CVF-V20 AND VCM I CARBON FINANCE WORKSHOP SERIES

LEVERAGING CARBON MARKET ACCESS TO UNLOCK NEW REVENUE

17 April 2026 (Friday) | 9:00 AM - 12:00 PM (ET)
Conference Room 7A, 2000 Pennsylvania Ave.,
NW Washington D.C., United States of America

OVERVIEW

The Voluntary Carbon Markets Integrity Initiative (VCMI) and the Climate Vulnerable Forum and its V20 Finance Ministers (CVF-V20) have partnered to leverage support from carbon markets to advance climate prosperity. The partnership aims to support CVF-V20 members in integrating carbon market access into their Climate Prosperity Plans, helping leverage carbon credits as a source of revenue or debt-free finance towards climate, development (including health and education), and nature priorities.

During the 15th Ministerial Dialogue on 18 October 2025, the CVF-V20 and VCMI launched the upscaling of the Carbon Finance Program, supporting more climate-vulnerable countries in hosting high-integrity carbon projects that deliver tangible climate, nature, and sustainable development benefits.

As part of the Carbon Finance Program, a Carbon Finance Workshop Series was launched to outline the tools, strategies, and institutional capacity needed for CVF-V20 member countries to access high-integrity carbon markets and facilitate practice and knowledge exchange. Two (2) workshops have been previously convened in the margins of Spring and Annual Meetings of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the World Bank Group in Washington DC, United States. The first workshop focused on Mobilizing Carbon Finance in Support of Climate Prosperity, while the second workshop focused on Leveraging Voluntary Carbon Markets and Article 6 Mechanisms.

With over 85% of countries' NDCs now expressing an intention to use international market mechanisms to achieve their climate goals, and 110 bilateral agreements in development across 64 different countries, this third workshop will focus on steps CVF-V20 members are taking to operationalise Article 6. This high-level event will provide an opportunity to showcase the forward-looking initiatives of the CVF-V20 Member countries in leveraging carbon markets in support of national priorities and global climate goals. It will offer a unique platform for convening V20 Finance Ministers, V20 Climate Prosperity Fellows, development partners, and key market actors to foster structured dialogue and strategic collaboration towards unlocking new forms of capital through access to carbon markets.

OBJECTIVES

This two-part session aims to showcase action, facilitate knowledge exchange, and build understanding on technical bottlenecks such as authorisations under Article 6 of the Paris Agreement. It will highlight how carbon market decision-making impacts the achievement of the Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs) and Climate Prosperity Plans (CPPs).

The High-Level Session aims to:

- 1) Showcase private sector and buyer country expectations and key criteria to unlock carbon finance investment opportunities at scale.
- 2) Platform actions by CVF-member countries to create an enabling environment for high-integrity carbon finance.
- 3) Facilitate knowledge exchange on market bottlenecks and key decisions required under Article 6 of the Paris Agreement, such as authorisations.

The Technical Session aims to:

- 4) Present the Carbon Finance Program's three-year strategy.
- 5) Share a global carbon markets update, summarising Article 6 negotiations outcomes and their implications for CVF-V20 members, including the shift from CDM to PACM.

- 6) Examine how international carbon markets, domestic pricing, and innovative finance instruments can support the implementation of NDCs, CPPs, and Long-Term Low Emission Development Strategies (LT-LEDS).
- 7) Facilitate knowledge exchange on market bottlenecks and key decisions required under Article 6 of the Paris Agreement, such as authorisations.

ABOUT THE PARTNERS

The CVF-V20, which is headquartered in Accra, Ghana, is an intergovernmental group of 74 countries across Africa, Asia, the Caribbean, Latin America, the Middle East, and the Pacific. Together, these countries represent 1.7 billion people (20.7% of the world's population), and contribute USD3.93 trillion (3.93% of global GNI) to the global economy. Despite producing only 7.3% of global emissions, these countries are on the frontlines of the climate crisis. For the CVF-V20, the challenge is not only about survival, but also about turning climate vulnerability into climate prosperity.

The Voluntary Carbon Markets Integrity Initiative (VCMI) is a global non-profit committed to mobilizing private sector finance for climate action and sustainable development by scaling high-integrity carbon markets.

VCMI collaborates with stakeholders from civil society, the private sector, Indigenous Peoples, local communities, and governments, to realize the full potential of high-integrity carbon markets. On the demand-side, the VCMI Claims Code of Practice is a rulebook on how companies can make voluntary use of carbon credits as part of credible, science-aligned net-zero decarbonization pathways. It builds trust and confidence in how companies engage with carbon markets, assisting them in making credible climate claims. On the supply-side, VCMI's Access Strategies Program seeks to engage host countries and regions, and provides technical assistance to facilitate participation in carbon markets in ways which maximize the environmental, social, and economic benefits that carbon finance can bring.
