Sarah H.

Philadelphia, PA

I have a huge fear of going to the dentist and hadn't been in 12 years despite 2 cracked teeth and some mild pain. A month ago I woke up and my jaw was swollen and I had a searing pain in my tooth. I googled emergency dentists and made an appointment that day despite my fear and nerves. And perhaps that pain and swelling was a blessing in disguise because from start to finish, this has been the best dental experience I've ever had. Everyone was so nice and so gentle knowing that I had a phobia and talked me through the whole process. Dr. Aza is amazing and so nice. She knew I was nervous and took the time to check in with me throughout the process so I knew what was happening and what to expect. Everyone at the office is great and showed me such kindness and patience. Went a long way in calming my fears and anxieties. Cannot recommend highly enough.
