

The Demons Hound MC Was Founded in 1976 after the end of the Vietnam War. Military veterans after the war Had no place to go most of them shell shocked from the war or couldn't live in most modern day society's Because of this Biker Clubs started to become on the rise. Harden Warriors with Harley Davidson motorcycles started to appear out of the woodwork. The Demon Hounds were no exception to that fact. When the club was founded they were not criminals just a few like minded individuals with nowhere to go so they stuck together. The mother chapter was created in New York City by way of Brooklyn. There President Azazel "The Devil " Bastion he was a Lieutenant who was dishonorably discharged from service for Hitting a CO. When he landed back in New York city Azazel Had nothing but a few dollars and his old motorcycle he left in his parking garage. Fast forward him and his friends created the club. It was not long before they started getting into the drug game selling Methaqualone during the meth epidemic. Azazel has always been smart so instead of selling meth the same way others did he set up meth labs throughout the city and form them into pills known as Quaaludes this was much easier to move than bricks of meth. Azazel Started to expand as his number grew more members began to join the club and one member in particular Rika Kane showed much promise as a prospect that he was made a full patch member in only about a year (Normally it takes much longer than that). It didn't take long for Rika to grow in the Demon Hounds MC when the plan for expansion was voted on. Rika was the name to be brought into the fold for running the next chapter. The Rest is history

Demon Hounds Hierarchy

The President: is the Chairman of the executive committee and also the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the chapter. All matters between the club and any outside organization, business or other persons are brought to the President for him to take action on. If the President is not available to attend a chapter meeting, the Vice-President shall serve as the Chairman. The President does not make motions or second any motions and he can only vote on actions where he would make a tie vote or break a tie vote. The President acts as a personal representative of the club and is able to judge items that are not in the chapter's rules. He is a liaison between other motorcycle clubs, public relations and law enforcement. He represents the club in any business contracts and promotes the club life among members and family members. (Current President Rika "The Baron" Kane)

Vice President: The Vice-President supervises plans for club events and coordinates the committees. He also relays information between the President and the Members of the chapter. Any questions, comments or concerns of other committee members are brought to the Vice-President's attention. The Vice-President is the second in command underneath the President and he assumes all the duties of the President in his absence.

Founder: The Founder of a motorcycle club is the person or persons that start a particular chapter within the group. As soon as they get their motorcycle, they are considered the Founder, as a chapter creator. If a Founder is active in the chapter they will be considered the President and have the same duties as a President. If there is a Founder and a Co-Founder or two Co-Founders, they will most likely retain the titles of President and Vice-President with their duties respectively. The Founder or Founding Father always has a vote in all officer elections. In the event that a Founder or Co-Founder dies, the principal officers of the executive committee hold a vote for a new President and/or Vice-President. The committee consists of the President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and SGT at Arms with the Road Captain included as a non-voting member that replaces any of the committee as an alternate. (All of the Starting Members)

The Secretary: is responsible for keeping all of the club records, written reports and correspondence between outside organizations. He calls the role at the committee meetings and takes notes on each meeting. He is also responsible to notify any members of special meeting times and dates other than the normally scheduled meetings. The Secretary is in charge of telling any members of an election or appointment if it was made while they were not present at a meeting. He maintains the constitution of the club noting any changes to it and handles all written club correspondence.

Chaplain: The club Chaplain may also be called The Wise One in some chapters. This member oversees all of the spiritual needs of the club. He helps in any way possible when a member is going to jail to be able to protect them. He also conducts any funerals and marriages within a club. The Chaplain in conjunction with the President decides when a Prospect is ready to receive his patch. The Chaplain may be a member of any faith. He may have had training in the area of a Chaplain instead of becoming a clergy member or an ordained minister of faith.

The SGT at Arms: makes certain to uphold all the laws and rules of the club. He ensures that all the committee orders are carried out as quickly as possible and he keeps order at all club events. If he sees any member acting in a way not supported by the Club, he reports it to the committee. The SGT at Arms is in charge to strip patches and colors from members who are removed from the club by retiring, resigning or being impeached or expelled. The SGT at Arms defends and protects the club members and prospects and is directly responsible for their security and safety. He keeps records of data that relates to the club security. If he sees any type of threat or perceived threat to the club in any manner, he will bring it to the attention of the Executive Committee for appropriate actions to be voted on. The SGT at Arms keeps the club's firearms and weapons in safekeeping.

The Enforcer: makes certain that the club laws and rules are followed by all members. He protects all of the patch holders and protects the club's reputation in any type of conflict. The Enforcer assists all members of the club in combat of any sort including any type of weapons or fist fights.

A Member is also called a Patch Member or a Rider. Members have earned their patch after graduating from a Prospect. They have the right to wear the club's colors and attend club meetings. Some clubs simply call them Patches.

Prospect: A Prospect is a person who would like to join the club but still needs to earn his patch. The patch members direct a Prospect to do certain duties that vary and supervise him to make certain they are completed. A prospect may have to engage in illegal activities in order to carry out the requests of the patch Members. A Prospect does not have voting rights, as they are not a member of the Executive Committee. A Prospect may retrieve bikes from police impound lots and guard all the bikes while the club is in a meeting. Prospects try their best to follow all club rules and prove that they are worthy of being a club member and earning a patch. Prospects may be dealt menial tasks and have to endure some level of hazing by the club members. Some clubs allow Prospects to wear the club name on the rear of their cut, or vest, but without the full logo of the club. Prospects are voted in the club by the executive committee and must pledge his loyalty to the club and all the members to receive his patch. He may be referred to as a full patch member or as being patched. (No One Appointed)
