Journal Entries: Vespera

I can't stand that jerk Bronco. How does he get off bullying such a kind person like Vespera? I really wanna talk to her just to make sure she's okay.

Vespera kicked the shit out of Bronco, the dude was bleeding out of places I didn't know someone could bleed out of. Good work, girl.

I haven't had time to check up on Vespera properly recently, I hope I can soon. I wanna take her up on her offer of "hanging out as friends".

It's honorable seeing her treat her abuser with care. Foolish, but honorable.

I got told I may never see her again. I don't know what to think.

I'm sorry we didn't spend enough time together. Please, come back.

I heard her voice and almost immediately broke down crying. She's okay, she's fine, she lived. I knew she would. My battle buddy wouldn't die on me without a hell of a fight.

Journal Entries: Kelgorath

I don't know how he has survived this long... He's so reckless but I respect it so much. Reminds me of my old squad on the outside.

Just got saved by Kelgorath, he took notes on something when my notes got damaged. Love that, will make for a good research document later.

I told him I'd talk to Kyuubi for him in regards to the Icon. I hope his research goes well...

Missed out on the fun Sarkic incursion, his notes came in handy for handling it though. Xi-8 seemed happy with my report.

Journal Entries: Bronco

A sexist cowboy prick shows up on site talking down to me and others. Do not care much for him.

Just watched him get smoked by someone half his size, worth every second.

Why the hell is Druid okay with this guy acting like this? How is he not handling this?

At least Garmr and V stand up to him...

He told Belial to go to a kitchen, how cliché can this motherfucker get?

I feel bad for what he went through, I mean.. Insurgency blowing both legs clean off sucks. He's an asshole, but maybe I'll be a bit nicer for a bit, at least until he's well enough for me to have a fair fight.

Assimilation Recovery: 9866

Assimilation Recovery: 9866

Assimilated individual: Camilla Lyra

Status: Alive

Current Location: Site-66

Current Occupation: Mobile Task Force Epsilon-11 ("Nine-Tailed Fox") Sergeant

Date of Assimilation: 09/19/2025

- BEGIN MISSION REPORT -

At approximately 12:37 PM on Friday, September 19th, 2025, Foundation ████████ detected an abnormal reading in Orange County, California. Local Foundation security forces were scrambled, aMTF Nu-7 ("Hammer Down") was placed on standby as emergency backup.

Upon arriving at the scene, security forces reported seeing:

- A young adult female, comatose, wearing standard Foundation-provided medical clothing.
 - Several instances of scarring and bruising around the lower half of her body
 - The young female was also reported having 5 dog tags issued by the US Space Force around her neck, belonging to:
 - CMSGT Camilla Lyra
 - CPT Jack Reyes
 - LTCOL Gabriel Morris
 - 2LT Bradley Richards
 - SGT Derek Henderson

Searching Foundation records for any of these names leads back to Operation: Silent Night, an operation that never actually took place in our timeline according to available records and documents. Camilla Lyra's name also led to a Medical file of unknown origin.

- A broken picture frame, the photo inside shows 15 people at an assumed party, drinking and snacking.
 - 1 of the people in the photo is Camilla Lyra, the other 14 are unknown. It is assumed that 4 of the pictured individuals own the dog tags found around her neck.
- A small carrying case containing the following items:

- Black Wireless headphones
- A charging cable
- An auxiliary cable (presumably to allow a wired connection).

- Another small carrying case containing the following items:
 - 4 journals, 3 of which have full pages, although contents of these do not match events in the past.
 - Several writing tools, such as pens, markers, and highlighters.

- A vase with roses alongside 2 cards, reading:
 - “Get better soon, Camilla. Your father and I worry about you every day. We love you. - Mom”
 - “When you can walk again, we’ll go anywhere you want to, just us 3. We love you, kid - Dad”

Alongside these cards was a small photo of a family, assumed to be Camilla Lyra and her parents at a younger age.

Once Foundation forces realized that the individual was assimilated from another timeline, she was immediately transported to Site-19 to resume her recovery process. She is to be monitored until she is cleared by Site-19’s medical staff. See Medical Report: Camilla Lyra for more information.

- END MISSION REPORT -

Notes:

[1]As mentioned by the Chairman of unknown origin in Operation: Silent Night’s notes, CMSGT Lyra is to be trained to join Mobile Task Force Epsilon-11 at Site-66 once cleared for service by Site-19’s medical staff. Doctor Abigail Mathers will be taking over her case, as Doctor Allison Hadley seemingly did not get assimilated, or has not yet.

[2]CMSGT Lyra is to be told that she was assimilated upon being cleared for service. It is not necessary information currently and may impede her recovery process.

[3]Under no circumstances are the belongings of CMSGT Lyra to be confiscated from her person. The picture frame is to be replaced with one that is not broken, and the small photo of her family is to be placed in a frame to ensure it does not get damaged.
