FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is a production platform?

Production platform is a series of projects developed for the exhibition, organised during the biennial of design - BIO at Museum of Architecture and Design, Ljubljana, and funded by the Centre for Creativity. These projects are developed according to the theme of the biennial with local design community and international mentors. All projects will be exhibited as part of the biennial exhibition.

Can I apply if I'm not coming from Slovenia or if I'm not Slovene?

Yes. We kindly invite collectives from neighbouring countries or foreigners who live in Slovenia to apply. If you have the ability to travel to Ljubljana by bus or train for our meetings and workshops, we encourage you to apply and join us.

Does BIO cover my travel and accommodation expenses?

BIO does not directly cover your travel and accommodation expenses. Once selected, your representative will receive a fee in multiple installments. It is advised that your collective presents a financial plan for your project, including potential travel and accommodation expenses, to the production platform manager for consideration.

What is the schedule for online and onsite participation?

After a successful application, you will be expected to participate at the BIO28 Kick-off event which will take place in the Museum of Architecture and Design in Ljubljana on 23-25 March 2024. Each collective will establish further dates for their online and on site meetings with their respective mentors. The collective is expected to be present at the opening and closing events of the BIO28 Double Agent exhibition (21 November 2024 - 6 April 2025).

When is the last day to apply to the Open Call?

The last day to apply is 1 March 2024 by 23:59 CET.

When will I know if I'm selected?

We will make an official announcement on 13 March 2024 on the BIO website.

Can I apply if my collective is not registered yet and was formed for the purpose of the Open Call?

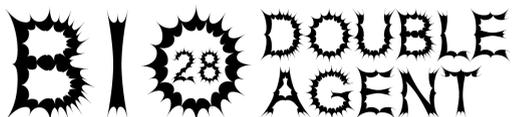

Yes.

Can I apply as an individual?
