Background Check Through HireRight

Emory University's Human Resources conducts background checks for Atlanta Urban Debate League (AUDL) student interns and volunteers. Once the background check is complete, the AUDL staff will receive a notification that your background check either meets or does not meet company standards. We will not be able to see any details from your background check.

Here is the background check process:

- Emory Human Resources (HR) will conduct a criminal background check through HireRight, a third-party vendor.
- You will receive an email from HireRight Customer Support (noreply@hireright.com) asking you to create an account.
- In HireRight, you will complete a form and provide consent to conduct your Background Verification.
- 7-10 days after submitting your consent for a background check in HireRight, you and the Emory HR representative will see the full background check results.
- The Emory HR representative will communicate with the CCE K-12 Engagement designated professional staff member about any found records and discuss whether a found record would permit you to participate in programs serving minors.

Here is a screenshot of the email you will receive from HireRight:

HIRE RIGHT

EMORY UNIVERSITY

We are here to help you get hired.

Let's start your Background Verification now.

Dear Christy,

Emory University has partnered with HireRight to conduct your Background Verification. Please use our online portal to provide your information. Disclosures from Emory University regarding this Background Verification will be provided, and your consent will be required before HireRight can begin processing your Background Verification.

Please make sure to save this email. It contains the link to access the online portal.

Login

Questions about Background Verifications?

You may have questions about how Background Verifications work. To learn more and view many frequently asked questions, please access the page for your region:

Americas
Asia Pacific
Europe, Middle East and Africa

Need assistance? HireRight is happy to help. Please login to your Applicant