

2022 Semester 2 Winners: HOM-grown Stars

HOM Disposition: Managing Impulsivity
Nina Nathifa Binte Mohamed Asri, 1A2	Nina manages her impulsivity to spend her money with prudence. Whenever she sees something that she likes, she will keep calm and think twice. She will question herself if the thing is worth buying or if it is useful for her. She will also put an amount into her savings twice a week so that she saves enough money for something she likes in the future. Nominated by: Qelicia Felysha Binte Nor Fareed and Sabrina Soh Jie Ying, 1A2
Netra Sri Ram, 2A5	She saves her money every day. She displayed persistence by not spending money unnecessarily. She also displayed Managing Impulsivity by not spending the saved money and waiting until the end of the month. I feel like she did a good job in saving up 30 dollars in 1 month. Nominated by: Saran Barathi, 2A5
Chia How Chien, 3A6	He managed his impulsivity every day and kept himself away from his phone in order to reduce his screentime. He was very strict to himself, and I think some people might find it hard to persist without their phones. His persistence and his resilience kept him on task and helped him achieve his long-wished goal. Nominated by: Keene Tan Hui Yu, 3A6
Ooi Wei Sheng, 4A5	Wei Sheng adopts a positive attitude towards life. During challenging times, he would always look at the positive side of things and manages to liven up the atmosphere. He always tries his best to liven the mood in class. He controls his emotions when he is angry or disappointed. He would extend his enthusiasm for life to his peers and encourage them to think positively too. Nominated by: Geraud Ang Wei Sheng, 4A5
Behara Surya Sankeerth, 4A6	He successfully achieved his goal of doing one paper for each Math topic per week. Even though he struggled to manage his impulsivity and feels the constant yearning to play his favourite mobile phone game, he overcame it by putting his phone outside his room to avoid distractions when studying. This proved to be successful, as he was able to reach his goal. Furthermore, his Mathematics and Additional Mathematics grades improved, as seen by the numerous time trials we have had during class. Nominated by: Alagu Karuppiyah Anbuhealvan, 4A6
Lim Shu Xian Sophia, 4A8	She worked hard to correct her mistakes and strives to do better by learning from her mistakes. She also persisted by not giving up and not getting distracted by phones or games. She also set up a revision schedule for herself and she makes the effort to follow it. Nominated by: Rayanne Loh Yuexuan, 4A8

HOM Disposition: Listening with Understanding and Empathy

Irene Chrysolite Prakash, 1A4	She listens to other people's needs and helps them out. For example, when I am unsure about a Math question, she would listen to my problem and teach me with patience. She is very understanding and does not get mad at others easily. She will take time and teach people around her with patience and make sure they understand the assigned work. Nominated by: Amara Min, 1A4
Hoe Amelia, 1A7	Amelia has always been a diligent student. She often asked questions to clarify her doubts. For example, during our group project, Amelia questioned the explanation, and this helped the team improve the explanation. As Amelia is part of the student council, she finds it hard to juggle her time between duties and studies, but she persisted. She ensures that she finds time to complete her schoolwork after her CCA commitments and council duties. Despite having to manage the different duties on her plate, she still persisted and gave her best in everything she does. As she is one of the peer support leaders in our class, I would always go to her when I am having problems. She always listens with understanding and empathy and provides different perspectives to help me understand the situation better. Nominated by: Lee Zi En Clarissa, 1A7
Nurin Aisyah Binte Aaim, 3A1	Nurin Aisyah participates actively in class, showing her enthusiasm, energy, and interest in learning. She also listens to other's troubles and helps them with their work. When she teaches her classmates and friends, she does not just give them the answers, but ensures that they know how to do the work themselves. Nominated by: Nurul Adilah Binte Muhamad Fadlin, 3A1
Tan Bo Ling Paulin, 4A8	Pauline's goals are: 1) Complete TYS for revision, 2) Spending quality time with family, and 3) Setting aside time for herself while managing her studies. She managed to spend time with family and friends and also went out to exercise. Every Monday, she would ask me about my weekend and listens with empathy and understanding. During recess or in between lessons, she would do her physic TYS. She also asks questions after class when she did not understand the questions. Nominated by: Toh Jia Ru, 4A8
Lau Zi Xuan, 4A8	Zi Xuan listens with understanding and empathy to her peers by checking up on them during class breaks and after school. Whenever she sees a classmate who looks down or troubled, she never fails to approach him or her to ask if they are alright. She is always there to comfort and support them in any way she can. She has always listened to my problems with understanding and her words of comfort have always made me feel better. Nominated by: Eng Xinyu Natalie, 4A8

HOM Disposition: Persisting

Renuka Jeykumar Aditya, 1A4	He planned a timetable and also wrote down what he had completed. I think he has achieved his goal of scoring well in his Science exams as he has practiced a lot and improved on his grades. He showed perseverance, so I think he deserves the award. Nominated by: Sukumar Ashwin, 1A4
Pranav Balaji Sivasankaram, 1A5	Pranav created more study notes and paid attention in class. He also managed his sleep schedule so that he would be fully awake during lessons. In class, Pranav would pay attention to the teachers and clarified with the teachers when in doubt. Pranav would also copy down notes and revise the notes after lessons to ensure that he had covered everything the teachers had gone through in class. Nominated by: Rebeca Tun, 1A5
Zen Tan Choong Boon, 3A2	Zen works hard every day in order to strive towards his goal. He makes full use of his recess or lunch time to study so that he can do well in his WAs. There were many times where he wanted to give up, but he was able to persist and finally managed to do well. Nominated by: Lucas Siow Yu Xuan, 3A2
Harshavarthini Sekar, 3A5	Harsha persisted in trying her best not to procrastinate, and instead finish her work on time. She strived to pay attention in class and answer questions when required. When she had doubts, she would clarify them with her friends or teachers. As a result, she was able to understand the concepts learnt in class and improved her grades. Nominated by: Senthil Kumar Vishvathiha, 3A5
Lim Jia Yi, 3A7	She aims for precision and accuracy in her work and tried again when the answer is inaccurate or wrong and cleared her doubts. She persisted when things got tough, and she managed to overcome challenges she faced. She motivates herself and the people around her. Nominated by: Joevin Upalica d/o Arulandhu, 3A7
Rebecca Lau Shu En, 4A1	Rebecca spends time to revise the subjects that she does not understand. She tries her best and will ask the teachers for help if she did not understand the questions. She takes teachers' advice seriously to improve her understanding. Despite the difficulties she faced in understanding the subjects, Rebecca did not give up. Nominated by: Anastashya Andalusia Binte Johari, 4A1
Alene Danielle Feliciano Cabigting, 4A1	Alene's goal is to change her lifestyle and start eating healthily. I have been observing her and she always has a balanced meal and drinks plain water for recess. She has stopped eating too much junk food and always plans her meals ahead. She never gives up on her goal and she always tries her best to complete what she has started. Nominated by: Saranya d/o Bala murugan, 4A1

Bryan Chua Jun Yang, 4A1	Bryan learned and used what he knew to help with his studies. He manages his time wisely and he never gives up. He knows to allocate time to study and to take breaks in between. He strives to give accurate answers and asks teachers when in doubt. He never gives up on his goal to do well and studies hard so that he can pass with flying colours. Nominated by: Aiken Low Jun Yang, 4A1
Lim Jia Sheng, 4A4	Jia Sheng persisted when studying and should he have any queries or things that he was unsure of in his studies, he would approach his teachers to clarify his doubts. He would then apply what he had been taught to further improve in his subjects. As a result, he did pretty well for Humanities prelim papers and improved in Mathematics. Nominated by: Tan Tng Ee, Mervin, 4A4
Tan Tng Ee, Mervin, 4A4	Mervin persisted to study every day for preliminary examinations and did not give up. He is clear of his goals and has planned out his preferred course to go for in polytechnic (oral health therapy in NYP). As a result of his persistence, he scored well for Mathematics and managed to strive for accuracy academically. Having a keen interest in this area, Mervin will continue to persist and work hard to get into the course of his choice. Nominated by: Lim Jia Sheng, 4A4
Packiaraj Petrick Saron, 4A5	Petrick is one of the most hardworking students I have ever met. Patrick is a role model as he persists in difficult times. Adversity can break a man. However, Petrick overcomes many of the challenges that he faces. Even though he might not be able to overcome certain difficulties, he keeps trying. He is also very caring and thoughtful, and helps people whenever he is able to, despite having similar difficulties himself. Nominated by: Yap Jia En Megan and Tu Khar Jec, Ivan, 4A5
Tan Si Yi, 4A5	Since Sec 3, though Si Yi's efforts may not always bear fruit, she still does not give up and works and studies smart. She is unafraid to ask for help from both teachers and peers, to find out the most effective way to study. She always tries her best to help others as much as possible, giving her peers words of encouragement when they are feeling down, and constantly cheering for the successes of others. No matter how many times Si Yi may fail, I have no doubt she will rise above brighter than ever, spreading her positivity and perseverance to others. Si Yi manages her impulsivity very well and thinks flexibly during lessons. She also finds humour by cracking jokes in class. She is very good at applying past knowledge to new situations as she uses this HOM value during most of the lessons, for example, during Mathematics, Literature, Chemistry and Physics lessons. Nominated by: Gonzales Nadine Maliwat and Jeya Praveena Manimaran, 4A5
Chew Zi Rui Sherlyn, 4A7	She went to the library to revise certain chapters on physical geography. She maxed out her revision study plans, finished many TYS papers and reflected on her mistakes. She also asked many questions during and after classes to clear her doubts.

	Nominated by: Calia Ng Kai Xuan, 4A7

HOM Disposition: Persisting

Teh Rei Qi, 4A8	Rei Qi has been trying her very best to study as much as possible in her free time — finding the best environments for her to study in. For example, she goes to the school library to do work and spends more of her time on revision for the topics that she is weak in. Nominated by: Lim Shu Xian Sophia, 4A8

HOM Disposition: Finding Humor

Tan Le Qi, 1A4	I like that Le Qi would find humour in the projects we do, making us laugh and unwind a little so we won't feel so stressed. When we do projects together, Le Qi would have creative ideas and solutions to solve the problems we faced as a team. Nominated by: Yap En Cun Bernice, 1A4

HOM Disposition: Questioning and Problem Posing

Dalton Ong Zi Yi, 1A5	He started to pay more attention in class and complete all his homework. Regularly answering questions and asking questions to find out more about what he is unclear about. Nominated by: Liew Jie Jun Aidan, 1A5

HOM Disposition: Taking Responsible Risks

Zhuo Yixuan, 2A2	Managed her responsible risks, for example considering whether she should go out with friends during crucial times like exam days when she should be studying instead. She hopes that she will be able to change her studying method and hopefully pass all her exams. Nominated by: Sheler Yap Zi Xuan, 2A2
P G Giri Nevaas, 2A5	He invests in stocks and spends his time looking at the stocks to analyse and make sure he makes the right decision. He has researched a lot in order to make the right decisions and he is now very well educated on the matter of stocks and investments. Nominated by: Chen Yiyun, Genevia and Ian Keng Zhi Hao, 2A5

HOM Disposition: Creating, Imagining, and Innovating

Seo Jin is creative at solving problems with unique solutions. During the lockdown exercise, he saw that the tables were not stably placed. He created a solution to interlock the tables by alternating them, thus preventing the tables from falling on his classmates hiding underneath.

Nominated by: Andre Joaquin Jabina Abril, 4A3

HOM Disposition: Remaining Open to Continuous Learning

Ethan Rafael III Rullan Yanoria, 2A6	Ethan Rafael managed to improve in his studies by Remaining Open to Continuous Learning. He would clarify concepts that he does not understand, asking questions where necessary. He would also pay attention in class despite being distracted by his friends. He tries his best to be as accurate as possible during science experiments. These actions helped him to attain his goal. Nominated by: Zafri Mirza Bin Mohammad Ra'auf, 2A6
LIM JIA HUI (NO. 19), 4A8	She constantly asks her teachers when in doubt and always writes down any new information, even things that are not in the syllabus. She is curious about things that she is not familiar with and would search for information that would enhance her knowledge. She does not just study but also explores other interesting hobbies that allow her to relax during her free time. Nominated by: Kristen Chang Yi Ting, 4A8

HOM Disposition: Applying Past Knowledge to New Situations

Geraud Ang Wei Shen, 4A5	Geraud did not do well in Mathematics when he was in Sec 2. Since then, he has been determined to do well in the subject. He spent his holidays revising and practicing his Math. He became very good in his Math and now in Sec 4, there is evidence that he is able to apply the concepts from his lower sec Math to the new topics in Upper Sec Mathematics and Additional Mathematics. With his enthusiasm and perseverance, he serves as a positive role model to his fellow classmates. Nominated by: Poh Yi Xin Chloe, 4A5
Eng Xinyu Natalie, 4A8	She spent more time studying and managed her time well so as to do well in her studies. She felt more productive and that her time was wisely spent. This improved her mental health and made her feel better and to continue working on herself. She applied past knowledge to new situations and made sure the knowledge is put into new contexts. Nominated by: Lau Zi Xuan, 4A8

HOM Disposition: Striving for Accuracy

Dharuman Bhavani Shivanisri, 4A7	When she could not understand any concept, she tries very hard and even reaches out to her friends for help. She strives for accuracy and precision when answering questions. She asks relevant questions to broaden her understanding. Nominated by: Zhang Leyao Aimee, 4A7
-------------------------------------	--

HOM Disposition: Thinking about your Thinking

Tan Si Qi, 4A8

No matter how tired she was, Si Qi perseveres to finish her work on any given day. She does not give in to the temptation to use electronic devices nor get distracted or procrastinate. She remains determined to complete her assignments. She questions her thought process, her mistakes, and her understanding of the topics. That is why she can understand the concepts instead of simply memorising, and hence she attains proper understanding.

Nominated by: Toh Tze Ern Charlotte, 4A8

HOM Disposition: Thinking Flexibly

Zachariah Loy Yiqi, 4A8

He has achieved good marks in Mathematics and also thinks flexibly to approach difficult Mathematics questions. Additionally, he is also able to help the people around him by giving them tips on how to solve the math questions.

Nominated by: Randale Than, 4A8
