

I listen as the melodies fall from your glossy lips,

Seeping into the air in sonorous hums of honeybees

And I listen as the ladybugs crawl across your sunkissed skin,

Dawning our world in pleasant songs filled with whispers of life

-E.I.S