1. Pick a box, and write your name. Feel free to use a different ꜰᴏɴᴛ and colour. (If you can't access, just type in the chat)
2. Answer:
   a. If your emotions were an animal making a sound, what would it be?
   b. Write down the topic you've chosen for your practice paragraph, and offer your argument.
   c. At the end of the lesson, respond to someone else's response, in a respectful way. Do you agree or disagree? Why?

Mr. McLean's response to Nicole's argument on GIF: Nicole, I 100 percent agree with your stance, that GIF is pronounced JIFF. Look no further than the word giraffe for evidence that it works. On top of that, a hard G sounds like "gift" which is super confusing.

Jasper Race
  A: a mouse because i'm the only one home and i don't think i've talked for hours.w
  B: Is a hotdog a sandwich?
	Nina Brooks-Hill
	A: a turtle because I have been very slow today with my assignments
	B: Hotdogs are sandwiches
	C: responding to Juliana: I do not agree that pigs are the best animal but they are one of my favourites. They have very cute faces and I love that most of them are fat but pigs are usually very dirty and make annoying sounds.
		Neena
		A dolphin because I feel happy and calm for some reason
		The movie I chose is short circuit.

Marcus a: a frog because i don't care about much and my friends text too much B: spongebob is the best movie C: matthew i respectfully have to disagree	Zahara: A mosquito buzzing because I have a bunch of stuff to do after school and it's kinda annoying	Claire: A: A crow because its restless. B: Favourite Movie.

that lion king is the best movie because spongebob is better than lion king.	B: Cheese pizza is the best pizza C: Responding to Juliana: I think pigs are kinda cute but they are also dirty, they eat practically anything and they become ugly when they grow past being a baby.

Matthew
 A, a goat because i will eat almost anything.
B, Lion KIng is the best movie
C. Marcus spongebob I have to sadly say that spongebob is not the best movie because lion king is better than spongebob.
	Juliana:
	  a. A duck quacking because i am in a good mood today and ducks just feel happy
	  b. Pigs are the best animal

Thomas: a bear sleeping. Paragraph topic: pepperoni is the best pizza of all time.	Hannah: paragraph topic: Hawaiian pizza is the best pizza flavour I feel like a sloth bec I'm really tired today Nicole: A) A pigeon pecking B) Kits should use a linear schedule C) Cheese pizza is not the best pizza. It's just the base for every other better pizza. The options are endless and by stopping at just cheese you close off your world.
Ella: a owl hooting P: the age of adeline is the best movie C:responding to Nina: hot dogs are NOT SANDWICHES they are simply not since sandwiches include two pieces of bread and guess what hot dog dont have that

3. Pick a box, and write your name. Feel free to use a different ꜰꞝꞐꞐ and colour. (If you can't access, just type in the chat)
4. Answer:
   a. If your emotions were a colour and an animal, what would it be?
   b. Answer: On a scale of 1-5 (1 is not persuasive, 5 is very persuasive), how persuasive are you? Offer an example.
   c. Which one do you think is the most powerful? Pathos, Ethos, or Logos. Why?

Mr. McLean	Gwen	Hudson
A purple owl 4 - I'm good with words, but I ultimately don't usually care if people agree with me, so I don't tend to be aggressive. An example would be ordering pizza. I tend to voice my opinions, but let the larger group decide. I think Ethos is most powerful, because I tend to look at people's experience and credentials (there are too many things I don't understand, and need smarter people than me to explain them)	A yellow cheetah A 2 because I don't try to convince people it depends what subject. And if I really care about it. I think logos is most powerful because the advertisement gives you facts and evidence that you need to improve.	A yellow monkey 4- because I can convince people but I let people be entitled to their own opinions. I think Logos is the most powerful because everyone agrees with straight facts.
Olivia A yellow sloth 3 or 3.5 because i usually don't try to persuade people but when i do it works i think	Julian a) A purple whale b) 4 because I tend to see other peoples views and I can change the tone of the conversation depending on how people respond.	Noah☺ a) Green monkey b) 2 because i try but they don't listen to what i say and push me away and then they switch the topic c) I think logos because some people can put pure evidence and facts

	c) Logos is the most powerful in my opinion because it's a direct fact and sometimes directness can change how people feel about a particular product.	that is understandable
Natalie a) A yellow deer b) 3 because i can convince people but also everyone has different opinions and i am pretty agreeable for example if someone wants to watch a movie unless i really don't like it i will watch it instead of arguing. c) I think logos is the most powerful and successful because it gives you the facts that would convince you of whatever the company is persuading you into doing, And then pathos might not be the best strategy because the person might feel forced or scared or guilty when you have no reason to be.	Keira a) Yellow sloth b) 3 because if I want something i will work to get what i want but i also value other peoples opinions. c) I think that logos is the most powerful because it gives you facts and evidence that could persuade customers into buying a product.
Tessa A yellow dog 3 because i can convince people, but only when i care about the subject. I think Pathos because they can touch your emotions and logos is powerful but not everyone is statistic	Brady A green sloth 3 I think logos is the most powerful because it gives you facts and evidence you need

Morgan :)
  a) Pale blue sloth
  b) 2 because I haven't really tried to convince someone of doing something I just go with what they want
  c) All of them would definitely work but I think Pathos is the most powerful because a lot of people are controlled by their emotions. (comment: sometimes people don't believe strait facts and think that people change them and leave out certain points)

Ryan

  1. A blue tiger
  2. 2 because i don't convince people a lot
  3. I think Logos is the most powerful because it will give the advertisement evidence and statistics that helps me understand

Charles A green frog Kate A yellow monkey 3- i can only convince someone of something when i'm passionate about the subject. Pathos-because i think it can guilt someone into buying your product or supporting your company.

   c. rank your top two favorite advertisements! What did you like about them?

Alexa: yellow because it's the long weekend and I finished my math page	Zahara: I feel like today is a pink day- I've been really busy but I get to relax after school AND we get a 4 day weekend ! - I want to learn about how to persuade people not just using AD's but in general. - My 3 favourite Ad's was the one where the cricket powder one , the Mark glasses and the one with the pug in it !!!! they were all amazing though	Mr. McLean - DEEP PURPLE - THERE'S A BIT OF A MELANCHOLY TO TODAY - I WANT TO LEARN MORE ABOUT THE ROLE OF SEXISM AND RACISM IN ADS
Neena: Blue because today is the last day of school and we have a four day long weekend. I want to learn more about	Nina: - Yellow because it has been a fun day ways to make the ad better, but using ways that don't hurt others. My first favorite was the animal food made out of cricket powder because I thought It was really funny, my second favorite was the jazz chips because it made me want chips.	- I want to learn the best and most efficient ways for the layout of the ads, learn more about different persuasive techniques and ways to make the ad stand out - My favourite was jazz chips

Jasper: - Yellow because I had a good sleep and i'm excited for the long weekend. - I want to learn what persuasive techniques work the best. My favourite ones were the jazz chips and the Marcus Glasses
Thomas: green because we have a long weekend coming up soon. 1. Marcusglasses 2. Chew toy 2000	Nicole: Green because I had a good morning My first favourite ad was the jazz chips and the second was the glasses one	Ella:yellow because it's been a good day so far and i made muffins. I made banana muffins (with chocolate chips) I liked the chip one and the glasses one
Marcus: green because i get to have a weekend after today. I want to learn about how not to do a ad My 2 favorite ads were Jazz chips and the dog food one	Thea: Violet because it is a mild and peaceful color, just like my feelings at the moment. I want to learn about the history of persuasive techniques. My favorite one is the Dog food one and my second favorite is the Jazzchips one

Matthew: Blue because it was snowing and there is no school. My 2 favorite ads were the Jazz chips and the dog food one.	Hannah: yellow bec I'm excited for the long weekend My two favourite ads were the jazz chips and dog food they were both entertaining
Ana: yellow because we have a long weekend and I can get well deserved sleep. My two favorite ads where the jazz chips and the dog food Juliana: Blue because it is cold outside and I am excited for the long weekend. I want to learn more about the different types of ads and which ones work best
