Could ask questions about the cons
Need 2 people to nominate to interview:
Renee Robinson

- Pros:
    - Interesting work that she’s done
    - Experience with event planning, etc. many leadership roles on campus
    - Easy to work with, easy to “plug in” to the position
- Cons:
    - No actionable items/ideas
    - Most people have a lot of experience event planning, leadership roles, etc. already
- Potential cut
- Nay unanimous

Ivan Zhang

- Pros:
    - Already in SGA
    - Wants to be in senate in order to better improve the campus and thinks he can do more in senate v. Judiciary
    - Recognizes that it’s harder to connect as upperclassmen, sees a lot of issues (funding)
- Cons:
    - Already in Judiciary, don’t want to set precedence for Judiciary to be stepping stone to senate
- Interview
- Unanimous yay

Miranda Bannister

- Pros:
    - Long and detailed responses, put a lot of thought
    - Very specific and good ideas
    - Experience in finance

        - Would be good in any committee (orgs, activism, etc.)
    - Cons:
        - Does she have the time to commit to SGA?
    - Interview
    - Unanimous yay

Alex Chang

- Pros:
    - Good application, lot of experience, good humor
    - Handles a lot of work very very well
    - Walking genius encyclopedia
    - Lot of good ideas for academic affairs, which is where we sometimes lack (only 2 people)
    - Likes the mentality
- Cons:
    - No explicit mention of SGA position in the past, reach out to constituents answer is a bit generic
    - Difficult to work with, “my way or the highway” ideology
- Interview
- 5 ayes, 1 abstain

Kevin Gianaris

- Pros:
    - Great application
    - Diversity of views, but still willing to engage with community of people that don’t agree with you
    - Diverse clubs
- Cons:
    - Single-issue focused (activism), not well-rounded
    - Not always engaged in group dynamic
- Lean interview, ask about ideas for other areas
- 4 nays, 2 ayes -> no interview

Asma Khan

- Pros:
    - Thorough application
    - Likes perspective that she brings as a transfer student, previous SGA experience
    - Wants to work on committees that need people
- Cons:
    - Submitted late
    - Not many ideas or specifics (might not know since she’s so new)
    - Transfer so she doesn’t know Hopkins much yet, big jump to go to SGA
- 3 nays, 3 ayes -> 4 nays, 2 ayes, no interview

Will be interviewing Ivan, Miranda, and Alex
