Subject line: Why 90% Fail in Dropshipping

Everyone knows that almost everybody who tries dropshipping fails...

But why is that?

Well, hear me out.

See, it's not about luck or your raw IQ; it's about time and position.

You need to get the best position and the time to succeed in dropshipping.

You won't sell any sleds in the summer, right?

But I know it's challenging for new people to find the best position and time in dropshipping.

Stop being that guy who sells sleds in the summer.

Subject Line: Ever Felt Angry at Teens Who Are Richer Than You?

You've probably seen this on social media or even on TV.

A 19-year-old millionaire who got rich from dropshipping.

When you saw this, I guarantee you felt some anger towards it.

And I know why, and I'm totally with you.

You're thinking to yourself, sitting on the sofa after a hard day, how did that kid get rich?

I'm smarter, stronger, better than him.

And you're right, you are smarter and stronger than him.

But you're missing one big factor.

He got the knowledge that you didn't in your younger years.

The world changes fast, and you need to adapt quickly.

If you want to gain the knowledge you're missing, act now.

Subject Line: I'm Starting to Get Dream Notifications at Night

I call this night, the dream come true.

My fear of struggle was gone, and the money that I dreamed of finally came to my bank account.

For the past 3 months, learning and working at a job that I didn't like has come to an end.

Isn't it the best feeling to get notifications from your Shopify account?

That sound in the middle of the night when you make your first sale, cha-ching.

But before your dream, you need a plan.

I had a plan, everybody has a plan.

You need to know what steps to take, and what tasks need to be completed.

To achieve your dream destination.

But making the plan and sticking to it is the hard part.

I know this because I have been there.

I know the struggle and the pain you feel after countless hours spent, and you're still not getting any sales...

Let me tell you, it sucks.

See, anybody can make a plan, but the question is, how good is your plan?

Consider a guy who has 2 years of experience in dropshipping and who can make your plan much better than you with the 2-to-3 videos you saw on YouTube "How to do dropshipping in 2023".

He has experience; he has been through all the shit that you're facing.

He can guide you.

If you ask me, that's an insane advantage.

To have somebody who can guide you through your journey not make beginner mistakes, and save money because you are not burning it on a bad product.

If you want to get guidance in your journey and start getting results.
