

For these exercises you will need the following:

1. A Google Account (this is not simply a gmail account, and it can be set up with any email address as a username). Go to <https://www.google.com/> and create an account if you do not currently have one.
2. Download Google Earth (it is free) <http://www.google.com/earth/index.html>
3. Either Firefox or Google Chrome. Both are free downloads. The programs that we will be using will not work properly on Explorer or Safari and we will not be using them as our browsers for these exercises.
