Summery:

- Ran with Blizzard, Mac Truck, Syren
 - Team met at Delany's, where the team had milkshakes and bonded. Eventually Canis showed up and the team learned that their Johnson that a car dealer had backed out of a deal with him, and he wanted his cars. Also, to let them know not to back out of a deal with him...with explosives. The cars may have been at the showroom in Bellevue or the warehouse in Auburn.
 - Team decided to scoop out the showfloor first. Originally it was going to be Flatline and Syren, though they quick realized the metal elf man would be real noticeable in a social infiltration. Instead, Syren and Blizzard went in posing as a couple, with Mac pretending to be their body guard. They managed to figure out the cars are at the warehouse, and get the voice of the car dealer. Team calls up Bishada and has him do some hacking.
 - Syren disguised herself as said car dealer, and she broke into the dealer with social infiltration, while Flatline went around the back. The guards were convinced to open some doors, which let Mac and Blizzard in, which led to a fight. The runners mop the floor, arm a bomb, and try to get all the guards out alive...not a single guard was rescued due to a cold aura and guards deciding to be brave heroes.
