

Hey Richard,

Your advice on learning first rather than jumping into trading right away is a bit of nice advice that resonates with your audience.

But your reels aren't getting much engagement, probably because of your hooks and captions.

I went ahead and created a version of the hook and caption that could help you get more engagement and more people to join your Discord.

Hey Richard,

Your advice on learning first rather than jumping into trading right away is a bit of a nice advice for those who lack self control.

But your reels aren't getting much engagement, probably because your hooks lack a bit of specificity and curiosity, and your captions don't include calls to action (CTAs) that drive your audience to comment or DM you.

I went ahead and created a version of the hook and caption that addresses these gaps and that could help you get more engagement and more people to join your Discord.
