

Grade Level: Second
Subject: Writing

Standard	Indicators for a -	Indicators for a ✓	Indicators for a +
Writing reflects the structure and characteristics of a particular genre	Below benchmark level for on-demand assessed on Rubric for (Genre) Writing [<28]	On benchmark level for on-demand assessed on Rubric for (Genre) Writing [28-33]	Above benchmark level for on-demand assessed on Rubric for (Genre) Writing [34+]
With guidance and support from adults and peers, strengthens writing by planning, revising, editing	During writing workshop, the student needs: • Frequent support with generating ideas • Explicit prompting to identify areas to revise or edit • Reminders to reference anchor charts and other tools and isn't able to utilize them effectively	During writing workshop, there is evidence of: • Planning a writing piece before beginning • Intentional changes to their original writing beyond spelling (editing and revising) • Use of anchor chart tools and checklists	During writing workshop, there is evidence of: • Independently planning a writing piece before beginning, with an understanding of audience • Intentional changes to their writing using mentor texts (revising) • Use of anchor chart tools and checklists • Self-evaluation and goal-setting
Demonstrates command of the conventions of writing: punctuation, capitalization, grammar and spelling	Below benchmark level for "Language Conventions" section of on-demand (Spelling and Punctuation) and Writing in folder shows: • Known chunks and vowels used to spell words • Word wall words spelled correctly • Capital letters for names and to start sentences • Punctuation to end sentences	On benchmark level for "Language Conventions" section of on-demand (Spelling and Punctuation) and Writing in folder shows: • Taught spelling patterns in words • Word wall words spelled correctly and used to spell harder words (i.e. and in handstand) • Quotation marks when characters are talking • Appropriate use of apostrophes	Above benchmark level for "Language Conventions" section of on-demand (Spelling and Punctuation) and Writing in folder shows: • Spelling corrections without prompting • Properly punctuated dialogue • Language use that encourages the reader to change their voice and speed when reading