Subject line: Secret to doing MORE work

Imagine being able to have the amount of time you usually take to finish your work.

Imagine having more time to do the things you love.

Will any of this ever happen if you don't learn to become more efficient?

Would you want to live with regret and wished you could've done more in less time so your life could be more fulfilling?

If you're tired of having no extra time and everything you do is work,

Subject line: I closed my computer and just sat....

I could not tolerate any further.

Tears slowly welled up in my eyes.

I was lonely.

I had no friends.

I had no time.

All I did the entire day was work and work only.

I sighed, slowly drifting off into dreamland before waking up the next day to repeat this cycle.

1 year later....

I am out with my friends and drowning in laughter.

All my work which used to take up my entire day has been completed within a few hours.

I BROKE the cycle
