

Current state: Kevin is struggling to start their own business and is feeling alone and in need of that extra push to take them over the line. He may feel overwhelmed and unsure of himself, lacking a support system, and the necessary skills and knowledge to move forward. This can be compounded by fear of failure and lack of confidence.

Dream state: Kevin dreams of starting their own successful business and achieving financial independence. They envision being their own boss and creating something that is meaningful and fulfilling to them. They see themselves as successful entrepreneurs with a thriving business, but they are struggling to take the first step towards making that dream a reality.

Pains and roadblocks: Kevin is facing several challenges that are stopping him from achieving their dream state. They lack a support system, the necessary skills and knowledge, and financing to get his business off the ground. Additionally, he may be struggling with internal obstacles such as fear of failure and lack of confidence. These pains and roadblocks are causing them to feel stuck and unsure of how to move forward.

In conclusion, Kevin's current state is one of struggle and isolation, while his dream state is one of success and fulfillment. However, several pains and roadblocks are stopping him from achieving their dream state. By building a support system, acquiring the necessary skills and knowledge, exploring financing options, and addressing internal obstacles, the individual can overcome these challenges and take the first step towards achieving their dream of starting a successful business.

SL: Creativity? Not a problem here

Long dreaded hours sitting there.... Nothing but a pen and paper trying to chalk up an idea

Physically feeling your brain curate itself as the thoughts whirl through your mind?

Can you really accept this void feeling of desperation much longer?

Desperation to find that one idea better than the rest

The one to retire your parents... your bloodline

You can almost feel the sweet cash braising your palms.... But then you open your eyes

You've wasted enough time...

Enough brain calories....

There aren't many remaining before you dry up

But what if you never had to use them up again?
