Choosing the Right Roofing Contractor and What to Expect

Getting a new roof is a very important improvement on a home. The new roof is an investment and will up the value to your home.

What should you expect when you search for a roofing contractor that will be on your roofing ripping old shingles off and applying new shingles? Not all contractors have the same ethics nor do they have the same policy. Be careful when you choose a roofing company, you will need one that guarantees a nice clean job and gives you a labor warranty. Three key items to look for while you search for a roofing contractor is: the roofers guarantee on garbage and cleaning the area, the roofers warranty on the new roof, and the roofers experience/referrals.

First, let's talk about the roofers guarantee. Roofing contractors might say they clean up after themselves, but that could just mean they clean up their pop can and throw away their lunch garbage. You want to make sure you find in writing that they clean up the nails, excess shingle garbage, and other debris that may have fallen off of your roof while they wreak havoc on your roof. The last thing you want is your baby who just started walking to have a small nail prick through their foot. They probably will regress and never want to walk on grass again.

Second, the roofers warranty on the new roof is an extremely important topic when it comes to choosing a roofing contractor. When you look for a warranty you want to make sure the company backs it up. You want to make sure you know what you are receiving if the service goes bad or something happens. You will want to make sure that you choose a roofing company that states they have at least a labor warranty on the new roof. That would mean if the new roof falls apart before a certain time, the roofing contractors will come back out and do it over for free. Sometimes they will make you pay for material if it's just on labor. Sometimes they will cover it all. It all depends on the roofing contractor.

Last, the roofers experience level and their list of referrals can be extremely important to any smart home owner looking for the best roofing experience they can get. You do not want to get a roofing contractor that says they are super great, but has no referrals. Referrals are great ammunition when it comes to roofing contractors and their competition. Experience for roofers whether they say their workers have 30+ years' experience or the company is over 30 years old. Either or would be a great choice. If they were in business for that long you know they do a great job.
