it became clear that she was probably complaining to me behind others back -- even mentioning to me once that someone (I apologize, I can't remember her name) suggested that I be demoted from a manager because they believed I was not good enough at the job. Not long after that I resigned and left the group, telling only one or two people that it was because of our failed relationship attempt and my desire to keep Ember's and my personal drama away from all of the members.

There are details I am missing out on I am sure -- small nuances that could paint a bigger picture -- but I think this is enough.

Relaria, former member:

My personal relationship with Ember: When I met Ember, we were both excited to know that we were only a couple hours apart from each other in the same state. We even talked about dating, but she had to get permission from her wife to be in a poly relationship. At the time, I just got out of a poly relationship and wanted to stay away from them, but Ember was very sexual with me, toying and playing with my feelings and I kinda fell for it all, honestly. This went back and forth for months, before I gave up waiting for an answer from Ember. I realize that I was being lied to and manipulated so that my personal feelings wouldn't get in the way of the team. But when that spark died, I finally saw through all the bullshit. When called out on it, Ember didn't respond to me. Below are SOME screenshots of the flirting that went on for months.

RelariaStorm 7/21/2024 7:56 AM

nyaaaaaaaaa
not the tummy

EmberTail ❤️ 7/21/2024 7:56 AM at least it was my paw and not smth worse like my tongue or

RelariaStorm 7/21/2024 7:57 AM

mrrrrrrr

EmberTail ❤️ 7/21/2024 7:57 AM

but you like that too much <3

RelariaStorm 7/21/2024 7:57 AM

oh ya i would very much so

EmberTail ❤️ 7/21/2024 7:57 AM

hmpfh why do i gotta be such a people pleaser xP

RelariaStorm 7/21/2024 7:58 AM

lol

i'm the same way

But a bath with no view is no fun

RelariaStorm 7/21/2024 8:07 AM

welllllllll open a window then for a view

EmberTail ❤️ 7/21/2024 8:07 AM

Nahh outside could never look remotely as pretty as you

RelariaStorm 7/21/2024 8:08 AM

Ember hold firm. we trying to keep it friendly hun

EmberTail ❤️ 7/21/2024 8:08 AM

Heccc i know but

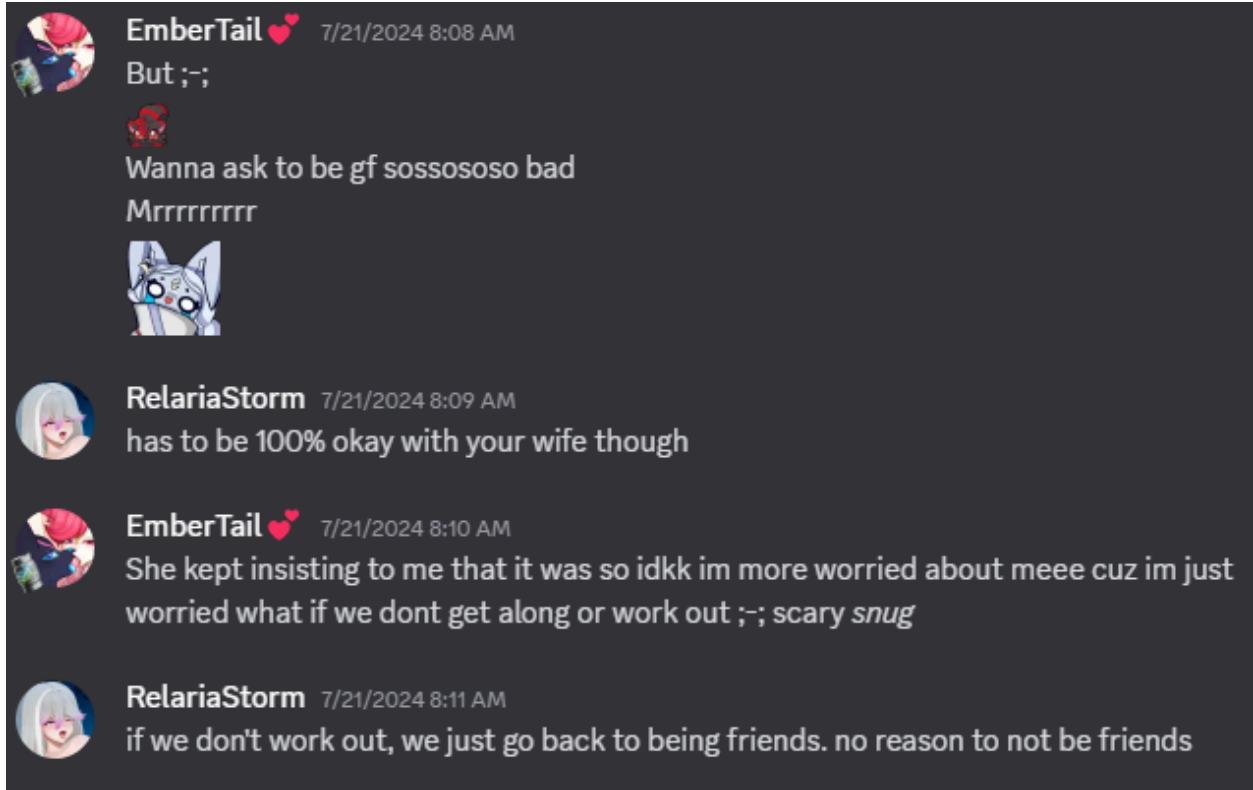

;-;

My heart wants you so bad mrrrrr

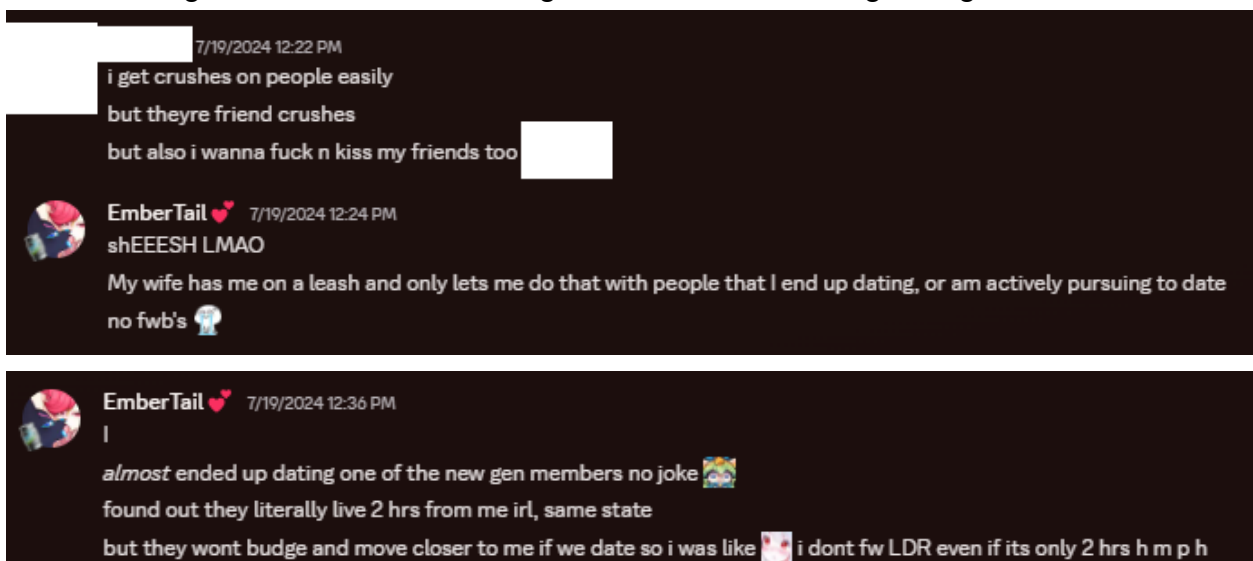

RelariaStorm 7/21/2024 8:08 AM

hold firm hun hold firm

Ember pushed Relaria's boundaries by pushing to be her girlfriend, while Relaria was unaware of her wife's input. Relaria had never spoken to wife.

Embertail admitting to another member that she had no real intentions of dating, leading Relaria on, and cheating on her wife via sexting/flirting with Relaria:

Hai hai everyone. I'm Relariastorm and used to be a part of the VDREAMER stream team. I was beyond excited to get an invite from Ember, and even came at the recommendation of a mutual friend. I've never really been part of something like this, but little did I know at the time how bad things would end up getting.

For the first few months, everything basically ran like normal - despite the flirting. Ember asked if we could start raiding into other dreamers, and even came into my dms asking. She wanted to get other people to partner as soon as possible, but I declined in saying that raiding one specific person over and over again would seem like favoritism, and would leave out any friends we've made outside of the team. This was really never brought up again until around October/November. This became a red flag, and the start of everything.

Ember left her job to pursue full-time streaming. Honestly, I wouldn't have made an uproar about this if the circumstances surrounding this were different... Ember decided to quit her job and push for full time streaming. Ember is a partnered streamer, but at the time her viewership fell and wasn't enough to sustain being a full-time streamer.

This is what made me realize that the team is not really a team, but more of a cash grab for Ember. I became more and more vocal about how people didn't raid into others much, nor did they lurk in each other's streams much if not at all. The lack of support furthered my suspicions.

This created a massive discussion in the now deleted team discord, and a few people even turned on me saying that I was begging for viewers - which wasn't true. This was a narrative that Embertail had started by gossiping with other members, behind my back. I genuinely don't care about numbers and only want to go out and be a goofball on the internet.

Things then began to spiral from there as Ember made an announcement that she wanted the team to lurk in HER streams so she could get back to partner numbers and make more money. She promised that it'd go back into the team, but her tune changed in the following months. I dm'd Ember about how something like that was a very selfish thing to do, and basically squashed any hard work other members were putting in.

Instead, Ember wanted the easy way, and people were gonna go with it because of the gossiping. I was instantly blocked without getting any information or anything back from Ember. It was at this point, I knew I was going to be kicked from the team for calling out their bullshit.

Ember had manipulated the few mods present, bypassing a full team vote, and had voted to kick me from the team. After explaining my situation to another mod, I was told that I was both right and wrong about what I said and I acknowledged that. The rules about promoting yourself in the server were not set in stone, and no one had done an announcement like Ember had.

Ember slowly started to run the team as an Agency when no one there wanted to be an Agency. We were told explicitly that we weren't an agency nor were we going to become one, but as time went on, Ember's mindset became profit driven instead of lifting others.

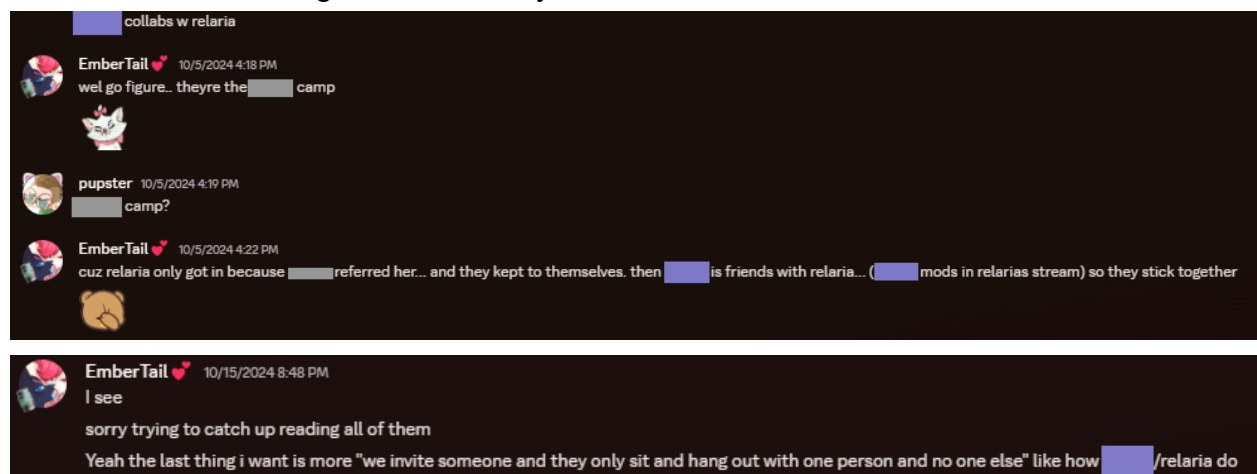

This is only my side of the lying and manipulation. It came to my attention that it had gotten worse after my departure, which is why I started this doc. Ember completely went off the rails and wanted to use others to live the easy life, by any means necessary.

Because of everything that had happened and all the mental stress that was put onto me, my health had rapidly declined leading me to go to the ER in September of last year. I have had severe muscle spasms since that day. My physical health had gotten to the point where I would stop streaming for weeks on end or even a month at times. It's taken a while to recover from all of this, but thankfully with amazing friends and my partner, I've begun a lengthy recovery.

Ex and Relaria's statements both show that she has cheated on at least two instances.

It should also be noted that both people in this instance have something that Embertail wanted to use to grow as a creator. The ex had initially made free assets for the team while they and Ember were together, and Relaria has a large community and "big" numbers.

Embertail had complained about Relaria(and others) multiple times, that she were upset that she wasn't sharing her community with them.

~~Embertail in the time after being blocked by Ex has rebranded as a 'heartbroken protagon'; possibly in reference to the fact that they had blocked Ember after she pushed and disregarded their boundaries. See addendum for further context.~~

COLLABING VTUBERS!

EmberTail - Vtuber - Twit... · 5h

Heya nerds!!

I'm Embertail!

I'm a fluffy broken-hearted Protogen vtuber, and a twitch partner!!

I really miss having lots of friends to play games with and would love to make some new ones to vc and game it up with!!

Comment below if you'd like to dm here/disc and meet! 💪

As far as we are aware, as of writing this, she and his wife are still together - his wife's discord profile still claims to be Ember's wife, and Ember's twitter stating they're married.

Just your average cultured anthro enthusiast, rhythm gamer, and Fortnite addict.

 Ember, my wifey

EmberTail - Vtuber - Twitch Partner

@EmberTailTTV

✧31

✧ Protogen

✧ Twitch Partner

Other acct @embertailvt got suspended so moved here!!

I post 18+ stuff

➡M:

@Miyawari

R:

@idhosukahewan

Married ❤️ 5/30/2021

While we cannot say for certain what Embertail's intentions with these two people were, it seems that there's a deep history of using people. However, with Relaria and Ex, it had started as a way to grow her own channel and platform. There are also at least 3 other people who can attest to being flirted with or approached, all of which are larger creators and/or artists who Ember wanted something out of.

Her wife, as far as we are aware, is also still supporting her financially after she'd left his job in October/November. She admits to not being able to leave because she supports her financially, which is why she'd opt to cheat instead.

Wife, if you're reading this: please know everyone involved with the document is incredibly worried for you, and hopes you are safe.

Below are more testimonies from former members. While they don't have the same scope or gravity as the first two, they all attest that Ember was bad with boundaries, overly-flirtatious unprompted, and/or generally self-pitying and guilt-trippy.

1. Anon 1, former member:

“ Ember had a nasty tendency to pity herself and to make it seem like it was her against the world. In December, I had told Ember I wasn't going to be part of VDreamers by the end of 2025. She played it as "we need you to stay". She would also come to me and rant about members of the group and the way the group was going. “

2. AnEmoNugget, former moderator:

“ Honestly the biggest thing that happened to me specifically (and probably others as well) was the constant DMing. Sometimes even late into the night or while I was at work. Complaining about VDreamers, streaming, and her life in general. I know a lot of people went through the same mistreatment in general, and the mod mistreatment as well, and I got both. “

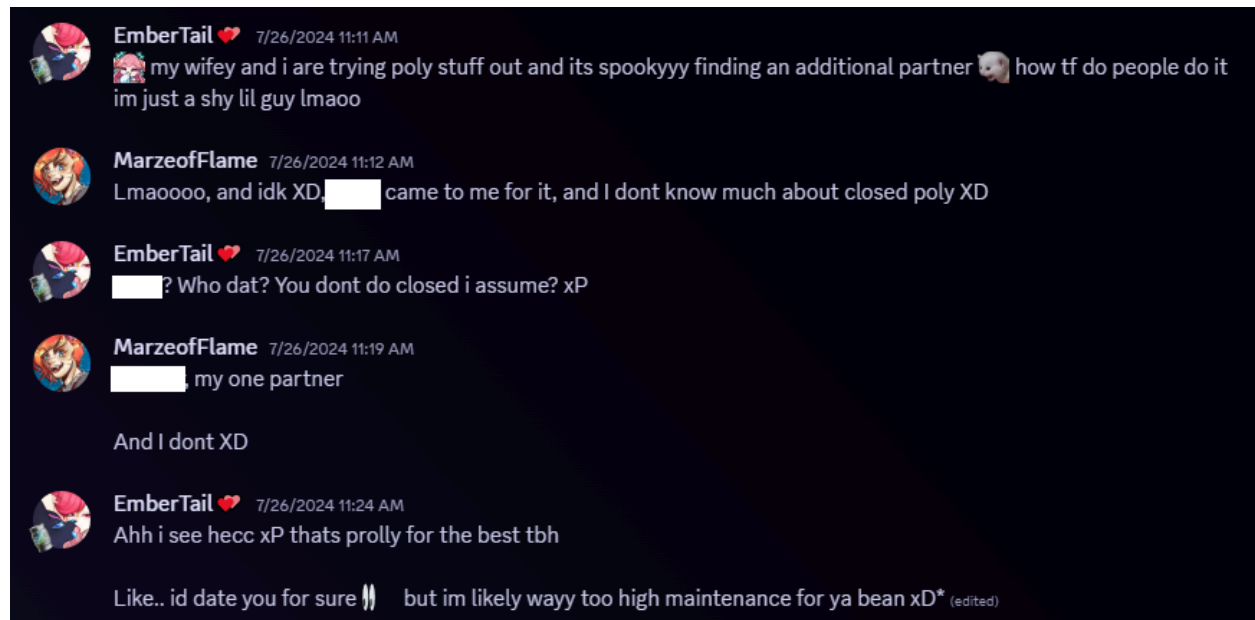

3. MarzeofFlame, former artist/streamer

Ember and I had become friends, I was one of the first to know about her wanting to make a stream team. I was supportive, and even got accepted as one of the first team members. I ended up leaving because I was WAY too overwhelmed, and sadly just ended up leaving because I did not feel like I was able to participate in the team as much as I should. She told me “you do what you gotta do” and I ended up leaving the team.

We would still talk from time to time, just not too often because I was really out of it at the time with a lot of other things going on. She ended up talking to me about the polyamorous stuff slightly prompted, I was teasing her and playfully bit her because “nom on friends!” and also as most of my friends know, I playfully joke about nomming a lot. She ended up mentioning “would mention something else but its big embarrassing idk aaaa” and I asked what it was about because I was curious, then she came to me with this.

I had NEVER stated I liked her, or had ANY feelings for her. I understand getting attached to people, but there was never anything on my side, and I didn't really appreciate her comment about her dating me. I kinda slid it under the rug, and tried my best to forget about it.

Anon4: Former member

“ I was one of the people working along with 3 others to do a group-wide charity event back in December. Ember made an announcement about a completely different event she had planned, knowing about the charity event and its planning for months when it was announced. I said something in the general of VDreamers regarding the announcement, and pointing out the charity event me and the others were working on and the little attention that was being drawn to it because those 3 other people were extremely stressed about it and the lack of help they were getting. A new event was getting announced when ours was literally weeks away. It spiraled into a whole long conversation, and Ember making an extremely guilt trippy post about it in general. Some other admins had shut down the entire conversation after. I sadly dont have screenshots of this post by ember as VDreamers has long since been deleted, and if i do I'll try and find them and share them.

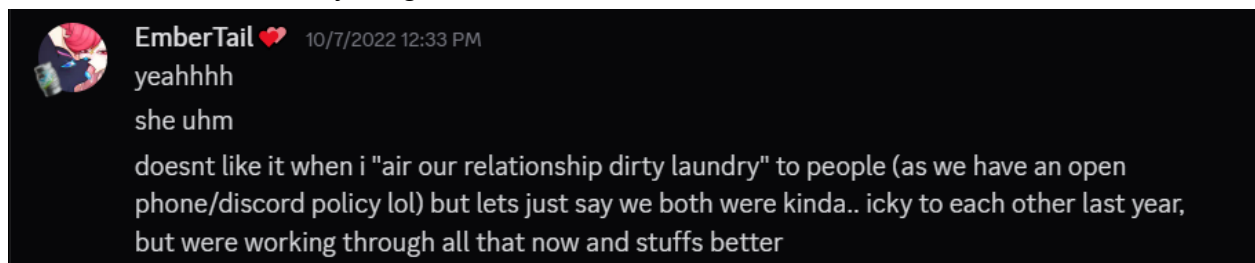

The event was planned by VDreamer admins. The whole conversation led to other members popping out of the woodworks to express other concerns. “

Note: Embertail's birthday party was on the date of the charity event, and she'd declined to help with anything relating to it for months. Even early on, the event was not supported by Ember - despite being asked to help multiple times.

Anon 5: Former friend

"While I am not as deeply impacted by the others, I felt like I couldn't NOT share these, as reading the rest of the doc has made me sick. While I never knew Ember's wife, Ember would complain to me about her relationship (I was guilty of doing the same about a past partner. I'm not perfect.) The difference is my partners know I need to talk to my friends to make sure I'm not feeling too deeply with an emotional disorder I have.

Ember's wife specifically didn't like their dirty laundry aired and Ember did it anyways. I did try to get Ember to invite their wife to games with my partner and I, but only as friends, and Ember would make a bunch of excuses to not let us talk to her because we weren't interested in anything further.

Ember's wife, if you're reading this, I am sorry I didn't push back harder on her venting to me about you when you didn't want it to happen. I did start to distance myself but I should have stood up for you, and for that I am sorry.

As far as Vdreamerz, I was not a member but I feel that was partially due to my number count being too low/my disabilities/Ember not seeing me as a monetary asset. Even while complaining to me about the other team being 'stolen' from them, My heart goes out to everyone that was hurt and I hope we can all heal and move on from this."

Other screenshots given:

EmberTail ❤️

10/7/2022 1:00 PM

awww thats wholesome, and im sorry stuffs so rough :c i hope it gets better
I lived alone and own my own home tho i dont make much, so i had this bad habit of like, meeting girls in discord dating servers, getting attached, dating, and moving them in sometimes irl, then itd suck and fall apart and wed split and sigh but this hoodlum has been a pretty good one so 🍷

EmberTail ❤️

4/25/2024 9:44 AM

I see but jeez lol i figure id prolly only end up finding someone close i dont imagine most people have theirs up so high

And my wife has given me mixed signals on the poly stuff

EmberTail ❤️

4/25/2024 9:47 AM

Yeah thats true 🍷

9:48 AM

Like when we first got together she was all "id never do poly" then it was "a threesome sounds hot" then "you should join some discord servers and find us a full on partner :3" but then i was the one kinda uncomfy/worried about it and we dropped it for a while but i was open to the idea again and mentioned it and she seemed kinda against it and idk why its a constantly on/off thing

These screenshots do not directly relate to former-friend's message, but explain that Ember's statements of taking people home quickly is a habit, as well as her wife's on again/off again hesitation with polyamory.

This does not read as enthusiastic consent to be in or start a relationship, especially with the frequency of the wife's mind being changed.

Anon 6: Former member

" I can attest that Ember would gossip about people and complain about the team. Not just in DMs, but on stream, as I was a frequent collaborator. I would not say that Ember romantically manipulates people just because they have a larger following and want clout/money, because I have a smaller following than her.

But she also invited me to live in her house when I was scared, I had nowhere to stay. This plan was cancelled because her wife said no. So I may not have been able to provide clout or money, but she might've wanted something else from me.

Ember's wife probably saved me, and I didn't even realize it at the time.

I'm sorry to find out all this weird stuff was going on behind the scenes to everyone, not just me. I hope you and everyone affected heal from this garbage. “

(Note - we have updated the number from 5 to 6 people who Ember has been inappropriate with while the team leader.)

VDreamers Mistreatment

VDreamers was a group that was run by Embertail as the leader. This portion covers the group as a whole. Covering mistreatment that happened as a direct result of how VDreamers had been run including the mods, artists, members, and video editors. It includes both personal testimonies and general statements about what all members had witnessed and gone through. All of the people listed in this document have been part of VDreamers at some point, so this portion includes them as well.

General VDreamer Member Mistreatment:

Members of VDreamers had signed up for a stream team that would uplift and help each other with growth. This sentiment is still shown on the original group website.

WELCOME TO VDREAMERS!

VDreamers is an indie vtuber group and Twitch stream team dedicated to advancing and promoting diverse talent from across the streaming sphere. We are not an agency, but rather a group of like-minded individuals who have come together with a common goal in mind: to show that streaming is for everyone! We have gamers, artists, writers, programmers, and more, truly showing that if you can dream it, you can stream it! We operate on the values of inclusivity, compassion, and always putting one's best foot forward and strive to create a welcoming and safe space for all of similar mind.

WE ARE VDREAMERS!

Aiming to reach our dreams, and supporting the dreams of others!

With over 30 members, VDreamers provides talents dedicated to all types of content creation and streaming, spanning a wide range of demographics and focuses.

From artists to streamers, if you can dream of it, VDreamers has a member for you!

However, as time went on, Ember had pushed members to collab more and produce more content. Towards the end of the group's life, she wanted the team of editors to produce multiple short formed videos a week, and up to two long formed videos a month to help with generating income via TikTok and youtube. She also pushed to have at least one collab a week between members, despite not outlining this previously. Amidst the group changes, Ember had not told anyone that her goal was ultimately to generate revenue for herself.

Seemingly out of the blue, Ember had proposed inviting members and 'guaranteeing them' a spot, to 'make the team more serious.' These people, notably, had CCVs ranging from 20 to 60+.

EmberTail

Yesterday at 11:06 PM

@VDreamer Mod

Also.. I wanted to let you guys know I did some big thinking, I was thinking with gen3 we would try and take on at least a few bigger streamers to help give the team some more oomf and seriousness. I've scouted out a number of people that I think would be a good fit, and contacted a few probing general interest in applying for the team when gen3 apps open, and about half the people I reached out to were VERY interested in joining the team. I want to open gen3 apps sooner rather than later so as to not risk these bigger people losing interest in the group or joining other teams in the mean time, so I was thinking of going ahead and putting the gen3 apps out on the market on Monday, and leaving them open for 2-3 weeks, closing them, and taking no more than 10~ people tops. But a few of the bigger people I want to basically give guaranteed approval to.

I contacted [REDACTED] (A twitch partner like me, she has already 100% said shed love to join)

[REDACTED] (A GREMLIN energy bat vtuber who is super bubbly and MEGA psyched about possibly joining, has great energy and like 20-30+ ccv)

[REDACTED] (Furry vtuber who was pulling 50-60+ CCV and a sweetie)

[REDACTED] (had like, 50-60+ CCV when I lurked her playing Minecraft) Shes really sweet too and is excited about joining too

I need to contact [REDACTED] again because she was on the fence about joining and get a final word from her if she wants to hop in too or not but she does a lot of "vtuber advice/help" stuff that I felt would fit right in with our theme too

(Also maybe invite [REDACTED] & [REDACTED]? Theyre both sweeties but idk thats up to you guys but the previous 4 100% i want)

I figured if we took those 4-5 people, we could leave the general apps running and grab like, 3-5 additional people (Cuz no one would know the bigger people were guaranteed a slot beyond us yk) smaller/bigger creators and vet them as well. I already went ahead and worked on a nicer (imo) looking Gen3 app, <https://tally.so/r/mYJdPJ> (if you want to go thru it and LMK what you think of it i can adjust it until we post it live)

Ember would continue to argue that guaranteeing people based on their numbers and how much she liked them was not an issue, and even began to get passive aggressive at times.

Today at 1:36 AM

its unfair to invite people and guarantee them a spot because of their numbers regardless of if we take others in (edited)

EmberTail💖 Today at 1:37 AM

I mean.. says who? There's no set in stone rules on how stuff has to run, it's entirely subjective and opinion based. If an agency picks a person with a big CCV no one bats an eye and expects it so why is it so frowned upon that a stream team, trying to be taken more seriously, also wants bigger creators? Like genuine question 🤔

Today at 1:37 AM

because we aren't an agency and never claimed to be one

EmberTail💖 Today at 1:37 AM

Right but I also have been saying for months I do want to build a brand, grow our team and reach, etc and bigger creators would further that goal would they not?

EmberTail💖 Today at 9:49 AM

But people are collabing is the thing.. and the podcast and newsletter are more like pet projects that have literally nothing to do with new members or not necessarily

But I do heavily agree we need more mods

And I already stated that they originally would fill out apps like everyone else 🐾

And that's again why I said we could open apps now, have the bigger people apply to make sure they retain interest in the team, leave apps open all month so we have the month to solidify stuff, then take gen3 in end of month or start of march..

And we could just have you guys all vote on apps and if some of you genuinely dislike some of the big creators we don't have to take them 🐾
I feel like that's a genuinely fair compromise but I'm sure that'll just get argued to death too so whatever I guess 🧐

After it came to light to members that a gen3 was in the works, Ember had made a general announcement to all VDreamers outlining why she was pushing so hard for more content creation.

12:22

< # team • updates >

@VDreamer THIS IS VERY IMPORTANT
PLEASE READ THIS!!!!!!

Hello citizens of Eepyland.

I wanted to message you guys to let you know about some really, really large changes we have collectively as a mod/admin team decided to make to the team moving forward.

This is being done with the grander vision of the team and its future in mind.

To start off, I want to preface with some personal stuff that may hopefully shed some insight on why I've been trying to do things the way I have been, as I understand a lot of you feel in the dark on a lot of stuff that goes on behind closed doors, so I'm hoping to shed some light on that.

Initially when Vdreamers began, it was more of a side passion project formed out of the ashes of Vcutiez. I knew sort of what I wanted the end picture to be, but I was so fresh to all of this I had honestly no clue what the hell I was doing.

Back in October, things changed for me. .. A lot. For 6~ years I worked at the same job IRL. However towards the end of it, what I did day to day had shifted so much it became something I had never signed on to do, and it made me miserable. I mean.. It was bad. Im talking, "I actually dread waking up to do my job, the stress

Done reading? Check out #★'chat.

12:22

< # team • updates >

Back in October, things changed for me. .. A lot. For 6~ years I worked at the same job IRL. However towards the end of it, what I did day to day had shifted so much it became something I had never signed on to do, and it made me miserable. I mean.. It was bad. Im talking, "I actually dread waking up to do my job, the stress level it puts on me makes me feel suicidal" kind of bad.

IRL, I'm in that crappy inbetween situation where i'm broken enough physically to not be able to do most jobs, but not broken enough in the eyes of the government to actually get disability/any real help.

In October I made a decision with my wife's graces to quit my IRL job, and to cut a lot of our spending, nip our expenses and budget to scrape by the skin of our teeth on just her income, so that I could breathe and exist and focus on full time content creation and this team.

However that came with a very firm handed stipulation from her;

Either I had to be successfully streaming again (high ccv, getting plenty of subs making some money etc)

or

Get the team larger, to the point we're selling merch, getting ads/sponsors/supporters etc to help supplement my income just enough we can

Done reading? Check out #★'chat.

12:22

← # team • updates >

Get the team larger, to the point we're selling merch, getting ads/sponsors/supporters etc to help supplement my income just enough we can reliably get food at least, then any additional earnings would be rightfully trickled down to editors/artists/etc

by a full calendar year.. or that was it.

Streaming has unfortunately not been going as well as I would like. I banked hard on Supervive when it was coming out and it flopped hard. I've been trying my best to do all the big streamer 'you should be doing these things' things, working my ass off to grow myself, but it's going painfully slow, with my attention constantly divided between the team, and my own personal things.

I basically am faced with a really hard thing, either I drop vdreamers completely and focus purely on myself, or I take the biggest risk and put all my heart and love into you guys, and hope that it pays-it-forward into my own streaming and helps me get by. I want to see all of you succeed and grow and achieve your dreams, and even if growing the team to get to the point I benefit from it is a million times harder and more complicated than growing my own stuff, I still choose you guys over just focusing on myself, because I seriously love all you guys.

So.. That's a large part of why it was so important to me we try and get some bigger

Done reading? Check out #★*chat.

TL;DR: Ember started the group as a passion project. She'd left her job in October 2024, wanted to get big playing Supervive, and didn't. So now she had to focus on the group because she "loved all of us."

Many people saw right through this and had parted ways. Some stuck around, hoping for the best.

Following, Ember would draft contracts. It was scrapped, but further shows the intent to profit off of members - now saying that any earnings via VDreamers activity will no longer get sent after 'Ember supplements her income.' It also includes a non-disclosure agreement(NDA).

VDreamers Talent Agreement

This Talent Agreement ("Agreement") is made and entered into as of the date of signing by and between VDreamers ("Management") and the undersigned content creator ("Talent").

1. Obligations of Talent

- 1.1 Talent agrees to stream content at least once per week on the designated platform(s) as determined by Management.
- 1.2 Talent agrees to participate in at least two (2) collaborations per month with other VDreamers talents.
- 1.3 Talent agrees to post content on social media a minimum of three (3) times per month to promote VDreamers and their activities, and their own.
- 1.4 Talent agrees to make reasonable efforts to fulfill these obligations and to communicate with Management if accommodations are required.
- 1.5 Talent agrees to provide content creation goals at least quarterly (3 months) to Management, wherein management will do their best to help said Talent achieve them.

2. Revenue and Ownership

- 2.1 Talent acknowledges and agrees that all advertising revenue generated from YouTube, TikTok, or any other social media platforms related to VDreamers content shall belong solely to Management. Talent shall not receive a share of such revenue, even if their likeness, voice, or participation appears in the content, at their discretion.
- 2.2 Talent understands that all advertising revenue from team mascots, branding, and other team-related content belongs exclusively to Management.
- 2.3 Talent understands that, circumstances withholding, they relenquish rights to footage taken under contract. Talent gives Management permission to use their names, likenesses, and voices without prior consent.
- 2.4 Talents shall retain ownership of their OCs/Models/Assets and management will not take them nor their trademarks
- 2.5 Management will not take any of the Talent's own revenue, from any sources (Merch, donations, etc)

3. Conduct and Professionalism

3.1 In the event of separation from VDREAMERS, Talent agrees not to slander, defame, or make disparaging remarks about the team or its members on social media or any public forum.

3.2 Talent agrees to uphold a professional and cooperative demeanor when interacting with fellow talents, Management, and the VDREAMERS community.

4. Communication and Accommodations

4.1 Talent shall make a good-faith effort to fulfill the obligations outlined in this Agreement.

4.2 If Talent requires accommodations due to unforeseen circumstances, Talent agrees to notify Management as soon as possible to discuss adjustments.

5. Termination and Modifications

5.1 Management reserves the right to terminate this Agreement if Talent repeatedly fails to meet obligations or engages in conduct detrimental to the team.

5.2 This Agreement may be modified in writing with the mutual consent of both parties.

6. Acknowledgment and Agreement

By signing below, Talent acknowledges that they have read, understood, and agree to abide by the terms outlined in this Agreement.

Page 2 VDREAMERS Agreement Cont.

Talent Name: _____ Signature: _____ Date: _____

VDREAMERS Representative Name: EmberTail Signature: EmberTail Date: 02/12/2025

Page 3 VDREAMERS Agreement Cont.

In a Video-editor specific contract, the editors will receive compensation for their contribution - but only the channel was monetized, and with a cut being taken by management of an undisclosed value.

VDreamers Video Editor Agreement

This Video Editor Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into as of the date of signing by and between VDreamers ("Company") and the undersigned individual ("Editor").

1. Scope of Work

The Editor agrees to create and edit video content for VDreamers, including but not limited to YouTube and TikTok videos. The Editor is expected to produce at least four (4) videos per month, as consistently as able. This may be long-form, short-form, or clips, interchangeably.

2. Compensation

In the short term, as the VDreamers YouTube account is not yet monetized, all work performed by the Editor will be on a voluntary basis. Once revenue is generated, all active Editors will receive an equal share of revenue, regardless of individual video output, with management taking a small cut. The exact revenue split and figures will be determined at a later date, and this Agreement will be updated accordingly.

3. Quality and Communication

Expectations The Editor agrees to:

Produce videos of VDreamer related content to the best of their ability and in a timely manner.
Communicate with management if they need a break or accommodations.
Receive proper credit in each video they produce.

4. Promotion of Commissioned Services

Management will create a space for Editors to promote their commissioned services to fans and other talents within the VDreamers community.

5. Non-Disparagement Clause

If the Editor is separated from the team, whether voluntarily or by termination, they agree not to publicly slander, defame, or otherwise make derogatory statements about VDreamers.

6. Intellectual Property and DMCA Claims If the Editor is separated from the team, whether voluntarily or by termination, they agree not to issue DMCA claims against VDreamers for videos posted using their work.

7. Agreement Modifications

This Agreement may be updated at any time by VDreamers management, with prior notice to the Editors. The updated Agreement will reflect any changes in revenue sharing or other relevant terms.

By signing below, the Editor acknowledges that they have read, understood, and agreed to the terms outlined in this Agreement.

Editor Name: _____ Date: _____ Signature: _____

VDreamers Representative Name: EmberTail Date: 02/12/2025 Signature: Embertail

Within this contract, any work would not remain the Editor's IP, and there is a similar NDA. Editors were also expected to promote themselves without any VDreamer help.

While there was not an artist contract, artists were typically not credited / paid for their work by Embertail to begin with.

The group disbanded shortly after another moderator had left for personal reasons. Ex-members were venting about the betrayal of joining a group to support one another, to then realize they were being used to make content and money. Ember had a meltdown, viewable to all remaining members.

 EmberTail ❤️ Today at 10:25
Now im at the point im heavily, heavily debating just saying fuck it and just deleting all the team stuff whats the point anymore everyones pretty much left, i cant post anything without ex-members sabotaging and making drama theres like nothing left now

 EmberTail ❤️ Today at 10:29
[redacted] help 🐼

 EmberTail ❤️ Today at 11:39
sure

 EmberTail ❤️ Today at 12:39
Cuz i just dont know what to do anymore. I dont have the time or energy to handle all of this by myself, [redacted] was putting in a lot of work and i cant keep up with that kinda workflow and still make time for my wife and my own stream :/ but disbanding the team right this second with open apps running will look even shittier, so idk wtf to do at this point. but i just know if we take these people in from the apps im going to seriously need help with stuff (edited)

 I am no longer a VDreamer. I wish all of the remaining VDreamers luck in their streaming careers. I do not wish to talk about it further. Please respect my privacy.

🗨️ 🔄 ❤️ 📊 3 📌 📎

 1

sigh

 EmberTail ❤️ Today at 13:16
Well i see someone on the team obviously wants the team to fail going and sending screenshots to non team members and everything
So why dont you speak up
@everyone
Since im likely gonna disband this shit anyways since nobody obviously cares about this fucking team

The sentiments below are multiple testimonies gathered from ex-members, compiled into a generalized sentiment. We recognize and understand this is hearsay, so feel free to disregard or take this with a grain of salt.

As previously mentioned in Relaria's portion, there were also other instances of Ember acting inappropriately within the team. She'd develop a 'crush' on multiple other members, flirting with and talking about starting a relationship with them.

We know for sure that:

- A. The artist in question made multiple assets for free and were in a relationship,
- B. They left the team shortly after they had ended the relationship, according to Ember.
- C. Ember acknowledges and knows that dating teammates is bad, yet would start a pseudo-relationship for months with Relaria and flirt with multiple members.

Ember would also leverage platonic connections with members to influence people's thoughts about member's that Ember was not fond of. Multiple people have admitted to having a disapproval of another member, due solely because of Ember's incessant gossiping about members behind each other's backs - often accompanied with manipulation or lying about the member being slandered.

This all contributes to a massive power imbalance, as she was the 'leader' of the team - one that offered growth and help for many new, or smaller creators. Multiple members felt that, because she is an established streamer and Twitch partner, speaking up would also result in worse consequences for themselves than Ember.

The general mistreatment of the team and viewing numbers as the end-all-be-all shows Ember is willing to use others for their benefit, as well as her generally manipulative (passive aggressive, guilt-tripping) behaviors.

Mod Team Mistreatment:

Ember had mistreated, overworked, and stressed moderators for the group on a variety of occasions.

Anon2: Former Mod

 2/6/2025 10:47 AM
i no longer want 2 be a mod or admin on the team

 EmberTail ❤️ 2/6/2025 10:47 AM
What why bean 🤔

 2/6/2025 10:48 AM
i very clearly outlined and voiced how you were disrespectful and uncaring of my opinion and you didnt apologize, just moved on.

 EmberTail ❤️ 2/6/2025 10:48 AM
Because I was frustrated, I don't do well apologizing in the heat of the moment when im upset but unlike morgi i do eventually apologize when I calm down

 2/6/2025 10:48 AM
i feel it wholly unfitting of a team leader to be shiftly like that and can no longer be part of a moderation team who makes decisions like this.

 EmberTail ❤️ 2/6/2025 10:49 AM
I didnt sleep well because of the start of the convo and i woke up crabby and it was going right back into it 🦀

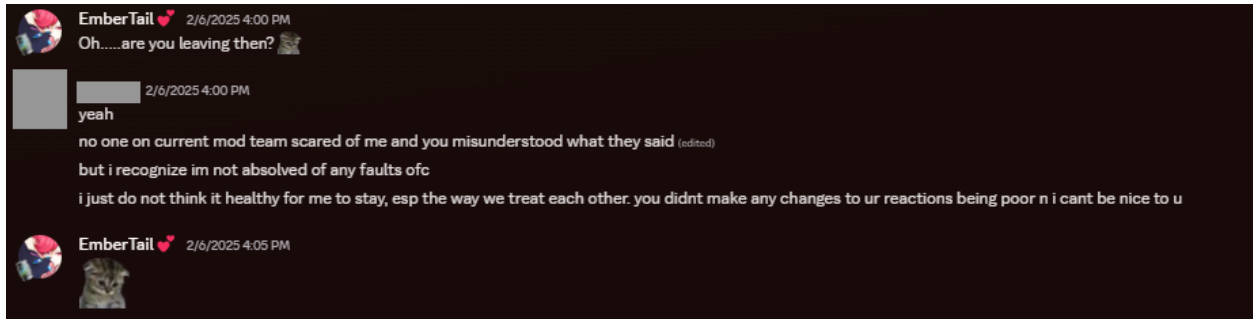

im chill abt it but you specifically word things very poorly all the time

 EmberTail ❤️ 2/6/2025 11:36 AM i know and im sorry
if you want to leave still i genuinely understand, im sorry i went behind your back with stuff

 2/6/2025 11:37 AM
" i knew youd fight me to death (sad emoji) and " i just wanted to help the team (sad emoji) "
like that pmo

 EmberTail ❤️ 2/6/2025 11:37 AM
how? its just me being honest
I genuinely knew youd fight me on the topic and i genuinely just wanted to help the team and i put sad emojis so you know the tone of what im saying is with sad feelings because im hurt that everyones so upset with me because im just trying to do something good for the team is all

 2/6/2025 12:58 PM
actually the reason i was tweaking was because you refuse to change your poor wording which has been an issue for months so their reaction to you continually, subtly disrespecting me isnt 100% my fault i feel you have had a known issue for MONTHS too
ive tried to talk to u and mitigate it but atp it is intentional because you arent trying to get better abt it

I had confronted Ember's poor attitude and wanting to leave, expressing that I don't enjoy the passive aggressive attitude being an issue constantly. This was an issue for as long as I'd known Ember. She'd been told multiple times, by multiple people(ESPECIALLY me) that her attitude was triggering, but there has been no change. This is evident in the prior section about general VDreamer mistreatment also, as she was passive aggressive, manipulative, and guilt-trippy multiple times. Embertail admits and apologizes for being crabby, but dismisses it as 'being sleepy,' as well as that her expression was just her being truthful. Throughout the conversation, Ember continues to send sad, crying emojis after being told that was specifically making me upset.

Ember had hired me on as a social media manager and artist, and had said she'd pay me every once in a while for my work. She paid me $50 once, and never again. I created a lot of assets for the team - from the mascot design, to merch, and even different pieces of branding and assets for the social media. I had also made a few shorts.

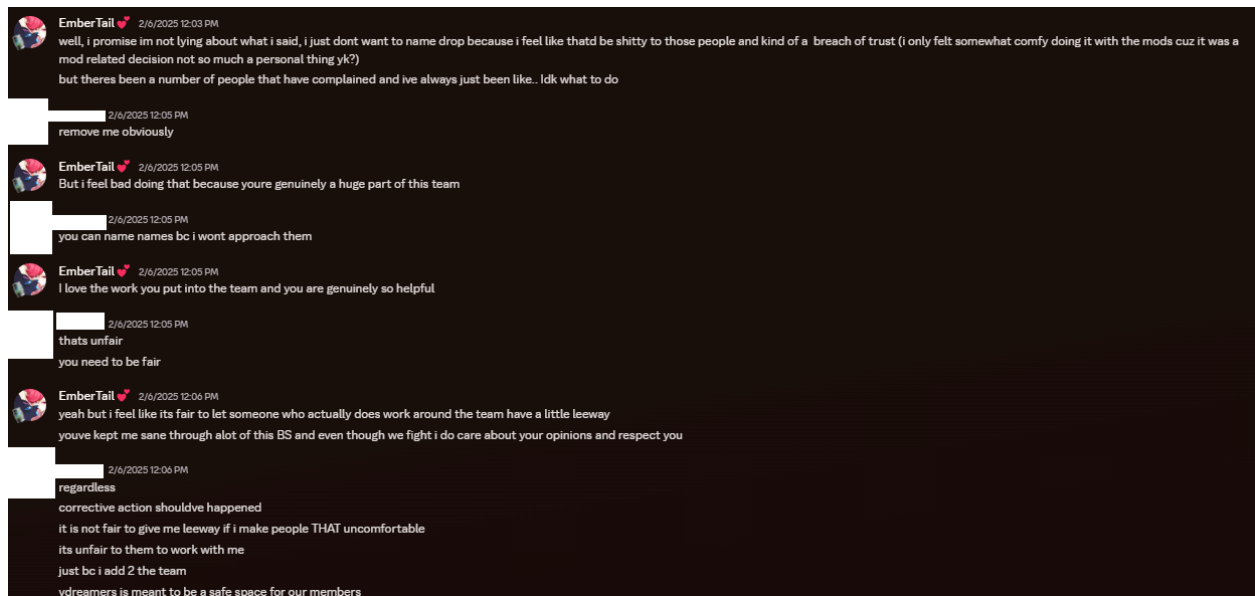

Ember and I's friendship was strong I thought - but, apparently not really. After a while, I'd bring up an issue, we'd argue like a divorced couple, and move on. Except she started doing things that would genuinely, actually trigger me. Passive aggressive speaking, lashing out, being obtuse - it makes me tweak, because of past abuse. I'd confided this in her.

Ember would constantly talk to me about other members in a poor way. After a while, I started to say that she was wrong and that they were right - which is when I noticed the shift of our friendship. I would take what members were saying not to heart, but as genuine criticism to better the group.

In my time after I left VDreamers, I've had at least 7 different members apologize to me for shittalking and disliking me because Ember had misconstrued something. Many of them had noticed eventually that I was not the big bad guy Ember made me out to be - and it was all a part of her stupid scheme to get people to not like me so she could gossip about me and pity herself.

I had also told Ember, on more than one occasion, that my biggest fear as an autistic person was people thinking I was mean, rude, or aggressive for being outspoken and passionate (which is part of my religion btw - Tikkun Olam). She'd used that very insecurity that I had to try and manipulate people into agreeing with her on stuff, saying that others were 'scared of me because I always argue with her.'

The worst part was when she told me that she didn't want to reprimand me nor remove me, cuz I was a major asset. Like deadass, to my face: "I didn't remove you because you do so much work. You should have some leeway." This shows gross abuse of power - keeping me around to work for him while other's were uncomfortable with me - had I actually been scaring people.

When I reached out to all of the other mods to apologize, none of them had said that I was making them uncomfortable.

Ember hardly worked on the group. It was a point of contention. Multiple moderators and members alike would say that streaming for 6-8 hours a day, 5-6 days a week did not leave enough time for them to run the group. The issue was, there was no one running it - so I stepped up.

When Ember was still a full time worker, too busy to moderate and plan things for the group? I got it going! Ember was too busy to help plan any charity events? Sure, I'll work through my disability! I was in the ER in December because of my disability, and I can't remember that she ever really cared. I still worked through the injury because I was needed.

Ember was entirely just a mascot, parading as the 'leader'. Anyone who was in VDreamers saw that she was using me, and worse, she was using all of the moderators to make the group go round. She is not an artist, video editor, or social media manager; she just managed to manipulate herself into having free access to them.

I left the group after I realized that Ember had manipulated me to the point where I was being toxic towards them. This came after she'd gone behind everyone's back and cherry picked a few 'bigger' creators to 'guarantee' spots to, and had 'given us a heads up about.'

Afterwards, the whole team was sending me screenshots. I think I'm literally still friends with a majority of them, and can contact most(like 90%) of the members .

Ember has, to my knowledge, not checked in with a single person without being probed first and typically responds with self pitying and blame for her group failing.

In short: Embertail used everyone for free labor while having zero skills herself, manipulated people into making my worst fear a reality, and then tried to be sad when I didn't want to stay.

Anon3: Former mod

" I was added to the group and quickly put into an admin role, with loads of responsibilities. If I didn't perform any given day, I was guilt tripped. I put in about 90% of the effort of the mod staff. When my friend died and I said I NEEDED time off, I got guilted into continuing to work. She never asked if I was okay. Never checked in on me. When I left due to that, Ember badmouthed me to the entire group immediately. Ember has a long history of feeling personally attacked by people that leave the group and bashing them publicly. Near the end of my time with VDreamers, she also berated me while streaming for "doing the wrong work". It was always either "her way" or "everyone is mean and out to get her". There was no in-between. That's an abuse of power."

Multiple ex-moderators are disabled. All can attest to Ember rushing them, or disregarding their illnesses to work for the team. Moderators were constantly rushed into making decisions, pressured, or otherwise badgered by leveraging friendships to support her decisions for the group.

Multiple moderators can attest to being manipulated into staying for the sake of the group. Ember could not 'do the work alone', as alluded to in a prior section. At least 4 previous moderators were asked to stay, despite trying to leave. When a moderator would try to leave, Ember would start with their poor behavior. Below are screenshots from a moderator, as well as a testimony from a separate moderator of this behavior.

Summary:

Embertail is a serial cheater, with at very least 2 people being involved.

Embertail has admitted previously that she was disallowed to have non-romantic sexual relationships with people she was not dating or planning on dating, but continued to interact with multiple larger creators and smaller ones inappropriately with no intention of dating.

There are at least 7 people who she has been inappropriate with, as the leader of the team - which is an inherent power imbalance. Some of which did not view nor wish to interact with Ember in that way.

The people that Ember manipulates romantically have mostly been larger content creators and/or artists. They have all felt used for her gain, specifically growing as a VTuber.

She has pushed boundaries and disregarded people's disability, illness, or personal circumstances to have them work on or for VDreamers and in general.

When someone would disagree with how Ember was running the group, Ember would take it to heart and begin being manipulative.

Ember would mistreat the people who were in VDreamers, often pressuring them into doing things they did not want to do, or rushing them.

Ember lied to VDreamers that they were joining a fun group and slowly moved towards running similarly to an agency. She did not announce this until the very end.

Both the contracts and Ember's announcement show that she wanted to profit off of the VDreamers work, and were planning on doing so for a long time. Ember had made this decision before quitting her job in October.

A lot of Ember's poor behavior boils down to wanting to grow as a content creator, and bank off of other's talents and success.

Addendum : 6/25/25

Clearing some things up in Embertail's document and providing more context.

“ Making up weird lies “

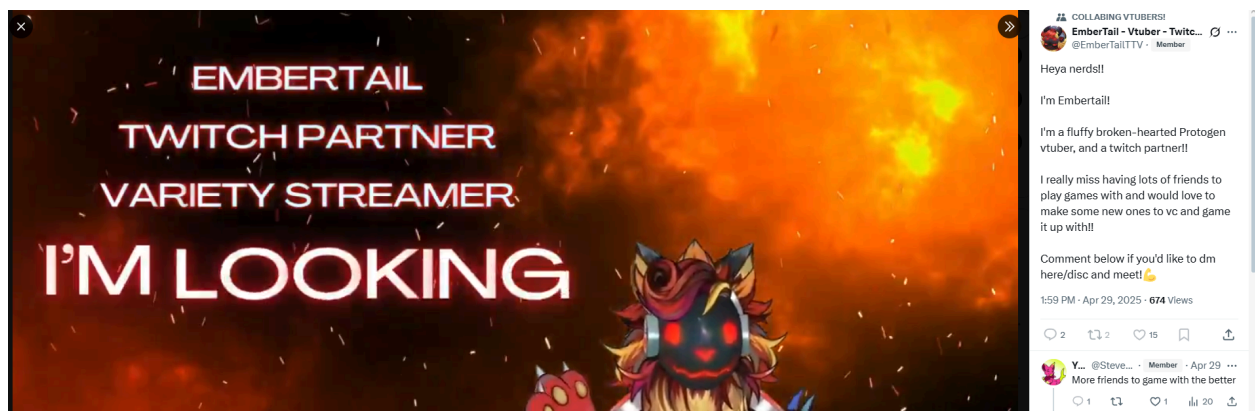

- In Embertail's document, she says there is an explanation for the “broken-hearted protogen”. However, this post was made shortly after she was blocked by Ex-partner, mod, and artist. This wasn't a weird lie, but a speculation - as stated in the document itself, and in Ember's retelling. The timing is odd but is purely speculative.

Embertail in the time after being blocked by Ex has rebranded as a 'heartbroken protogen', possibly in reference to the fact that they had blocked Ember after she pushed and disregarded their boundaries.

I dated a girl for a short time while my wife and I were separated early on in our relationship, who was a furry artist. She wanted to make a sona for me, thought i'd make a cute protogen, so she started working on it. We had a fight, broke up, and I ended up back with my wife later on, but she still wanted to finish designing my sona, so she slapped on the broken heart design because (obviously she was sad lol) and i just kinda.. Kept it/went with it. Had absolutely nothing to do with any kind of “pushing and disregarding boundaries”

Just wanted to footnote that.

Making shit up and lying about the weirdest stuff... Weirdos.

“ The cheating was planned for over a month to make me look bad. “

Out of nowhere, she slides into my DM's doing a check up on me. Told her I had been doing pretty bad. My wife and I have had a long, hard past but we have been working hard to make things work. [redacted] knew about alot of my issues with my wife (since, you know, we dated, and we talked....)

She pulled my strings, knowing exactly the things to say when I was already emotionally vulnerable from marital issues to get me to ERP with her, specifically so she could post the screenshots in their google doc. The sexting happend with [redacted] and got added to their google doc within days yet I was told over a VC from someone (who wants to remain anonymous) that the google doc had supposedly been being worked on for months prior.. Yet within a couple days this supposedly unrelated person ERPs with me, then it shows up in this google doc?

Sure seems strange/set up to me.

3. Cheated on my wife with an ex who knew my emotional state was poor and said all the things she knew id be receptive to, to get me to do wrong and hurt my wife just so they could include it in their google doc (which yes was wrong of me but me and my wife are working on it together and going to therapy together)

- Embertail claims that the document was in the works for over a month, but it was made and posted within 24 hours from its inception. The mistress, whom we will not name out of respect, was contacted and asked within those 24 hours. This was not a plot to tear Embertail down as she claims.

Document details ×

Location —

Owner CrystalStormGV

Modified 9:25 PM by me

Created Apr 29, 2025

RelariaStorm ✨✂️
@RelariaStormvt

This is a warning for anyone who wants to/is currently interacting with Embertail. They are a serial cheater, manipulator, and overall use people to progress their VTubing career. The document explains further.

12:05 PM · Apr 30, 2025 · 14.8K Views

19

48

213

90

RelariaStorm 4/29/2025 6:26 PM

got it

if anything, the doc is basically finished pending details of their identity for their safety and well being.

Ex partner, former mod + former VDreamers founder and artist:

"Ember and I met by chance, and not long after that he expressed his emotions about how he was betrayed by his former Vtuber Group/Stream Team the VCutiez. Not having the full story, I did my best to be supportive and encouraging to my new friend -- even offering to help as much as I could with him wanting to start a new group called the VDreamers.

Our conversations were pretty normal until I mentioned that I was in an open relationship and was okay with poly relationships. When he learned that, he started showing interest. He invited me to try out dating him and his wife with his desire to be that we would all be exclusive and it would lead to us all living together at his place. I made my boundary clear that I would not leave my other partners until I knew that we would all vibe like that and that it would take time for us to get to the level where I would consider moving.

▶ April 30, 12:01PM

• CrystalStormGV

▶ April 30, 10:46AM

▶ April 30, 9:03AM

• CrystalStormGV

▶ April 30, 8:19AM

• CrystalStormGV

▶ April 29, 9:46 PM

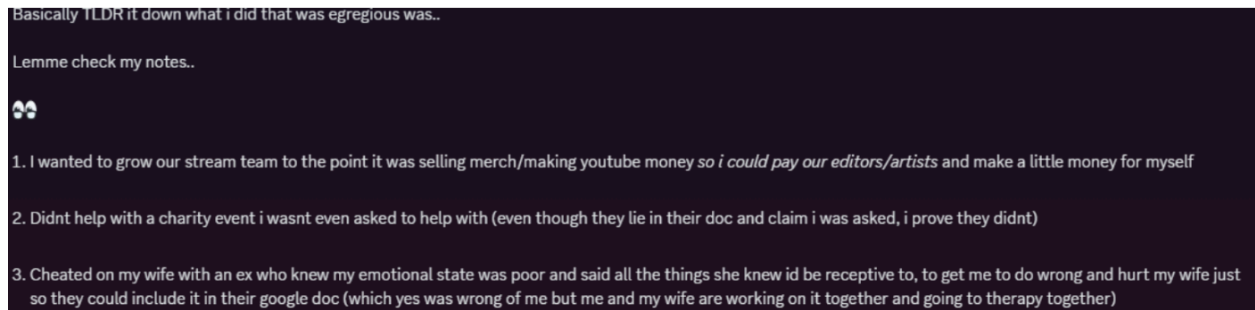

▶ April 29, 9:34 PM

For context - this is the version history of the google document. This is the very first instance of cheating being added - which was only the day after the document was formed and hours prior to posting. Those who formed the document were wholly unaware until the 29th and 30th.

There's sufficient evidence that the document was made April 29th, 2025 and published April 30th, 2025 - including everyone involved learning of the cheating that happened. There's NO evidence for Embertail's claim of the mistress seeking her out to make a google doc.

Leaking DMs unconsensually

- In Embertail's document, several people's private DMs are shown uncensored. A majority of which had NOT agreed to being in the document nor were made aware of its existence until posting.

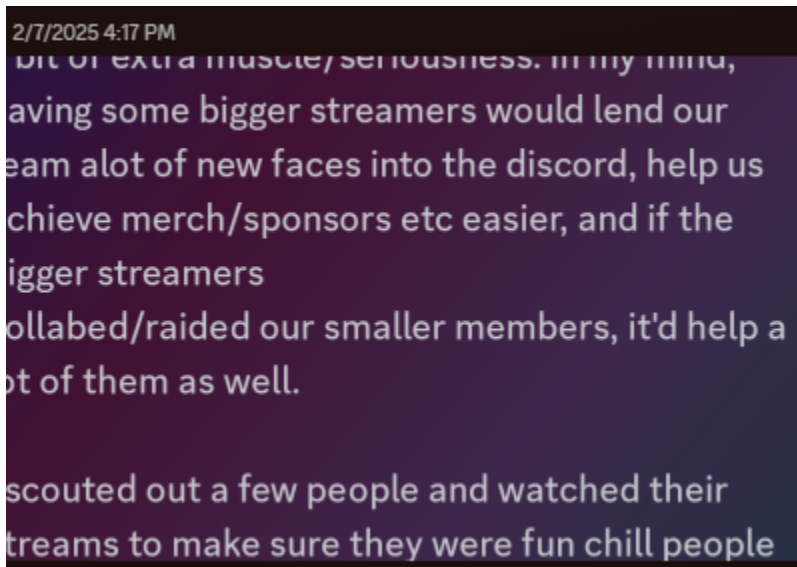

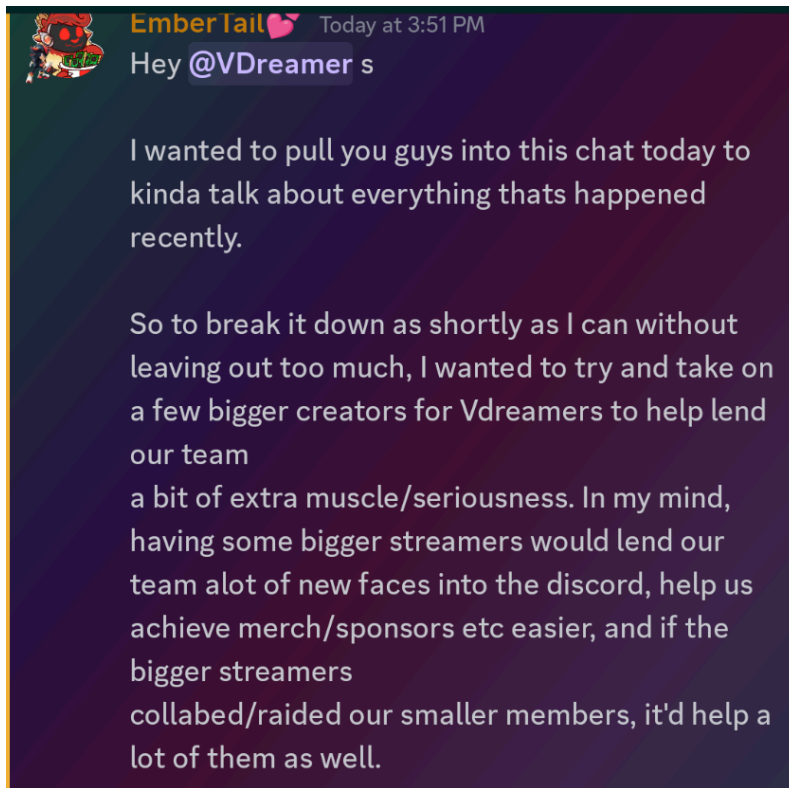

Addressing Embertail's TLDRs

“ I wanted to grow our team to the point it was selling merch/making youtube money so I could pay our editors/artists and make a little money for myself “

This was addressed in our document. The issue stemmed from the fact that she had made this decision without informing the 40+ members, admins, moderators, artists, and editors beforehand. Embertail claimed she was moving towards an agency direction in December or January - but, again, did not inform members. This was a decision made at sole discretion, and not announced until February.

The announcement seen in their document was made February 7th.

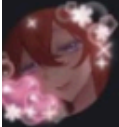

All members, up until that point, had assumed VDreamers was not going to be run like an agency - again, addressed in General Member mistreatment. No one who was on the team had agreed to these conditions, leading to the falling out and inevitable end of VDreamers.

“ I didn’t help with a charity event I wasn’t asked to help with (I was not asked to help and I proved so) “

She proved the opposite in her document. There are minimal screenshots for this, so feel free to take it with a grain of salt.

Also! I started doing some research for the charity event pupster was thinking about for the holidays. I'm getting together a spreadsheet with all the info for charities

 EmberTail 💕💕 fluffy 10/21/2024 2:00 PM
ill be honest ive missed some stuff in the server, whats going on? whatre we doing?

 ! Lunarii 🐰☕ 10/21/2024 2:01 PM
So it's in collab talk, but pupster wanted to do a holiday event and i mentioned it would be nice to do something charity focused! so I'm getting together charities for us to review

Charity	Target Demographics	Website	Applicable Location	How to Donate	Charity Rating	Contact
Make a Wish Foundation	Critically ill children	https://www.wish.org	International	Totally	97%	ask@wishfoundation.org
Direct Relief	Multi-focus	https://www.directrelief.org	International		100%	https://www.directrelief.org/get-involved/donating

So far I've gathered the data for 2, so we can pick depending on which one fits us best

 EmberTail 💕💕 fluffy 10/21/2024 2:02 PM
Never heard of direct relief but i feel like everyone's heard about make a wish that one might not be too bad to do idk

 ! Lunarii 🐰☕ 10/21/2024 2:02 PM
yeah I'm just drafting a list

The charity event planning began months in advance - around October.

The server had been pinged multiple times for help from members - Embertail included. This is stated again by Lunarii, that all members were pinged.

Embertail frequently said she did not check many channels. Yes, Embertail was also asked directly - she was asked on December 5th.

Hope For The Holidays happened on December 16th, Embertail acknowledges that help was asked for December 5th and shows screenshots of it.

Embertail here is seen saying “ Sorry I didn’t realize you needed help, I only read moderator chat and the general chat. “

EmberTail💖💖 fluff 12/05/2024 11:35 PM

shit i'm sorry bean, i didnt realize you needed help with it i thought you guys had it all under wraps, usually i just let people kinda do their little projects how they want (like how im letting them all freely hash out the video game thing among themselves) i just didnt know you needed help with it 🤔

I have a bad habit of not honestly going and reading thoroughly through alot of the chats, i pretty much exclusively read mod chat and the general chat and thats pretty much it 🤖 if you do need help with projects like this youre prolly better off poking me directly in dms so i can lock in on it and help more im so sorry

!Lunarii 🐰☕ 12/05/2024 11:37 PM

I get that

But we're supposed to be a team, and like. I feel like the group won't get to move forward unless other people step up

Cuz I can't do this regularly

EmberTail💖💖 fluff 12/05/2024 11:42 PM

idk we may need to see about getting 1-2 more mods to help shoulder some stuff like that for events

!Lunarii 🐰☕ 12/05/2024 11:43 PM

I'm going to be brutally honest, Ember

There is no guarantee I'll be here this time next year. I literally cannot do this again

!Lunarii 🐰☕ 12/05/2024 11:47 PM

I just know we need help

The change we need for this group comes from the top, so the more they see us invested the more the general members will be willing to join in

EmberTail 💖💖 🐾 fluffy 12/05/2024 11:54 PM

I get you, well like i said i also need to be notified if help is needed because we trust individual members to run their own collabs and events, so i kinda was naturally extending that to this other stuff too thinking yall had it figured out and good on your own, so if theres anything you need me to do or help with, just boop me and ill do what i can goober

This also proves that Embertail had been asked for help, and knew there was a solid 11 days prior to the event, but declined to step up.

When it's brought up that there were multiple pings, Ember said that it happened on her birthday and there was nothing she could do about it.

!Lunarii 🐰☕ 01/02/2025 10:47 PM

I'll be honest

I'm a bit peeved with the members who didn't take part in the charity event

Asking for another one in 2025

Like they knew it was happening, there were regular pings, they just didn't take part

EmberTail 💖💖 🐾 fluffy 01/02/2025 10:47 PM

I know and im sorry, i wanted to join but it happend on my birthday so i was kinda.. not around to join

Again, Embertail had known just under two weeks before the event that they needed help with more than participation - they asked for help with organizing. She declined.

Essentially: She was asked for help multiple times via server pings, then again in DMs 11 days before the event - and still never helped.

“ Yes, I cheated on my wife but - it’s because they wanted it included in the Google Doc“

Their cheating started happening on April 14th - weeks before the Google Doc’s making. Again, this was proven prior - this document’s inception was on the 29th of April. This was addressed earlier. The cheating happened for two days.