Sorry I have to even speak on this situation.

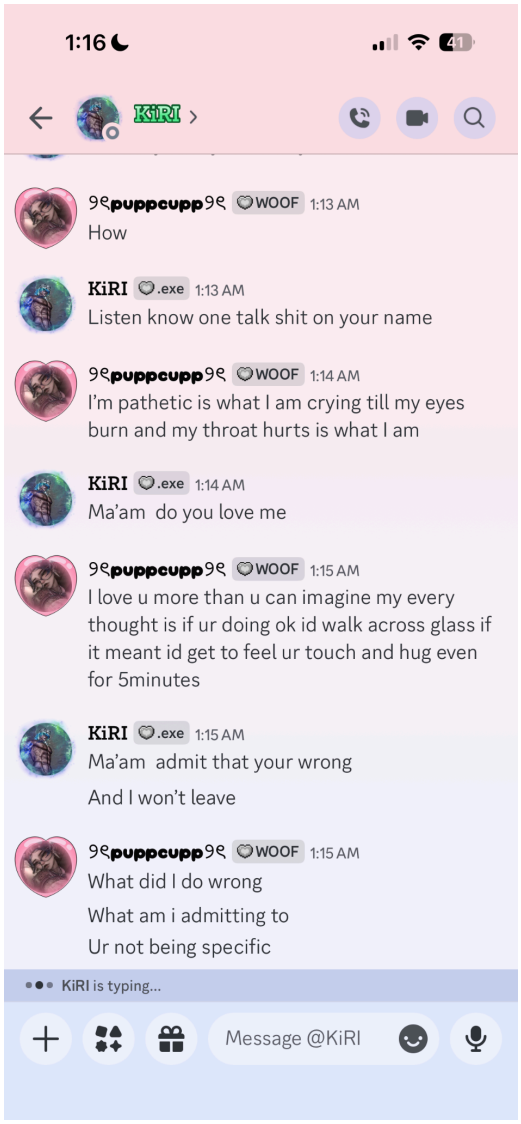

Do not attack or harass anyone mentioned. I do not condone harassment of any type. I don't wish anything negative on anyone, I simply want to finally release my side. Since It never once has been asked or fully announced.

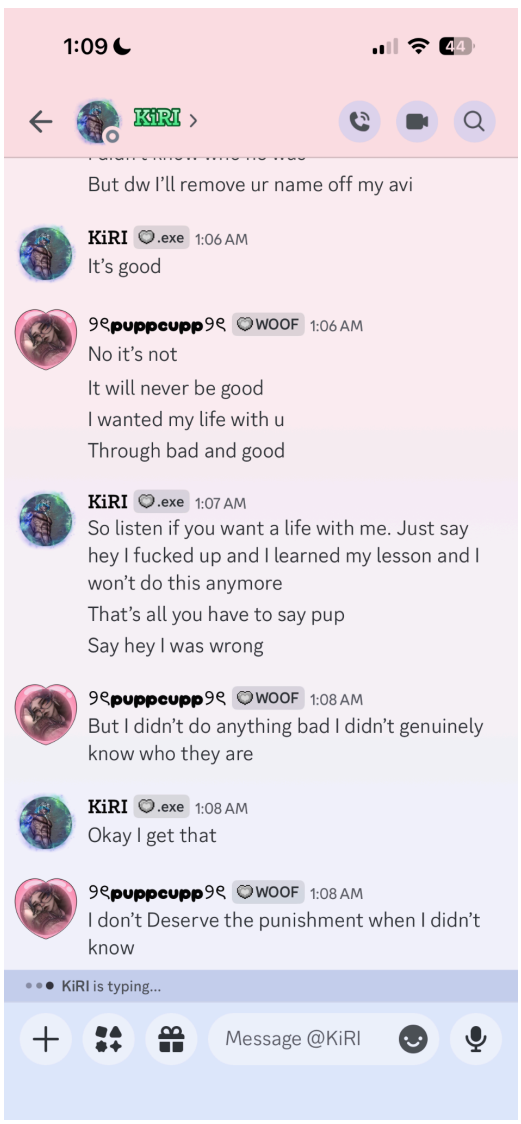

Kiri

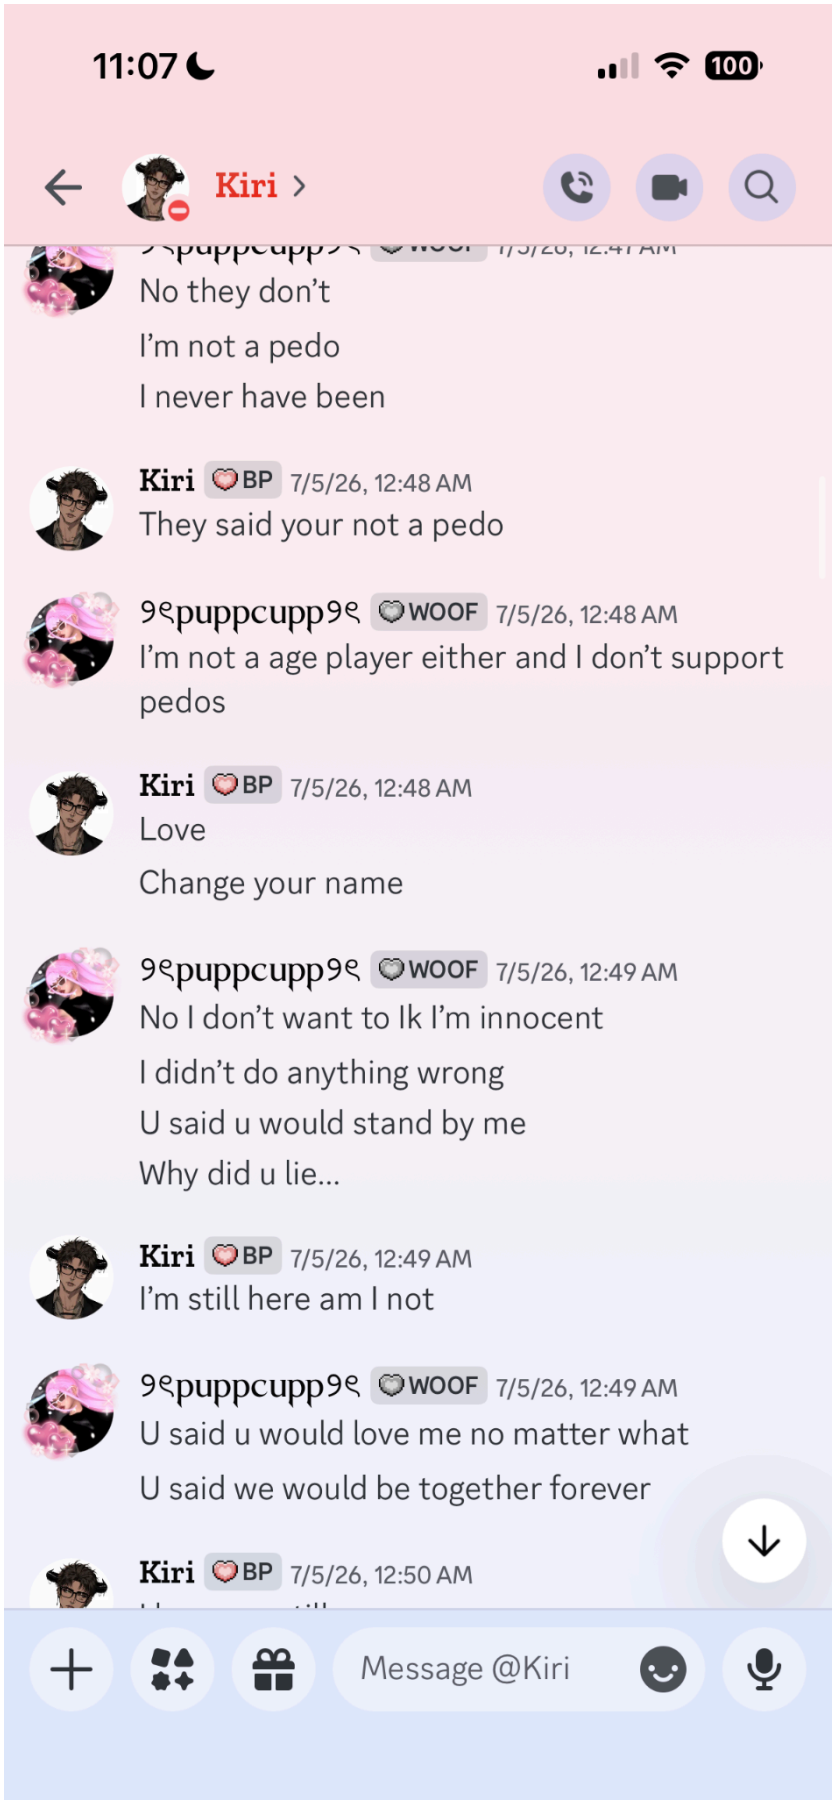

At the end of the day, Kiri broke up with me saying he was gonna work on himself. Then proceeded a few weeks later to date a user named Pupcupp. Based on things I have heard and seen on Instagram. There was proof of her being a minor. When I confronted Kiri I asked him if it was true? He admitted that she did end up being a minor. Mind you he kept in contact with her after seeing the evidence. Which he stated as an excuse that he was "gathering info." or "tryna get her to admit" while actively interacting afterwards. At the end of the day a normal adult would cut the minor off. Let people know they didn't know they were a minor. Yes I agree he had been jail baited. But he should have cut things off instantly and not talk romantical to the Minor Afterwards! I also warned him that digging for information makes him look very bad and that he should have dropped it. Again I don't know any more context other than that.

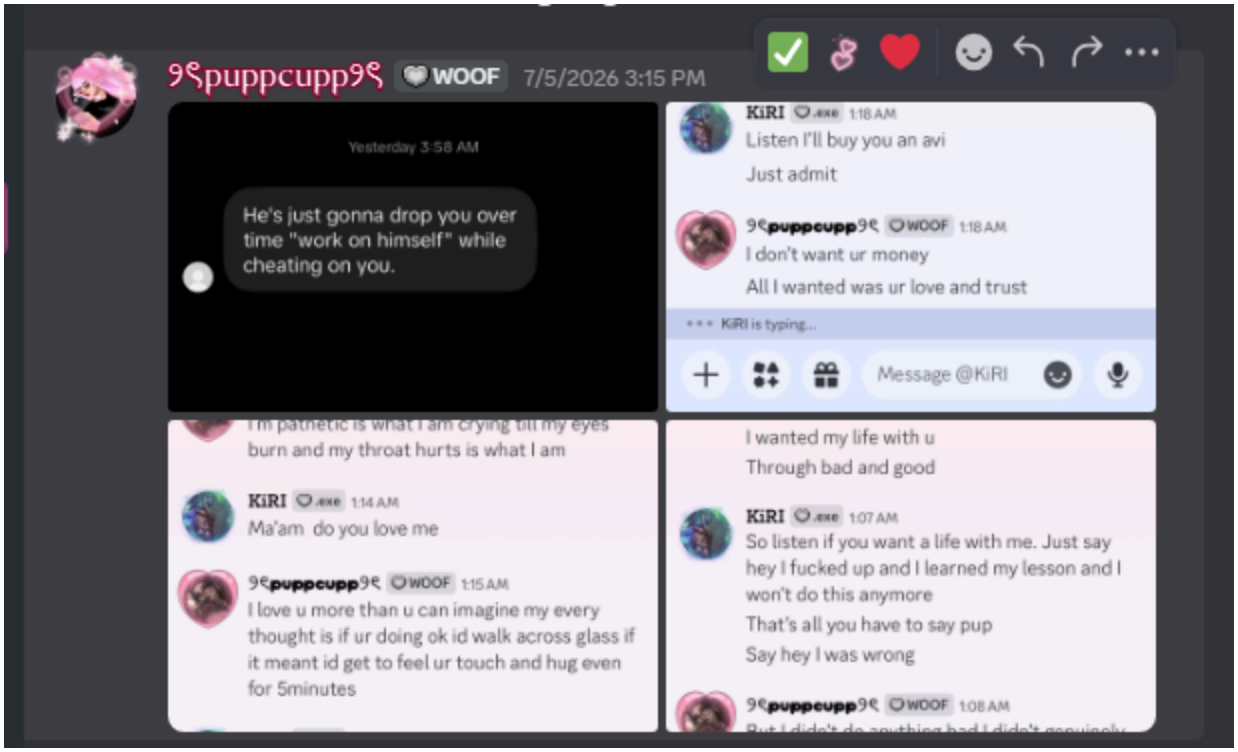

I notified people I cared for at the time because at the end of the day you still kept interacting with a minor, because messing with a minor isn't appropriate. Telling her to change her name also, is heavily suspicious. Like you were tryna hide it.

And then proceed to cry

I was provided the original evidence on the SAME day that the screenshot of him asking her to change her name was happening. (7/5/26)

AGAIN I DON'T KNOW BEHIND THE SCENES, THIS IS COMING FROM EVIDENCE GIVEN AND AN OUTSIDE VIEW!!!!

If my statement on the matter is wrong then I do sincerely apologize, but I have gone off evidence provided to me! I also kept it between a closed knit of people I considered Friends. Never made a big public announcement.

As for personal claims made by Kiri. Stardom has nothing to do with the situation. The group never blacklisted nor took action. It was a minimized situation kept for people to make their own opinions and take their own actions, as a safety concern. As for his "messing around with my ex while we were in a relationship" that never happened. I don't know where those accusations came from. I also was not close to Gil at all during the time of my relationship with Kiri. Most Interactions I had was working on one project he was directing. Where I only interacted with another female content creator with Kiri's consent. Again Kiri seemed to be very pushy. I was a cheater and didn't like my male friends. With no solid evidence. I will leave it as simple as that. Please leave Gil and Stardom outta it. If anyone is to blame for any possible misunderstandings it should be me personally. I had the evidence, so I contacted fellow creator friends. There is nothing more to it.
