

Weekly Highlights: 15/10 - 21/10

Past week was really interesting and full of events.

However, we saw that things aren't always going as schedule: just last week I wrote about how certain listings take place on certain times, while this week Bittrex hasn't listed anything, and Bithumb listed on Thursday instead of Friday :)

15/10

USDT FUD

Week started with BTC exploding due to USDT fud.

As a result, exchanges like Huobi, Okex and Kucoin added new stable coins, such as TUSD, PAX and the new HUSD.

Upcoming coin on Okex: VNT

Okex finally listed a new coin after a long break, and we got the alert 1 day in advance.

Too bad it wasn't listed on any decent exchange...

16/10

ZRX started trading on Coinbase

ZRX on CB was announced last week, but only started trading this Tuesday, which pumped it even higher.

Personally I sold it in a bad timing, after the announcement, so my lesson from here is to hold new CB coins until they are starting to be traded.

17/10

Upcoming coin on Huobi: Nano

This week's biggest point of interest.

Rumors about this listing spread, and we saw several waves in price.

I actually thought it would be listed after a day or two, but now I'm waiting for Monday.

Anyway, I trust this method and I do believe it will be listed on Huobi.

18/10

Upcoming coins on Bithumb

I'm aware that Bithumb alerts require improvement. It seems that some people manage to get this information a bit earlier than everyone else, and I'm working on figuring out how (already got a few ideas I'm exploring).

Upcoming coins on Bitfinex

As usual, we got these alerts a few hours in advance.

This time, however, Ethfinex has tweeted earlier that these coin will be listed on Ethfinex and Bitfinex (usually they only mention themselves), so I wasn't sure if this information was already priced in the coin. But it turned out that listing itself still had an impact, and we had a chance to make some profits from WTC and Credits, as long as you remember to buy the rumors and sell the news :)

BNT on Poloniex

Nothing big, but it seems you can try to catch these listings for up to 5% profit.

19/10

ELF on Upbit

As expected, Upbit listed a new KRW pair on Friday. This time it was ELF, which wasn't listed there before.

2 interesting questions from this listing:

- 1) Does it mean we will see ELF on Bittrex any time soon?
- 2) As brought to my attention from one of our members:

Last month Upbit held a conference with speakers from different crypto projects.

QKC, AELF and TTC Protocol were the only projects there which weren't listed on Upbit. ELF just got listed, are the other 2 next in line?

And to finish with another speculation: we may see Bezant (BZNT) on Bithumb.

In their new website they mention Bithumb as "Working with":

This probably has something to do with the fact that Daesik Kim, the Chief Cryptocurrency Officer of Bezant is also Founder & Former CEO of Bithumb.

But as always, Do Your Own Research.
