M.E.O.W HEADQUARTERS

For the One and Only
Caspurr Catacini

Alt Text: Caspurr Catacini in a ¾ view from the thighs up, turning his body towards the viewer from the left, as he grasps his fedora in his right hand and clutches his large weapon case in his left. His braid, scarf and belts billow out behind him dramatically in an unseen breeze, and his tail is curled up behind him also. An opurrative hangs onto the front of the weapons case, looking down at the viewer haughtily. The background is filled with an art nouveau style arch in gold and muted dark green decorated with 4 stars, and with golden flecks scattered across the top and grey fronds brushing up from the sides at the base. At the top of the image it states “M.E.O.W Headquarters” and at the bottom “For the One and Only Caspurr Catacini”.

Cas, I wish you the best of birthdays!

I was stalling the writing of this message because I'm not good with words (and english grammar...). But, if I've learned at least one thing from you, it's that when you want to do something, even if you're not good at it, you should always give it your all and just get on with it.

So, here's my “love confession letter” to you.

Since I got to know you, I've always had the greatest admiration for you. At first, I was just blown away by the extent of your talent. Then I realized that nothing is ever just “talent,” and that you are actually the hardest worker I've ever known.

Therefore, I want to do my best and go out of my comfort zone to repay all the efforts you have made for us so far.

Stay awesome boss!

Alt. Text: Caspurr and three opurratives madly zoom across the image. Caspurr is holding a three tiered cake with pink icing and decorated with small teal cat heads on the bottom tier. The tiers are falling off as he runs, spilling three lit blue candles in the process. Beneath his feet are two other dashing opurratives, the one on the left looking up apprehensively at the cake, and the one on the right narrowly missed by a falling present wrapped in blue paper with a red ribbon. A final opurrative wearing a blue and red striped party hat with a blue puffball falls through the air, just ahead of a similar striped party hat with a red puffball that Caspurr has left behind in his wake.

The background is a swirl of muted purple and red. The illustration is signed "Juice 2024".

To our bossman,

Happy, happy birthday! It's been a short while since you've debuted, but it's been such a fun ride so far. Watching your streams and hanging out with the Oporratives have become a part of my morning routine, and I wouldn't have it any other way.

I send all my good luck over to you! We know you're stressing over uncertainties, but please be assured that we'll be willing to wait! Some things take time, some even more so than others, but we'll be here nonetheless.

Thank you for being one of my creative inspirations through the years. Hard to beat, really; you're one of the greats. You have fueled so many creative drives with your existence alone and that is a badge to wear with pride.

Happy birthday again! Change your diaper, stinky.

Keeping you on your toes,
SUSHI
