Directions: You are an adventurer looking to climb one of the world's highest peaks. You need to decide which mountain you'd like to climb and what expedition company will make that happen. Assuming you have a budget of $50,000, write the dollar amount (of the three choices provided!) you'd be willing to pay of that $50,000 to the expedition company presented to you. You may pay more than one company the full price! Consider each presentation in isolation of the others.
