

HGC: Mr X is Tired of Attire

(From the pen of Travis X)

The last time I was quoted in TKO magazine was after the Third Tournament Series in the Mediterranean. Now here I am again, reviewing the performance of my ladies' efforts on yet another set of stunning tropical locations. For anyone out of the loop, I'm talking about the Caribbean Islands.

I think this time around I'll break down the Hellfire Girls results by attire choices. As much as I enjoy seeing my fighters in the flesh, they also look damn fine all dressed up. Some perform better than others. Some, in fact, perform so poorly that I'm at the point calling upon Viking Shieldmaiden Lagertha to kick their arses into gear.

Three wore Denim at Jade Mountain (St Lucia)

Rising majestically above the 600 acre beach front resort of Anse Chastanet, Jade Mountain Resort on St. Lucia's south-western Caribbean coastline is a cornucopia of organic architecture celebrating St. Lucia's stunning scenic beauty.

Olivia Munn, eliminated in the first round of the lightweight denim tournament by Brittany Raymond. How did Brittany beat Olivia? Was it by knock out? No. Injury? No. Brittany ended things by pulling open Olivia's legs and making her submit to a leg spread.

I don't get it, Olivia is well versed in having her legs spread. Why submit to Brittany? It's not like Olivia was losing the fight. In fact, she was winning! She should never have succumbed to a Wannabe like Brittany. That's two tournaments in a row that she hasn't made it to the second round.

Debby Ryan, was she actually tryin'? It was one way traffic in her middleweight tournament. No matter how tight her jeans were, she was destroyed by Marina Diamandis. It's embarrassing to even think about. So I won't think about it.

No fairy tale repeat performance for Maisie Williams. She did knock out Seolhyun and then Rosé to advance to the third round of the featherweight tourney (I suppose that proves that she hates Korean pop music). But she was lacklustre against Shanina Shaik and paid the ultimate price.

Maisie was particularly awful in the second round, Shaik landed a few punches and that was enough to knock my fighter out. Damn! She was one of my picks to go all the way.

Intimate Lingerie for Three at Jumby Bay Island (Antigua)

Touch down in Antigua, jump on board a private yacht and breeze across turquoise seas. In two miles and less than ten minutes you are on your 300-acre island home, one of the most desirable, all-inclusive retreats in the Caribbean.

No first round eliminations in this attire category, but Kim Kardashian continued to fail during her lingerie tournaments. She cruised past the so-called KO Queen, Xenia Tchoumitcheva to make it to the second round. Then Kim had her fat ass handed to her by Strikeforces' Ciara. Three minutes of one way traffic where all Kim did was eat punches.

They say you are what you eat, Kim. What does that make you?

Ayumi Hamasaki tumbled in the second round, but there is no shame in losing to Catrinel Menghia. Ayu took some huge hits from Cat but kept going for three rounds. Those last few minutes of round three were hard for me to watch. Catrinel had already opened up Ayu with cuts above her eye and to her chin, then she went to work on trying to rip Ayu's breasts right off her body. Ayumi isn't the curvesist of UCC fighters, but Cat somehow got hold of both her tits and gave it a bloody good shot. When Ayu still refused to submit, Cat finished her with a soccer kick to the head.

It was heartbreaking to watch, like watching England lose the Euro final through penalties (although not unexpected). I actually hope Audrey Allen can kick Caterinel in the head when they fight in New York.

Karen Gillan went one round further than Kim and Ayu, she made it to the third round before being dumped in the waters of Jumby Bay. In the first round she managed to strip Krystal Forscutt, which was quite impressive, considering the elaborate lingerie getup Krystal was wearing. She stomped her way to victory against some old Russian woman from Queens of Pain, but lost her way against an equally old slag called Michelle Marsh.

Talk about adding insult to injury, Ayu survives having her boobs mauled, but Karen couldn't hack it when Michelle got her claws into her titties. Yeow!

Six Evening Gowns at Rosewood Little Dix Bay (British Virgin Islands)

An eco-friendly resort ahead of its time, Rosewood Little Dix Bay has always featured the natural environment at the heart of its design. One of the first Caribbean resorts to promote sustainable luxury, the beachside retreat has welcomed guests to a world of undiluted tropical splendor for over half a century.

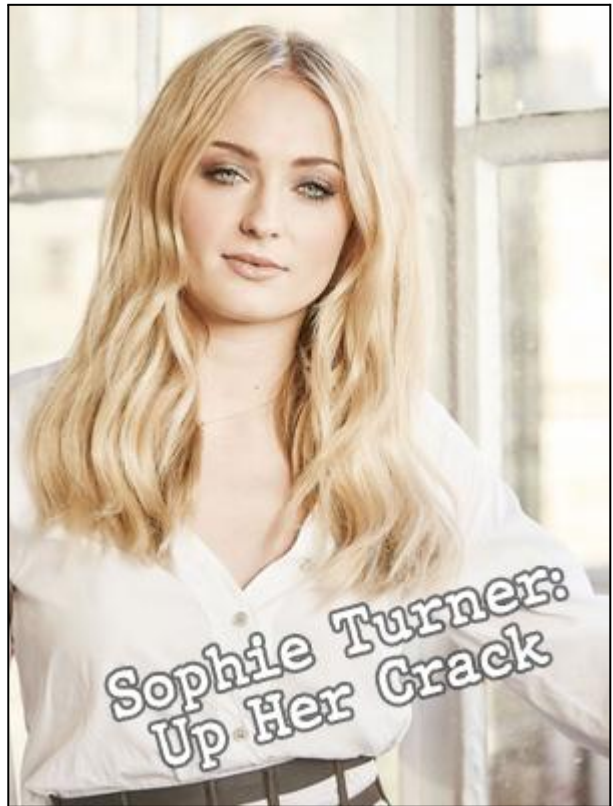

Being best dressed on the red carpet didn't help three of my ladies. First round eliminations suck, even if you're wearing a plunging neckline and a slit up to your crotch.

Scarlett Johansson had an unfortunate tournament. I had high hopes for her, she'd won her last three fights and she did OK in her previous tournament, but a mistake against Amy Adams cost her the match and has put her on the injury list. They two were very evenly matched, but in the third round Scarlett misjudged a kick and Amy caught her with an uppercut.

A deep cut to her forehead will keep Scarlett at home for UCC XIII. It could have been her night in the British Virgin Islands, but alas Amy spoilt her party.

I don't even know what to say about Sophie Turner's tournament effort. When a rookie like Aya Nakamura owns you, I'm just speechless. As the announcer said, "It looks as if Aya Nakamura is out to embarrass her opponent."

I don't know how Aya got her hands inside Sophie's dress to give her a wedgie, but she did and I'm glad the referee ended the fight. I'm at a loss with Sophie right now. Maybe she needs to go commando?

Salma Hayek switched from denim to evening gown after her first two tournaments were a disaster. In the third series she did quite well, but this time. Ugh. Losing to an average cage fighter like Lea Seydoux is really quite shit.

Didn't Salma just beat Heather Kozar, Jennifer Aniston and Olga Kurylenko in her last three fights? Of course she did. But Lea comes along and knocks her out in three minutes? The MMA world is upside down. I'm so confused. How did Salma take a punch to the eye, not seem concerned, want to keep fighting and then fall down out cold? It's like I have always said, "Never trust the French. They all smell like garlic."

Chloe Bennet went one round further, all the way to round two! Congratulations, Chloe.

I shouldn't be too harsh, she was beaten by the eventual winner of the tourney, Jordyn Jones. But something is amiss here. Jordyn is nine fights into her UCC career and she only has one loss. She's a wrecking ball of a welterweight. This smells funny to me. Kylie Jenner, are you up to something? Is Jordyn part cyborg? Is she enhanced in some way? Does she have a microchip implant courtesy of Bill Gates? Maybe I need to get Emily Ratajowski to investigate?

Two Jennifer's are up next. Connelly and Lawrence. Same first names, same tourney attire. Same exit in the third round. Both have very even UCC stats, 16 wins each and similar earnings. Lawrence outranks Connelly at the moment, but those rankings can change easily.

Lawrence tapped out to Zendaya Coleman at the very end of round two. Zendaya was almost flawless and Jennifer was the total opposite. Just like their match at UCC XII in Greece, when Zendaya also won. I hope Jennifer isn't developing a mental block when she fights Zendaya. Surely not.

Connelly allowed herself to be stripped by Heather Kozar. That's absolutely embarrassing. Not only did Jenn show her breasts to the world, but she was beaten by Heather Kozar. A woman who became semi-famous for getting her own tits out. Oh, the irony.

In yet another twist of fate, both Jennifer's were eliminated at the five minute mark of round two. Ohhhh.

Four girls sweat in Workout gear at Belmond Cap Juluca (Anguilla)

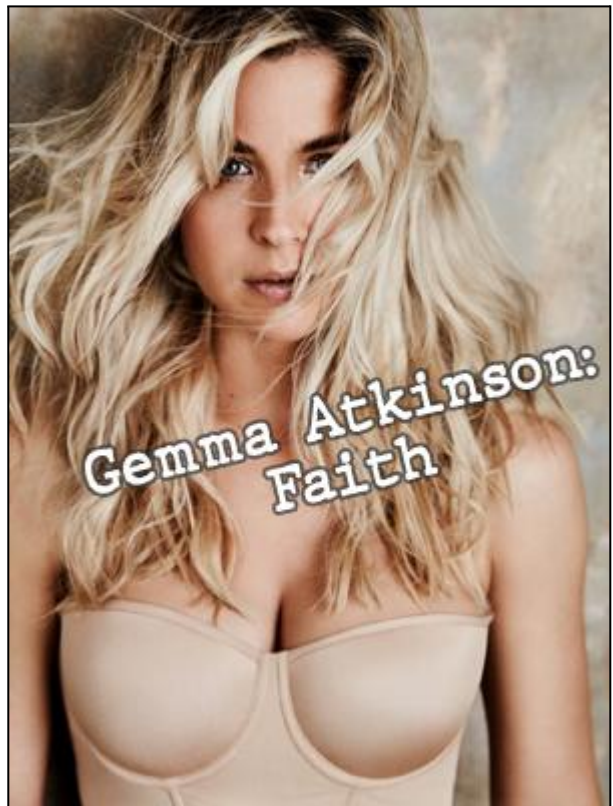

Between turquoise waves and the Caribbean's best beach, Belmond Cap Juluca is a dream come true. Sink your toes into the sand, breathe deep, and anticipate true island serenity.

Ever since the second tournament series where she lost to Chyler Leigh, Gal Gadot has struggled. She just can't win in the cage. Losses at UCC VII, VIII and IX, then beaten in a tournament again by Chyler Leigh. A win at UCC X and then two straight losses against Hellfire Girls at UCC XI and XII, and now a first round exit from the latest tournament. Gal was utterly destroyed by rookie Camille Kostek.

Not just beaten by Camille, when I say utterly destroyed I mean that literally. Gal was beaten to a pulp and hardly lifted a finger to stop it. I'm on the verge of kicking Gal out of my stable. Her performance sucks like a Dyson V15.

Heavyweight Gemma Atkinson cleanly made it to the second round, but then she was bundled out by Hailee Steinfeld. I'm going to take this as a win for Gemma. Why? Well, in the two previous tournaments she was beaten in round one by Susanna Tirpak. So this is a step in the right direction. Incidentally, Susanna is one scary looking fucker. I would hate to bump into her in a lesbian nightclub.

Get back on track, Gemma. Let's try to make it to the third round next time. I have faith!

This is the fourth UCC tourney series. I bet Ariana Grande wishes it was the second series, because she won that! This time around my little Raccoon loving featherweight could only make it to the second round. Boo!

The crowd loved her, but Sara Jean Underwood was having none of that. In round two Sara Jean kicked little Ariana so hard on the leg she had to quit. Boo! Sara Jean, you are so mean! Next time Ariana will kick your spleen. You'll become a hasbeen!

Kira Kosarin has been on a downward slide this year. A loss to Shailene Woodley at UCC XI and then a loss to Ellie Goulding at UCC XII, I really wanted her to turn it around at this event. She almost did. Kira had solid wins in the first three rounds, but of course in the final she just had to face Shailene again.

I'll give Shailene all the credit for winning this match. She was fast, she was brutal and she knew what she was doing. Those spinning backfists, those kicks to Kira's head, it was a lot for my girl to take.

But Kira knows what's what now. She dished some damage out too, just not quickly enough. Next time Shailene, Kira won't be put down quite so easily.

Mini Dresses worn by four women at Amanera (Dominican Republic)

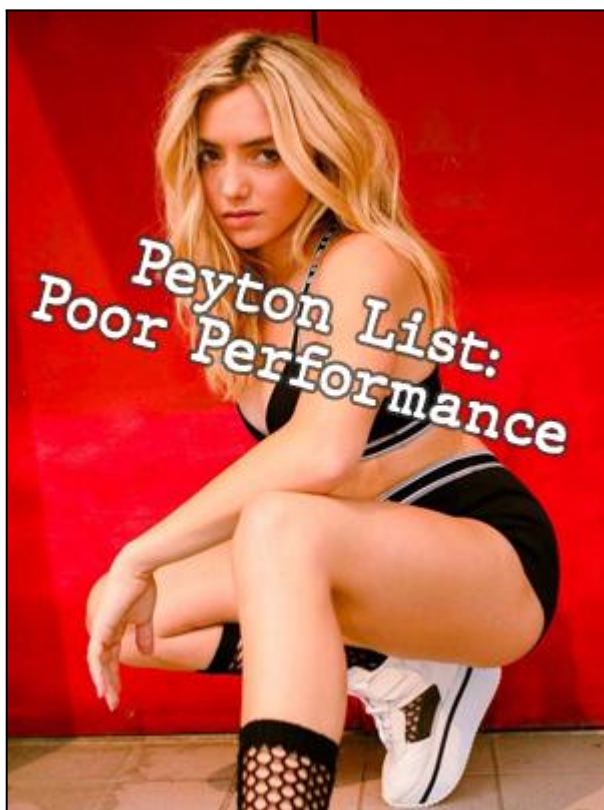

Backed by jungle, fronted by a sweep of Atlantic Ocean, Amanera enjoys a panoramic clifftop perch on the Dominican Republic's pristine north coast. Set above the celebrated golden sands of Playa Grande, it offers unparalleled access to water sports and back-to-nature experiences, infused with the spice and flavour of Dominican life.

How short must a skirt or dress be, before it can be considered mini? Don't ask Peyton List.

I pity poor Peyton. Perfectly pretty and perky, she peaked prior to performing pugilistically in paradise. Her position has plummeted. Can she perk up and persevere? Perhaps.

Peyton was truly beaten by Sara Sampaio. Ousted in the first round of the lightweight Mini Dress tournament, which annoys me. I really do believe Peyton should have won. Damn, being a stable owner in the UCC can really be annoying.

I have little pity for Maria Sharapova. She has amazing legs, so I asked her to fight in a mini dress. Then she utterly gets destroyed by Demetria Obilor from the Queens of the Cage stable. What's going on here? Demetria's legs look like the trunks of two giant red wood trees. Maria! Wake up before I send you to the gulag.

This was the worst tournament event for Elizabeth Gillies thus far in her UCC career. She tapped out to Alexis Ren and left the competition in the second round. What the hell happened here? When I sighed Liz she was like a rocket ship to the moon, but in 2021 she's more likely to crash and burn than get into orbit. Where am I going with this metaphor? I don't know. Just...fucking win some cage fights, Liz.

Hold the phone! We have a winner! Kaley Cuoco, bouncing back from a title shot loss at UCC XII, flew through her opponents to claim the middleweight Mini Dress Tournament title! Thank God for you, Kaley.

Let me break this down. First fight, she knocks out Paula Patton with one punch. 45 seconds and it's all over for Patton, go home to Vassago, you loser! Second fight and Margot Robbie bawls her eyes out when Kaley locks in an armbar. All done in less than three minutes and Margot runs home to The Boss, crying her pretty blue eyes out.

Third fight and Evangeline Lilly puts up some opposition, but Kaley is always in control. When the bell rings for round two, my girl kicks Evangeline in the head and knocks her out cold in 30 seconds. Call in an ambulance and evac Evie back to Hayden and her Powerless Girls.

Now it's the fourth and final fight. Kaley squares off against Bar Refaeli. She's beaten her three times before in the UCC, can she do it again? Of course she can! Near the end of the second round, Kaley launches her knee into Bar's face and that's enough to end the fight. How was Bar beaten? She was "totally" beaten. Bar had to run home to Emma Watson with her tail between her legs. Awww. Good fucking job. Kaley, you're a fucking rockstar.

Swimsuits in action for three at Amanyara (Turks and Caicos Islands)

Basking on the secluded shores of an 18,000-acre nature reserve, Amanyara's lush tropical pavilions overlook half a mile of white sand and the turquoise waters of North West Point Marine National Park. It is a retreat for all ages, with restorative wellness retreats and endless possibilities for discovery above and below the waves.

The only tournament attire befitting our Caribbean destination was, of course, the humble swimsuit.

Oh no. Emily Ratajowski. What are you playing at? My levels of disbelief are at an all time high when I look at your match with Hayley Orrantia. You could have won that so easily, but midway through the first round you seem lost. You hesitated and gave away the advantage. You gave Hayley the opening she was looking for and she slammed you with a knee and then punched your lights out. I only have three words for you Emily: What. The. Fuck?

Alexandra Daddario actually surprised me in her heavyweight tournament. Three straight losses at UCC events before the tourney, I had pretty much given up any hope for her making it past the first round. But look at you, Alex!

She TKO'd Rose Bertram, then knocked out Anna Tatangelo and then only just lost to Hanna-Maria Seppälä. I know Hanna-Maria soccer kicked Alex in the head and then stomped on her head for good measure, but up until that point, Alex was still in the fight. Alex might have to get a nose job thanks to Hanna-Maria, but at least she can come home to Hellfire with her head held high.

While I'm on the subject of Hanna-Maria, I'll now offer my congratulations to Raccoon's Finnish superstar on her tournament win. Well done, Hanna-Maria. Well done.

My personal opinion is that Hanna-Maria only won her tournament, because she was inspired by the win of Hellfire's Victoria Justice, winner of the featherweight swimsuit tournament. How could she not be inspired by her lover's dedication to cage fighting in a polka dot bikini?

Victoria brought home another tournament title for Hellfire. She punched and kicked her way to an impressive win against Chrissie Chau, she didn't let the Aries fighter land a single hit on her pristine body.

Then Victoria did the same thing to Hayden's old maid, Kelly Packard. She chose to end this fight with a submission move, but again she didn't take a single hit. Packard couldn't lay even a finger on Victoria's flawless physique.

Things went downhill for Victoria in her third match against World of Fright's Natalie Portman. Just kidding! All Natalie could do was lay one little finger on Victoria's coveted anatomy. One small hint of damage on Victoria as they clinched. My girl's response? A haymaker that almost popped Natalie's head right off her puny body.

In the final round of the event, Victoria allowed Badmouth Barbie Kelli Berglund to get some hits in. Credit where credit is due, Kelli fought well. It's just that Victoria was so much better and she inspired Hanna-Maria to win.

I love it when Hellfire has a winner or two. It makes up for all the girls who sucked.

They better not suck in New York. Let's go to UCC XIII and make it lucky 13 for Mr. X!

PS: Where is Rachel?