Condition of the Environment:

1. Clean and well organized
2. Organized chaos, dust covers the overstacked bookshelves.
3. Disorganized, stacks of books cover the floors and walls in no apparent order.
4. Magical, the store is dimly lit by floating orbs of magic.
5. Dark, Only a few scattered candles cast flickering light on dusty leather spines.
6. Secret, hidden perhaps in a dark alley.

d10 Roll	Cover
1	Missing. The pages are bound with string woven through holes near the spine
2	Stained leather. Some sign of wear
3	Wooden. The title is carved into the spine
4	Paperback.
5	Animal hide. The fur is still on
6	Stone. Iron rings hold it together
7	Cast Iron. Hinges keep it bound
8	Leather with gemstones embedded in it
9	Torn off. It's kept together by a leather belt
10	Tree Bark. Dried vine binds it

d10 Roll	Condition
1	Worn and tattered
2	An ink stain obscures a fair amount of the pages
3	Various water damage around the edges but readable
4	It appears that a good dozen pages have been ripped out

5	Towards the middle there is a section hollowed out. A locket rests in this hiding place
6	A lot of the ink has run through water damage and it is nearly illegible
7	Ancient. The pages crumble as they turn
8	The pages are blank?
9	There are handwritten notes in the margins of the pages
10	Pristine. You can smell the ink drying

d10 Roll	Volumes
1	A standalone volume, the author's only published work.
2	A standalone volume, the author's only surviving work.
3	A standalone volume, written by a prolific but obscure author.
4	A standalone volume, written by a well-known author.
5	The sequel to a book by the same author
6	A part of a series with $1d6 + 2$ books.
7	A single volume of a larger work with $1d12 + 3$ volumes.
8	An edition of a regularly published book with multiple authors.
9	A collection of works by the same author.
10	An anthology of works by several authors.
