Be sure to cross-reference with Colonnade Connections options.

In our modern tech-driven world, the significance of user experience (UX) cannot be emphasized enough. It encompasses the integration of human insights into the process of designing, researching, and creating solutions.

UX delves into various disciplines, including design, human-computer interaction, product design, user-centered design, and usability.

Each course helps students work towards becoming a professional, creative UX practitioner. Courses blend the creative, technical, and ethical considerations needed to be a professional in the industry. They ensure that graduates are well-rounded, adaptable, and prepared to contribute meaningfully to the UX industry.

BFA or BA?

The BFA is the more encompassing degree, with 79 credit hours. By contrast, the BA is 49 hours—great for double majors!
