Goals for My Reading Life

Name: _____ Period: _____

1. Big Goals
    - How many books (or book equivalents) will I read this marking period?
    - How many pages will I read each week?
2. What I'm Going to Read
    - List the titles of books or magazines I plan on reading this marking period:
    - List one new genre or author I will try this marking period:
    - List one topic I plan on reading more about this marking period:
3. Where, When, and How Often
    - Where will I read during this marking period?
    - When will I read?
    - How long will I reach each day?
    - How many days will I read each week?
4. What reading strategies or reading habits do I want to develop this marking period?

©2020 Inquiry by Design, Inc.

Goals for My Reading Life

Name: _____ Period: _____

End of Marking Period Self-Assessment

1. Which of your marking period goals for your reading life did you meet?
Name the goals you met and respond: Were they easy or challenging to meet? Why?

2. What goals did you not meet?
For each of these write a couple of sentences explaining why you didn't achieve that particular goal.

3. At the end of this marking period, how do you feel about your reading life?

4. Looking back at what you've read this marking period, what is your biggest take-away (for example, an observation, a realization about yourself, an interesting idea from a book, a new favorite author, etc.)?

5. Is there anything you plan to change for the next marking period?

6. Is there anything you would like your teacher to help with or do differently with independent reading in the next marking period?

©2020 Inquiry by Design, Inc.