

Something sparked within me
A flame ignited in my fragile heart
And before I knew It was burning
Scorching me right from the start

Fluttering, my impulse a naive, prying little Butterfly
Gracefully it gathers the passion I hold deep inside
Come my darling, have our fingers intertwine
Let me taste your lips as we cross the line

If this world can't see that what we have is love
Our flame will grow
Tonight I'm letting go

I wanna hold you in my arms
And heal my open wounds and scars
Please, let me hear you say "No, this isn't wrong"

Take me far away
Save me with your kiss
Bring back those memories I've missed.
I want to captivate everything we have.
Then and now and forevermore.

Hours, minutes, seconds I'm near you
Still, I can't restrain myself.
If this love is real I will wear it on my sleeve and burn in hell.

Wanting turns to longing
Just how much longer, will I make you mine?

This I promise dear, I will love you till' the end of time.
Mind and heart, forgotten for another night.
Feel your skin, so fine as our souls align
Bathe in madness as if time does not exist

An endless bliss
All that I want is this!
My love for you is not a dream
No matter far it may seem
What we had felt tonight never felt so wrong
Yet it felt so right

Touch me once again
You know I will always give in
I don't need anything
Anything but you.
Then and now
And forevermore.

Woken by my tears I watch the rising sun
Feel my fear arise in my tainted heart
"It's alright" you whisper yet I still could see it wasn't true
Have you been crying too?

I wanna hold you in my arms and heal my open wounds and scars
Please, let me hear you say "No, this isn't wrong"
Take me far away.

Save me with your kiss
Bring back those memories I've missed.
I want to captivate everything we have.
Now and forever

Pulling near and far
Connected wherever we are
A magnet drawn to you
This is what we do
It will all pull through

Touch me once again
You know I will always give in
I don't need anything
Anything but you.
Then and now and forevermore