You are not permitted to alter or repurpose the illustration without my consent, and my artwork may NOT be reproduced, distributed, resold, relicensed, or used for any purpose without my consent.

◇ I work in my own art style and reserve the right to refuse to emulate another artist's art style, and while references and requests to make things more cartoony or realistic are fine, asking me to "draw like [insertname]" is not.

Different commission types will have differing delivery times; you may request a WIP (Work in Progress) at any time during the commission process.

◇ Where possible, please provide clear references and assets pertaining to your commission request.

◇ During the commission process, I will check in and follow up on the progress of your report, if you do not reply within a week, I will pause your commission work, if after two weeks you do not reply, I will consider your commission forfeit.
