

DISGAEA 6 ALTERNATE ENDING POSSIBILITIES

Disgaea 6 which is as of now (july 22th 2023) labeled the worst disgaea game. As for the reasons for being so unfavored, it's due to multiple removed mechanics from Disgaea 5 and other previous Disgaea games, not to mention the questionable addition of an auto battle setting. Though more importantly Disgaea 6 lacks alternate endings and a post game that feels more like it was a DLC that just got tossed into the base game to try and please fans by giving team hour of darkness in base game instead of DLC. it's this post game and story stuff that will be the main focus of this document as i personally believe do to nippon ichi's financial crisis during disgaea 6 development they had to remove ideas for alternate endings because of budget restraints and if disgaea 7 has alternate endings then this proves my point. Now that introductions/explanations are done, let's get onto the possibilities.

Defyers of destiny ending

The story ending of disgaea 6 where zed defeats cerberus and bieko puts cerberus conscience back into the zombie dog and zed and bieko live together happily. Requirements are beat chapter 5 unwavering heart stage expanse of solitude with under 50 ally kills and under 100 dark assembly bills passed by force.

Killing me softly ending

In act 2 chapter 5 demonic chamber Zed is at his limit and about to transform into the ancient majin he once was. Team defiance of destiny tries to calm him down to stop him from destroying everything but melodia brings up how Zed has treated them and that maybe it's best to end Zed here. Zed sheds a tear as he realizes he deserves to be alone for treating his allies so horribly. As Zed starts turning into Zed of destruction, overlord Ivar holds to Zed's promise of killing him if he loses control and the rest of the team takes bieko away from the area as fast as possible so she doesn't see Zed like this. bieko cries "bubby, mister overlord don't" too Zed and Ivar, zed cries before becoming zed of destruction and yells for ivar to kill him. Ivar charges up his strongest attack as zed turns into zed of destruction Ivar wastes no time and kills zed in one blow as Ivar whispers to himself "i'm sorry bieko, you have every right to hate me". Zed of destruction dies forever and Cerberus plan fails. In post credits Ivar asks melodia how is bieko holding up, melodia replies saying “she says she’ll never forget what you’ve done and she’ll never forgive you” hinting that bieko may want revenge on Ivar. Requirements for this ending is having 50 or more ally kills by chapter 5 demonic chambers.

Assembly of destruction ending

In chapter 10 dawn of rebirth zed has to finish off bieko to stop her suffering. Zed finishes off bieko by striking down as much lightning as he can onto the god of destruction. So much lightning that zed is completely drained and dies to be reincarnated again. As zed is done telling the story to Ivar, Ivar ask zed “what overlord would turn bieko into a god of destruction”. Zed looks down silent as Ivar asks him the same question. Zed lashes out yelling “it was you!”. Ivar confused tries to tell zed it wasn’t him who did such a thing to bieko. Zed, enraged, approaches Ivar with killing intent. Zed's allies except Cerberus try to calm Zed down saying Ivar deserves to be executed but not like this. As Ivar tries to call for help to defend him he realizes zed defeated all his most loyal senators in the dark assembly. Zed starts protruding lightning from his body as a thunderstorm clouds all of the netherworld. Zed whispers to himself “destruction... i’ll destroy everything!”. Zed's majin DNA awakens as he becomes zed of destruction and as he’s about to strike down Ivar he says “i’ll destroy it all” zed strikes down lightning on Ivar that obliterates everyone on that netherworld. In post credits its said that after zed lost bieko forever he gave up on everything and went onto destroy the entire universe as revenge for bieko’s suffering as the god of destruction. Ending requirement is to have 50 ally kills and pass 100 bills in dark assembly by force by chapter 10 dawn of rebirth.

Destruction of love ending

In act 2 chapter 4 bell’s blessing After zed sees cerberus in the past he immediately plans to kill him for everything he’s done despite bieko wishing for zed not to and zed commences battle with Misual (cerberus) where after defeating him the other gods of destruction spawn and kill Relieza after zed sees Misuals despair as he watches the one he loves the most die again. He gets angry at Zed and tells him about his majin DNA and says “you're forever that majin even in this zombie body. All you can do is destroy”. Zed realizes what he’s done and tries to reach out to bieko as she hides behind melodia and Ivar. Zed, horrified by the fact that bieko was scared of him, super reincarnates somewhere else in hope to become the kind hearted zombie he once was. Zed was never seen again and Bieko was adopted by the rest of team Defiance of destiny. Bieko hopes that one day zed will come back as the kind hearted person he once was. Ending requirements reach chapter 4 bell's blessing with 50 or more ally kills.

Extra endings

Brants death ending

In chapter 1 fissure hill if you lose on the first god of destruction fight zed is too weakened and damaged from battle to jump in the way to sacrifice himself to save the prunny brant who the god of destruction targets and kills Brant. The game over screen shows then you can retry the stage over to get the cannon ending. To be honest, the only reason I have this ending is because it's a common theme for disgaea games to have an ending if you lose to the first boss in the story, ex: Vyers and red magnus.

Win at all cost ending

In act 2 chapter 4 command room If you lose the god of destruction fight Piyori in desperation to win will use the super weapon they stole on the god of destruction but do to the damage she endured fighting it she couldn't aim it properly at the god of destruction and ended up destroying her entire netherworld thus canceling her show and killing everyone except the god of destruction as zed must continue his battle to stop the god of destruction alone. The game over screen shows and you can retry the stage to get the cannon ending.
