

Meet the Instructor

ANNIE KLARK

Annie Klark brings a diverse background as a singer, actor, private and classroom music instructor, and music/theatre director. Annie graduated from the University of Michigan with degrees in Vocal Music Performance and English Literature. Since then she has been a frequent performer throughout the Metro Detroit area, including numerous productions at the Detroit Opera, JET theatre, Friends of the Opera of Michigan, Ford Performing Arts Center, Toledo Opera, Trenton Village Theatre, Downriver Performing Arts Center, and the Marquis Theatre. She has toured nationally and regionally with Detroit Opera, Auditorium Theatre Chicago, Brainstormers!, and the Dodworth Saxhorn Band.

Annie has taught private music lessons for over twenty years and has conducted classes and workshops with the Toledo Opera Education and Outreach Program, Detroit Opera Education and Outreach Program, Wild Swan Theatre, Michigan Music Center, Michigan Academy of Dance, and at various elementary and middle schools throughout the Midwest. She has also worked as the Conductor of the Detroit Opera Youth Chorus Preparatory Choir, and as Summer Day Camp Director at the Marquis Theatre. In 2012, Annie became the Co-Founder and Artistic Director of OpenSpot Theatre, a program that teaches musical theatre to students with disabilities. She has served as Director of Music at Northville First United Methodist Church for the past ten years, and previously served on the music staff at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian.

Annie is excited to join the Renaissance family, and to make music with all of you!
