Best Sanborn Memory:

Having dance parties in the bathroom throughout the years with friends.

Plans After High School:

My five year plan is to take one year off of school to just work and travel a bit. I need to save up money to be able to go to college. So save up then apply and hopefully get in and start working on becoming a radiology technician. My goal upon the third year is to hopefully have the money to move out and have a little place of my own. I look forward to building upon my education to the max. Between my 1-5 years I will have knowledge upon keeping myself properly taken care of in the cooking sense. I did a two year culinary arts program which has given me more in depth ideas and critical thinking about food and how to go about it. All the skills I learned there I intend to apply those to my future self. I can't wait to build my career and have a family one day.
