

Mentorship Programs Now Available for Kelp Producers Interested in Organic Certification

The Northwest Transition to Organic Partnership Program (NW TOPP) connects farmers interested in organic certification with certified organic mentors across the Northwest to help them navigate the transition and certification process.

The NW TOPP mentorship program has many benefits for producers interested in organic certification. Producers who participate in this program find tremendous value in working with their mentors, including receiving technical support, gaining a wealth of information on the organic certification process, and receiving quick responses from mentors when questions arise.

NW TOPP has mentors available in Alaska who are ready to support kelp producers interested in organic certification.

[Learn more about the NW
TOPP Mentorship Program](#)