What kind of LASIK is included in my procedure?

Our LASIK or PRK are always high-resolution wavefront-guided Visx iDesign 2.0 treatments so you know you are getting the latest in excimer Laser technology. Our Laser CAN perform “conventional treatments” that DON’T use wavefront guidance but we only use those on patients where that is absolutely the best treatment for their situation (this is usually patients who have previously had cataract surgery.) You can also rest assured that we won’t use a blade to create your LASIK flap. All of our procedures are all LASER, using the Zeiss Visumax 500khz technology to create the flap.
