

Hello, my name is Emma and I am a former 8th-grade student of Mr. Jones. I am here to tell you about 8th grade Social Studies and give you some tips and tricks. Mr. Jones is a fun but strict teacher. He is willing to make jokes but if you get on his nerves and don't do what he wants you to do then he will be angry. My biggest piece of advice for future students is that you should get your work done in the time you are given and behave.

You don't need much in the way of supplies. The most important thing to have is your chromebook. We use our chromebook everyday for classwork and our textbook. If you prefer paper over chromebook then you will need a folder to keep your papers in. Mr. Jones has paper copies of things a majority of the time.

We study a wide variety of subjects. Our first lesson is early Europe and America. At the end of the year we will go into a government unit where we will elect and vote for our class leaders for 9th grade. In social studies we do lots of projects. The hardest part of social studies in his tests. Another hard part is that Mr. Jones can be confusing so a very important thing is that you listen so things will be less confusing.
