

Reference Information for CHDV C125 Course

While I have provided a References list for each lecture, I wanted to also provide an all-inclusive reference list for all of the References I have included in the course. This way you have the bibliographical information you need to include in-text citations and references for your original discussion posts and assignments.

A couple of notes - the letter after the year of publication (e.g., 2007a) is important since it denotes the different resources, so be sure to include it in your in-text citations and your References lists.
