

2017 EMERGENCE Winner: Carla Lane

Initiative: Women Filmmakers

It's official! The EMERGENCE winners for the second half of 2017 have been selected! Congratulations to Carla Lane of HOUSE BEAUTIFUL!

—
Carla Lane Bio: Carla Lane is originally from Montclair, New Jersey. She graduated with a BFA in Film from Pratt Institute. Carla was awarded Walt Disney's Screenwriting Fellowship and went on to participate in the year long writing program.

—
After finishing the writing program, Lane adapted a book into a feature film for Warner Brothers, not yet produced. She just finished shooting her web series "Over The Hill" which she co-wrote with her husband, Marty Fortney.

—
Carla currently resides in Los Angeles with her husband and daughter.

—
HOUSE BEAUTIFUL Synopsis: Single mom, Jenna, is focused on raising her adopted African American daughter, Naya, but seems blind to the very real differences in their hair until she finds the answers in an unconventional hair salon... and the prospect of romance for herself.

—
Stay tuned for inside updates on the making of Carla's short film, HOUSE BEAUTIFUL!