

NOTE: Make a copy of this document before you begin responding to the questions.

Teo, You Yenn. This Is What Inequality Looks Like. Ethos Books, 2019.

The book is available from the UWCSEA Dover library and there is a copy in the Service office. The questions below are based on excerpts from the book and are intended as a basis for discussion in Service groups. NOTE: It is advisable to download the pages first and then use Command+R or Command+L to reorient each page for comfortable reading.

I Want My Children Better Than Me (pages 110-121)

1. Read about Suyati and her daughter, Ani, as well as the author (a university professor) and her daughter.
 - a. The author says the WhatsApp parent chat group gave her entry to "a world of intensive parenting". What are some examples of this?
 - b. How does Ani's primary one experience contrast with that of the author's daughter?
2. Read from page 118 (the last paragraph) to page 121. How does the Singapore education system reinforce the inequality between middle class and low-income groups?