

Title: Bet on yourself.

Look deep within the core of your soul.

Do you see an empty shell of a man?

Or A raging fire waiting to remove any obstacle in its way.

I know what I see.

When the time comes, you don't genuinely believe you can do it.

YOU don't believe YOU can get strong.

YOU don't believe YOU can get rich.

You don't BELIEVE.

We are not so different.

The only difference between us is that I put myself through the burning fires in hell, and you did not.

If someone were to go through life without any discomfort or pain, they will not be somebody worth being.

Pain and suffering is what makes you GREAT.

And when you are great, you have no doubt in your capabilities to accomplish tasks.

You bet ALL IN on yourself.

Seek the difficult things in life.

Do not search for happiness.

Because it is destructive.

Look for the pain, and hard work.

Then, and only then, you will succeed.

Randall.
