

My name's Veelo and welcome to my commission guidelines. I hope it answers all of your questions, if not then please ask in private messages. Thank you for reading <3

DISCLAIMER

Me, Veelo, the artist, may change the guidelines/terms and conditions of my art commissions at any time without warning, but the new changes will not apply to previous and pending commissions at the time of the update, only future.

I reserve rights over the commissioned piece throughout the process of creation and thereafter. This means I have the right to upload the piece on social media and share it with others.

All customers will receive an image file of the original artwork. Digital artwork will only come as an image file, not a physical print.

Any artworks created are for personal use only, not commercial. My creations may be used for personal cups, bags, t-shirts, and other products. You may create these products with my art only for personal use. You may not sell anything that includes my work. I am not interested in giving commercial permissions of use.

COMMISSION DETAILS

Commission Form: Digital

Materials Used: Artist 13.3 Pro XXPEN, CLIP STUDIO PAINT

I will draw a max of 4 characters per piece, but please keep in mind, a large amount of characters will take a longer time to draw. All customers receive estimated time by which commission will be done.

I will not draw the following: Pornography, full/a lot of nudity, hateful/political statements, heavily religious art, extreme gore.

Commissions typically take me about 1 week, but the deadline is 2 weeks. If I have still not finished the commission by the 2 weeks guideline, I will offer a second drawing. as an apology for the wait, or if the customer wishes so, then I will refund. I will inform the customer about any potential delays.

PAYMENT

I accept Paypal and BLIK as payment for current commissions. All customers pay half the price as a downpayment before the drawing has been started. And the rest of the price when the drawing has been finished.

If you choose to make any major changes about the commission (amount of characters, style, etc.) after payment, there may be an adjustment of price to fit the value of your commission. You'll be required to pay the difference in order to receive your commission.

REFUNDS AND DECLINES

I hold the right to decline drawing something if I'm not comfortable drawing it. If you happen to send the wrong amount of money, I will refund it and pause the commission process until the correct amount is received. These are normally the only occurrences that I provide refunds. After the commission is done, I do not make refunds.

Small changes to the artwork can be made through the process of creation.

Progress pictures of the commission will be provided throughout the process - this is when small changes can be requested.

Once I start drawing the commission, you thereby agree to these terms.
