

JURNAL INTIM-EXTIM MANGIUREA MARIA

- Extim journal: Monday, today we visited Pinio Seniors, a scientific highschool where we assisted at a presentation on inclusion in Italian highschool, then a teacher offered to visit the city.
- Intim journal: The first day was awesome, i didn't believe I'll go to Italy so soon, i am still processing the fact that i'm really here.
- Extim: Tuesday we visited Colosseum and the same teacher guided us and explained many historical things, we visited Palatine Hill, Forum Romanum which was very incredible places same as Colosseum.
- Intim: The second day and everything is so beautiful and different from my home, i already don't want to leave this place, everything we visited is absolutely magical, although it is tiring a little.
- Extim: Wednesday, leaving early in the morning to visit Vatican, there we went to a museum and saw the art and pictures of Mikelangelo Buonarroti.
- Intim: I'm starting to get used with the program and to enjoy everything I do here because it'll not last long, everyone here is so stylish and the surroundings are very vintage.
- Extim: Thursday we went to the Plinii Seniors highschool again and interacted with a student, like an interview which was very fun. We visited Piazza di Spagna and Church Santa Maria Maggiore after that we participated in a political game.
- Intim: The fourth day, everything seems exhausting but I'm not complaining, it is worth it, the students here are similar to ours, they have common interests like us, not to mention that their highschool is amazing.
- Extim: Friday we got up early so we can visit La Galleria Nazionale after that we visited Museo Carlo Bilotti.
- Intim: The last day, i knew it wouldn't last forever even if I wanted to, but I adored it, every single part of it, I'm still amazed by it and it'll be in my memory a very long time after I leave Italy.

JURNAL INTIM-EXTIM POPA ANA-MARIA

Extim journal: Monday we went to a italian high school where a teacher presented a lecture about inclusion and then a lesson about poetry. After that we went together with the same teacher and he had showed us the city and its beautiful squares.

Intim journal: It was a beautiful day, we walked a lot and we visited many places.

Extim journal: Tuesday we visited the Colosseum and many other museums and in one of those beautiful gardens of the museums we had a break for singing and dancing

Intim journal: We had to dance at Forum Romanum, and we had some people staring at us, but we kinda had no choice. Later we walked through the rain, and it was nice somehow.

Extim journal: Wednesday we visited Vatican and it was a beautiful experience, then we grabbed some McDonald's and went back to the hotel where we slept for a bit, later we went to a restaurant with some very nice teachers, we had a good time and after this we went back to our rooms.

Intim journal: We visited Vatican, and Gods! I've never seen so much art in my entire life, i really liked everything i saw in there.

Extim journal: Thursday we had an activity at the same high school and we talked with some students there. We visited the Piazza Spagna and it was beautiful and later we had an activity named "be a member of the european parliament".

Intim journal: This day was something, we played an interesting game, then we saw some expensive magazines like Bulgari and Gucci, and of course i didn't got anything because it was so expensive.

Extim journal: Friday we visited La Galleria Nazionale and Museo Carlo Bilotti where we've seen some beautiful portraits of cute animals.

Intim journal: The last day in Rome, I was so sad that I have to go back home, but looking back at the entire week, it was the best I Have ever had in my entire existence..

JURNAL INTIM-EXTIM VASILACHE AURELIA

Day 1:

Extim: This morning, I visited a nearby college where we engaged with professors and students. Later, one of the teachers guided us on a tour around Rome before we settled down to enjoy some food.

Intim: It turned out to be a delightful day as we explored many unique places, it was a sunny and beautiful day which we fully embraced.

Day 2:

Extim: I explored the Colosseum today, diving into Roman history. Following that, we visited several churches, the Palatine Hill, and the Forum Romanum. Our day included showcasing some impressive dance moves that garnered applause from onlookers.

Intim: The sun was nowhere to be found, yet the rain persisted. Despite the weather, we snapped countless pictures and danced at the Forum Romanum. Throughout the day, we strolled in the rain, but beyond the downpour, it was a memorable experience. I'm grateful to have been a part of this project.

Day 3:

Extim: The Vatican left me in awe today. Afterward, we grabbed McDonald's for a quick bite before being treated to a meal at a local restaurant by some professors in the afternoon.

Intim: On that day, I encountered images unlike any I had ever seen before in my life; the art of the Vatican left me spellbound. Despite the initial apprehension, the walk wasn't as dreadful as anticipated. The sun blazed overhead, making it hot outside, but fortunately, we didn't have to trek like mad to get to our destinations.

Day 4

Extim: We enjoyed a delightful event at Liceo Scientifico Statale Plinio Seniore where we connected with new students. Later, we explored Piazza Spagna, concluding our day with an insightful European Experience led by a Member of the European Parliament.

Intim: It was a very beautiful day, the visit to the Parliament was a real success. Their food is very good and I will honestly say that I will miss it.

Day 5

Extim: Friday was not so crowded, but not boring either because we visited Galleria Nazionale and Museo Carlo Bilotti.

Intim: Unfortunately, the last day spent here has come and we have to go home. Our time here has been delightful, even extraordinary, but the reality is that we must return home. The people, the teachers, the places all so pleasant.
