

Erik Sopiqoti

Erik Sopiqoti is a rising senior at UNC Charlotte, studying biology. He is applying to medical school at the end of the summer and currently works in an Alzheimer's research lab. Erik volunteers at a food pantry and a hospital. His parents were born in Albania, but he and his brother were born in the United States, and they both speak Albanian. Erik also has a love for soccer.