

CASTAWAY!

By Amelia (Enjoy)

I've just landed on a unknown island alongside with my popped air boat. By the looks of it I knew from there that I was lost and stranded on a real scary island! All alone in this beautiful but mysterious island I start to panic, but I then take deep breaths in and out. Without a hassle the first thing I thought of was to explore this crazy island carefully.

After exploring the island start to think about shelter, where am I going to find shelter? I start to think..... Suddenly I remembered when I was exploring the island I found an open space not far from sand! I start to create shelter! I see lot's of fronds lying beside the palm trees. I start to weave the fronds (Giant leaves) without breaking it to create my rooftop. I stop and take deep breaths before I continue to create my shelter. I take my air boat and I laid it down to create my mat/bed. I see more fronds lying around I take it and place it on top of my air boat as a blanket!

"There you go", I say. I have a little break after creating shelter!..... "Uhhhh I'm starving!", I say. I think it's about time to get some food prepared! So I take stroll around the island. "Ouch", I say. I look down and beside me what a CRAB! Hmmm that would make yummy food! So I quickly grabbed the crab and ran out to sea where I washed the crab! As I was washing the crab I took a rock and started to bang on the crab's abdomen in order to kill it. Then I had to make FIRE! So I took two sticks, rubbed it and created fire, it took a very long time but I managed. I threw the crab into the fire to cook. Well it was cooking I decided to make a hook well one that looked like a end of an pencil. So I pick up a medium sized stick and I started to carve the edge. After the crab was cooked I took it out carefully then turned it round too it's hip (the sides of it stomach) and took the sharp edge of my stick and cracked the side to open it up. I then gobbled it all up!

It's about time to make some signal! In order to get off this island I have to create a signal which shows people who fly across that I need help and I am stuck! I start of by writing on the sand using both my feet and some sticks that I found. I tried to make the sign help as big as I can. My feet felt TIRED but I desperately needed help on this harmless but lonely island. I start to gather dark leaves. I put the leaves inside the words that i wrote help. I added the leaves inside the word help so it could stand out to others and whoever sees that sign help will know that I need someone to rescue me!

The next morning I decided I heard something loud burst into my ears! I tried to look up but I could not see probably as the sand blew in my eyes. I look up and was relieved as I saw a bright red helicopter. I used my loudest voice as I yelled for urgent help. The helpers lower down the helicopter. I was speechless. As I hoped into the helicopter the only thing I could think of was having a longgggg shower!

The End!
